Lottery Larceny

The Third Squad reports the details of an Arrest of a Glen Cove woman for Grand Larceny that occurred between February 2013 to May 2013.

According to Nassau County detectives, defendant Donna King, 48, of 26 Clement Street, was employed by the Super 7 Mini Mart, 242 Glen Cove Avenue, Glen Head, as a counter person. The defendant from February 2013 through May 2013 took various types of New York State Lottery scratch off tickets worth approximately $64,000 and failed to make payment for them.

D/Sgt. Zeth or the 4rd Squad said in a press release, "After an investigation by detectives, the defendant was arrested at her home on May 28, 2013 at 12:00 am without incident."

Donna King is being charged with Grand Larceny 2nd Degree and will be arraigned on May 28, 2013 at First District Court, 99 Main Street, Hempstead.

Community Mourns Loss of Nicholas Pedone

The community is mourning the loss of Nicholas G. Pedone of Glen Cove, beloved son of Josephine and Nicholas Pedone, who lost his brave battle with cancer on May 26, 2013.

Nicholas was diagnosed with Neuroblastoma in late October of last year. Neuroblastoma is a cancer that can develop in the abdomen, chest, neck and spine and effects children ages 5 and under. There is very little known about why this happens and Neuroblastoma accounts for 8-10% of all childhood cancers. There is no known cure for this terrible disease.

Since his diagnosis the community embraced Nicholas holding fundraisers, 5K Runs, etc., every way they could find to help him and his family in the battle. At Tuesday's City Council meeting Glen Cove Mayor Ralph V. Suozzi joined the community in mourning the loss of Nicholas saying he will not be forgotten by his community. Throughout the city flags were flown at half mass and the mayor said a memorial garden is in the works as well as possibly the dedication of a basketball court in his honor.

Nicholas was know to always have a smile on his face and was considered a warrior in his brave fight.

Nicholas was the cherished grandson of Caterina and Francesco Greco. Loving nephew of Kristina Pedone, Lisa (Kenny) Rant, Teresa (Rocco) Famiglietti and Joe (Delia) Greco. Dear cousin Rocket Scientists Foiled by Fractured Egg!

Seventh grade students from The Green Vale School in Old Brookville were the youngest rocket scientists competing nationally last weekend for the first place prize of $10,000 and a team trip to the Paris Air Show in June. They were the only team from Long Island qualified to compete at the Team America Rocketry Challenge (TARC) held in Virginia, and one of only two teams from the State of New York. Just being there was a huge accomplishment, but their goal was to win that trip to Paris.

The way to win in 2013 was to build a rocket weighing less than 650 grams that could fly exactly 750 feet into the air and back with a 15-inch parachute, within 48, 49 or 50 seconds. Any deviation in height or time adds points to your score. After the first round of competition, the boys' score was 5.92, putting them in third place out of 100 teams. After the second round, for the top 24 rockets, their total score was 8.92 which put them in first place. Their rocket flew as close to a perfect score of zero as any rocket ever flown in the 11-year history of TARC, and the high school team from Texas that landed in first place did so with a score of 29.24.

The hitch for Green Vale's team, captained by Anton de Lesseps, was that their rocket's payload of a single raw egg suffered a hairline fracture during their second flight, disqualifying their second score. "Broken egg; broken hearts," was all that Peter Zaloom, science teacher and rocket club mentor, could say of the results as he explained what happened. "The boys did the most impressive job of building and fine-tuning their rocket so that it would hit the mark and I am so very proud of them now, and I look forward to watching them compete again next year."

This is the third year in a row that the Green Vale School Rocket Club has qualified to compete nationally at TARC. Sponsored by the Aerospace Industries Association, the National Association of Rocketry and more than 24 industry partners, TARC saw record turnout in 2013 with 725 teams from 44 states participating.

The Green Vale School Rocket Club Team had time to spend in Washington, DC the day before TARC Nationals were held in The Plains, VA.

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club Announces 2013 Louis M. Sanford College Scholarship Recipient

Congratulations to Yaqarah Letellier, Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club's 2013 Louis M. Sanford College Scholarship recipient.

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club is pleased to announce that Yaqarah Letellier of Glen Cove is the 2013 Louis M. Sanford College Scholarship recipient.

An AP Scholar and a member of the National Honor Society with several recognitions and achievements, it is without question Yaqarah Letellier is an outstanding student. Her commitment to education, thirst for knowledge and compassion for others made her the ideal candidate to receive this honorable scholarship named for past Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club Executive Director, Louis M. Sanford, who served the community and the Boys & Girls Club for more than 30 years.

Although only 17-years-old, Yaqarah is already a true leader, one whose love of books led her to form a school Book Club but that wasn't enough for this passionate reader. To modernize the experience, Yaqarah applied for a grant to purchase Nooks for the Book Club. She is captain of her Kickline Team who, along with her teammates, teaches young children the basics of dance and has raised money for many organizations including Habitat for Humanity, and to buy basic necessities for the homeless.

As one of 13 children, Yaqarah learned to be responsible and independent at a very young age, making her wise beyond her years. She has a great appreciation for community and is already giving back to Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club, an organization that provided support and guidance through her formative years. Yaqarah joined the Club when she was 12 years old and often participated in the Power Hour homework assistance program. Now a model student herself, she volunteers at the Club helping the younger members with their homework during Power Hour. "Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club has been crucial in building me into the young woman I am today. The Club gave me confidence by giving me the responsibility, purpose through employment, good memories through new relationships and a foundation on how to live my life through my experience here," said Yaqarah. "It also helped me stand up to bullies by giving me the tools to deal with peer pressure," she added.

Yaqarah who will be attending Rutgers University this fall also credits the Club with guiding her through the college application process. "The Club's College Tours were really eye-opening and more beneficial than the college brochures. I learned it's not just about test scores, interviews and locations. There are many other factors and Teen Program Director, Antoinette Edmonston, was always there for me, advising and supporting me."

Antoinette Edmonston, along with the Club's board member and member of the Glen Cove Alumni for Youth Carla Hall D'Ambra, and Frank Mickens and David Hubbard of Glen Cove Alumni for Youth, chaperoned Yaqarah and other teen members to several area college campuses to assist members determine which university was best suited for their goals and needs.

"I think that these college tours are an amazing way to get our youth thinking about their futures. It gives them a feel for the kind of University they may want to attend and what each school has to offer. More importantly, it helps our youth understand that getting a college education is a real option for them and not some far off dream that they can never attain," said Ms. Edmonston.

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club at Lincoln House has been serving the community since 1903 by providing a safe and caring environment that will inspire and enable all young people to realize their full potential as productive and responsible citizens. The Club serves more than 700 youths, ages 6 to 18, in the Glen Cove community with a variety of after school programs in education, sports and recreation, dance, technology and art, all designed to enrich and enhance learning and build self-esteem. To learn more about Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club and how you can help support the Club, its mission and service to the youth of the Glen Cove community, please call Melissa Rhodes, Executive Director at 516-671-8030 or visit www.glen Covebgc.org.

Sea Cliff Beach Cleanup

By Carol Griffin

A very active Sea Cliff Beach Committee, Sea cliff lifeguards and other volunteers arrived at Sea Cliff Beach on May 18 for a beach clean-up in preparation for the beach season. Local businesses including Grassroots, Bernards, Sea Cliff Bagel Cafe and Starbucks provided refreshments for the group. According to Beach Committee chairman Michelle Capobianco a large portion of the beach was cleaned up for the season. Other groups that had volunteered, local scouts and Sea Cliff firefighters were not able to come due to the date change. Nevertheless, the season is off to a good start. Committee is looking forward to the annual Beach Palozza on July 13.

Sea Cliff SpringFest '13

You are invited to attend the first Sea Cliff SpringFest '13, a community event designed to showcase and celebrate the Village's volunteers, businesses, and artists. It will be held on Sunday, June 9 from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., on Sea Cliff Ave., between Roslyn and Main Avenues, weather permitting. Sea Cliff's volunteer civic organizations will have booths, sharing information on what they do and offering everyone the opportunity to join them in their efforts. Sea Cliff businesses will be open. Some will be part of the SpringFest or handing out flyers and business cards. If you are a business interested in participating, contact Ed Lieberman at 516-359-4691 or elieberman@seacliff-ny.gov.

Sea Cliff artists will have their artwork, jewelry, and crafts on view. Proceeds of the booth fee will be donated to Mutual Concerns. For more information, contact the Arts Council at 671-5895 or seacliffartscouncil@gmail.com.

Music for all ages will entertain throughout the day, beginning with Kris Rice and Music Together for children, followed by a drum circle for all to join in at 12:00. The band, dNa, with David Berg and Amy Peters perform at 1 p.m..

The funk band Congress, with Sea Cliff college student Joe Pess, at 2 p.m.. At 3 p.m., Chicken Head and other Barnyard friends keep things going for the rest of the day. At 4:30, everyone will be encouraged to head over the Clifton Park for the Annual Flag Day Concert featuring the Northwinds Symphonic Band, which begins at 5 p.m.

Please make sure to mark your calendars so you don't miss the first of what we hope will become an annual Sea Cliff event.

Join us and spread the word!

City Employee Terminated

EMPLOYEE continued from page 1 ment... was daily overtime index for Long Beach Clean-up for twelve (12) hours of overtime work on November 25, 2012. On said date you were neither present at the Long Beach Clean-up nor did you perform any work in connection therewith.”

A hearing began on March 15, 2013 and continued on March 20 and March 28 before Eric T. Wingate, the Hearing Officer. By Report and Recommendations, inclusive of Finding and Facts, on or about May 24, the hearing officer found the city employee guilty of three of the four charges recommending the case be forwarded to the governing authorities and recommending the employee be dismissed.

Upon the vote Councilman Tony Jimenez said while he agreed with the findings he disagreed with termination, saying other punishment could be imposed such as fine, taking away rank, etc. “But I think termination is too severe.” He voted no. Michael Famiglietti abstained on the vote and the rest of the council voted yes along with the mayor.

How The Elephant Got Its Trunk? Performed at Glen Head School

Congratulations to second graders and their teacher Allison Loring at Glen Head Elementary School for a wonderful performance of "How the Elephant Got Its Trunk" on May 1st. Dressed in adorable animal costumes, the students sang and danced their way into the hearts of all those in attendance in the Glen Head "Gathering Room" including proud families and friends. Bravo!

Board Member Thanks

To The Editor,

On May 21, the constituents of the North Shore School District successfully passed the budget and elected us as trustees to the Board of Education. We thank the community for passing the budget and for electing us. As representatives on the Board, we will endeavor to address the needs and concerns of the community as a whole.

We congratulate all of those who ran and made this a competitive race. This election ignited many meaningful discussions about the issues that affect our community and our schools. We congratulate Sara Jones on her successful election as a trustee to the North Shore Board of Education. We look forward to working together with Sara and with the current members of Board of Education to make meaningful decisions for our schools.

We also thank George Pombar, Anna Sharkey and Carolyn Genovesi for their service to the community and wish them the best of luck in their future endeavors.

We thank all of our supporters and those who worked tirelessly on our campaign and helped us through the electoral process. This was a team effort and we could not have succeeded without the assistance of each of you who helped us. Thank you to those of you who walked the fields with us, arranged speaking engagements, wrote letters in support, sent emails, hosted meets and greets, passed out flyers, posted our signs or simply asked a friend or family member to vote for us. Each vote counted and made a difference. We are grateful and humbled by your support.

Finally, and most importantly, we would like to thank our families who sacrificed for the past six (6) weeks and supported us in our decision to run for and serve on the Board of Education.

Letters to the Editor

We look forward to serving the community and being your trustees.

*Very truly yours,
Michael Nightingale and Marianne Manning Russo*

Thank You To The Editor,

During this past week, we reported our father, Paul Stanco, who is almost 82 years old, had gone missing while on an errand. After over twenty-four hours, Paul was found on Wednesday evening on a back road in Locust Valley; he was immediately sent for treatment where he was deemed dehydrated but healthy to return home, after a short stay in the Hospital. We are happy to say that he is now finding comfort back with his family.

The family of Paul Stanco would like to thank our friends and neighbors for their assistance, love and support during this trying time. We especially want to thank the Glen Cove Police Department for their compassion and efforts that went to locating our father. Through them, the Silver Alert network was utilized which sent our father's information out onto the highway digital signs, out to the media, and out to the rest of Long Island's law enforcement precincts. We would also like to acknowledge the Old Brookville Police Department as well as the Locust Valley EMS who were first on the scene when Paul was found.

We would also like to thank Mayor Suozzi and his staff for their concern and involvement with the search. We cannot express enough, our gratitude to everyone in our community for their prayers and support.

*With love and appreciation,
The Family of Paul Stanco*

Thank you for another terrific Senior Day To The Editor,

Thanks are not sufficient but are certainly necessary to our Mayor, as well as the Senior Day Committee. Your intentions and efforts are unmatched, and your dedication to the community's senior population is admirable. We are all so fortunate to live and work in a city that has such a small town feel and cares so deeply for its residents. Because of this annual event and so many like it, a sense of cohesiveness abounds in Glen Cove creating a truly familial atmosphere.

*Carol Waldman
Director, Glen Cove Senior Center*

Gray Thank You To The Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank The Metropolitan in Glen Cove for their generous hospitality in hosting the recent conference, "Gray Matters," sponsored by the Glen Cove SAGE Foundation and the Glen Cove Senior Center.

Without their support, the conference, which featured six prominent speakers on the subject of brain fitness and participants from throughout Nassau County, would not have been as successful as it was.

We are very fortunate to have such community-minded businesses as The Metropolitan within our community.

*Marilyn Brenner
President, SAGE Foundation
Carol Waldman
Director, Glen Cove Senior Center*

Thank You North Shore

To the Editor:

I want to thank everyone who came out and voted on the 21st to support our schools. We passed another fiscally responsible budget that maintains the quality education on which our community depends.

I also want to thank all of our neighbors for tolerating the signs, flyers, buttons, Facebook posts and ball field conversations of grassroots democracy, and send a special thanks to all who participated in that process.

I am looking forward to serving on North Shore's Board of Education, and meeting and listening to even more of you in the months ahead. We're all aware of the significant challenges facing our district, and now we know how fortunate we are to have so many people interested and engaged in those issues.

*Thank you all,
Sara Jones*

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club and Road Runners Partner for Community Bicycle Drive

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club is partnering with Road Runners Bicycle Shop in Glen Cove to hold its First Annual Community Bicycle Drive and Sale. The Club is currently collecting pre-owned bicycles for a Community Bicycle Sale to take place on Tuesday, June 18 and Wednesday, June 19. The proceeds from the Sale will benefit the Club's Summer Project Learn Program, an enrichment curriculum designed to keep kids engaged in learning throughout the summer with fun, yet educational activities.

Pre-owned bicycles can be dropped off at the Club from 10 am to 5 pm until June 14. For those in the market for a new bike, Road Runners is generously offering a 10% discount off the purchase of a new bicycle in exchange for a pre-owned, gently used youth or adult bicycle in working condition. Road Runner is also offering buyers purchasing a bicycle over $329 a free bike computer valued at $36.99, in addition to the 10% discount.

Bicycles acceptable for the donation or exchange must be in resalable condition. The Club and Road Runners maintain the right to refuse bikes that do not meet donation or exchange criteria.

"We are very happy to be supporting the Boys & Girls Club and all the work they do on behalf of the children of our community, and we look forward to this being the first of many successful cooperative bike drives," said Rick Jones of Bike Runners.

"We are very excited to be working with Road Runners on our First Annual Bicycle Drive. Their generosity in offering a discount to the community on the purchase of a new bicycle in exchange for an older one will certainly help us with bicycle collection. This collaboration is a community effort for the children of Glen Cove and we are thrilled to be working with a family owned and operated business that has been a cornerstone of the Glen Cove area for almost 50 years."

To help support the drive with a purchase of a new bike in exchange for a pre-owned one, contact Road Runners Bicycle Shop (www.roadrunnerbicycles.com) located at 8 Forest Avenue in Glen Cove, NY. To simply donate a pre-owned bike without making a purchase, call Glen Cove Boys & Girls at 516-671-8030 or visit www.glencovebgc.org.

The foreign language Spanish students at ASR have been very busy these last two semesters. The students in the younger grades learned how to count to forty in Spanish, and to use the numbers to solve simple math problems. They learned about colors and shapes and created some riddles using the vocabulary. The students also learned the vocabulary associated with the family and performed several dialogues. Our older students learned how to conjugate several verbs and use them in writing paragraphs. They also went on a virtual shopping spree to Spain and shopped at EL Corte Ingles. Their assignment was to outfit themselves from head to toe and write brief descriptions of their purchases. Also, students learned how to tell time using the 24 hr. clock. The students obtained a transportation schedule from a Hispanic country, and learned the appropriate vocabulary to use when traveling. By Gerri Galvani

Creative Arts Studio of Sea Cliff Announces Young Playwrights Workshop

This summer, the Creative Arts Studio of Sea Cliff will host a four-week playwriting workshop for middle school and high school writers interested in theater.

A creative introduction to the art of playwriting, Young Playwrights Workshop will take place from 4-6pm Mondays and Wednesdays from June 17 through July 10 in the Studio's Black Box Theater. Each week will focus on a different element of the art of playwriting, moving from Characters and Setting into Story and Action. Sessions will include imaginative writing prompts, partner exercises, and special visits from theater artists in the community.

At the end of the workshop, each participant's play-in-progress will be shared at a free public staged reading at the Studio on July 12 at 7pm. Playwrights gain valuable insights for further development when their plays are read aloud, and the community will have this opportunity to celebrate the accomplishments of the young writers.

Sarah Matussek graduates from Bennington College this spring with a concentration in Theater. She has directed three of her devised plays at Bennington College, one of which premiered at the Vermont Arts Exchange. As a performer, Sarah has trained with the Dah Teatar in Serbia as well as the Odin Teatret in Denmark and Brazil. Having taught playwriting workshops through the Dorset Theatre in Southern Vermont, Sarah is looking forward to engaging with young artists at the Creative Arts Studio, where she is also part of a residency.

Now in its 8th year on Sea Cliff Avenue, The Creative Arts Studio is a community-based art studio, performance space and gallery which promotes artistic development, personal growth and community building through shared Arts experiences for all ages.

Glen Cove Rotary To Cook For Campers

The Rotary Club of Glen Cove will host a pancake breakfast on Sunday June 23rd to raise funds to send Glen Cove children to Summer Camp. Club President Louis Falco stated: "We have in our community many youngsters who have never had the exciting and educational experience of a summer recreational and learning program and who will grow both physically and intellectually through this experience."

This benefit breakfast is an exciting way for the community to become involved in supporting our own youth and to have a great informal get together. The Event will be held at the Moose Lodge on Continental Av. starting at 8:30 a.m. and will include pancakes and the usual sides. Tickets will cost $7.50 for adults, $5.00 for ages 4 to 12, and under 4 free.

Dignity Diplomats at Glenwood Landing School are 'Students Teaching Students'

At Glenwood Landing School, a select group of fourth and fifth graders were chosen to be leaders called Dignity Diplomats. This pilot program was adopted by the Glenwood Landing School Student Council and was conceived and created by Dr. Joel Behar, Mr. Giannuzzi, and Ms. Marcantonio in the spring of 2013.

Named after the "Dignity for All Students Act," initiated district-wide in 2012, the Dignity Diplomats are leading their peers and joining together to stop bullying, discrimination, and harassment in our schools. Dr. Joel Behar said, "The Dignity Diplomats are 'students teaching students' whether in the lunch room or during recess to make appropriate decisions. This includes treating others with respect, being aware of the school rules, and being a good role model for younger students." He added, "They are helping to spread the message of peaceful diplomacy in our schools."

All of the Dignity Diplomats were chosen because they contain the following characteristics: wisdom, strength, fairness, and sensitivity. They will be helping to guide the younger student population at Glenwood Landing in an effort to resolve conflicts and reinforce kindness in our schools. Each Dignity Diplomat has been trained for weeks and received an award by Dr. Behar, Mrs. Marcantonio and Mr. Giannuzzi. They have been scheduled to attend lunch periods and recess during the months ahead. In addition, they have been given a "tool box" or resource packet to refer to if necessary when speaking to their peers.

Dr. Behar will begin implementing a similar program at the Sea Cliff Elementary school very soon. There he is working with Mr. Zublionis, the school principal, Mr. Fury and Mrs. Kushel, along with 45 fourth and fifth graders who have already begun the training. Dr. Behar said, "If all proceeds according to plan this year's 4th graders will continue as Dignity Diplomats next year and the program will start up again in the fall." During the 2013-2014, the program will be expanded in both schools, integrating the themes of Peace, Diplomacy, Conflict Resolution, etc. into book discussion groups, field trips and other methods of helping students to learn how to be Diplomats. Please ask your children if they know any Dignity Diplomats and what their important role is at the North Shore Schools.

North Shore INN Hosts Interagency Council

The Glen Cove Interagency Council recently held its monthly meeting at the North Shore INN. Estelle Moore and her staff warmly welcomed IAC members and provided an overview of the programs offered at the INN.

The North Shore INN was established in 1989. It is one of 19 soup kitchens in the Hempstead-based Interfaith Nutrition Network of Long Island. Its goal is to feed the hungry with dignity. The INN, which is operated by volunteers, is open for lunch 3 days (Tuesday, Thursday and Friday) a week and serves 80 to 100 meals each day.

The INN also runs a food pantry and provides extra food to the homeless so they can feed themselves on days when the INN is not open. A social worker comes to the INN once a week to meet with clients and help them with their needs. The INN also assists clients with transportation to medical and DSS appointments, assists with laundry and other emergency expenses. The INN recently received some bikes from a Boy Scout in Sea Cliff who was collecting old bikes and refurbishing them for his Eagle project. The bikes, along with helmets, were given to clients so they could look for jobs.

The INN also provides clothing to clients. In the fall, they collect and distribute gently used and new coats to those in need. The INN also provides Thanksgiving food baskets to their guests and serves Thanksgiving dinner to those who do not have the means to cook their own dinner or those who prefer to celebrate the holiday with their friends at the INN. The INN also distributes approximately 400 gifts to individuals for the December holidays.

While most of the clients are from the Glen Cove area, some travel from out of the area because they like the food and staff. All are welcome and friendships form between guests who look out for each other.

Members of the IAC include community leaders representing a variety of human and social service agencies throughout Glen Cove. It reflects Glen Cove's rich cultural, religious and ethnic diversity and meets regularly to identify and address changing needs in the community. This network has resulted in numerous projects and collaborations that benefit Glen Cove residents on a daily basis.

The Glen Cove Interagency Council recently held its monthly meeting at the North Shore INN. Members learned about the nutrition and other services that the INN offers to North Shore's neediest residents.

Portledge Teams Up with Harvard Graduate School of Education

Portledge School has teamed up with the Harvard Graduate School of Education for a couple of projects. First, the Harvard Principals' Center Advisory Board visits schools each spring. Four innovative schools and principals are selected. During their visit to New York City, the Board visited Portledge School (Locust Valley). Portledge was the only private school chosen. They spent the day touring the school, meeting teachers, and talking to students on Tuesday, May 7.

The Principals' Center at the Harvard Graduate School provides aspiring and experienced school leaders from across the country and around the world with exemplary professional development to meet personal and professional challenges. The Principals' Center has dedicated itself to the support, development, and improvement of school principals and other school leaders who influence the character and quality of a school. The Principals' Advisory Board focuses on important issues in the field and the future directions for the Institute and other programs, and acts as the ambassadors for the Principals' Center and the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Board members unanimously sang the praises of the Portledge School for its Curriculum design, and innovative approaches to 21st Century learning. Board member, Sanna Nasser, called the visit inspirational. Alan D. Cohen, Lower School Head, is a Board Member of the Principals' Center.

Second, Portledge School is also collaborating with the Making Caring Common Initiative at the Harvard Graduate School of Education. As part of a data-driven improvement effort, students at Portledge participated in an anonymous survey designed to help school leaders better understand how students' perceive their school environment. By collecting this important information, Portledge will have the opportunity to brainstorm effective responses and strengthen their ability to support the development of children's ethical and social capacities, including caring, respect and responsibility for others.

Simon Owen-Williams, Portledge Head of School, said "It is a great honor for Portledge to have been selected from among the leading schools in the area to be visited by the team from Harvard and to work with their Making Caring Common Initiative. Their insights into the nature of 21st century education were particularly insightful. Some of our teachers who will be trained at Harvard again this summer now have a meaningful connection with leaders from that community which is always a good thing when developing productive relationships."

GCHS Students STEP Up with 1st Place Award

Congratulations to Glen Cove High School students Lindsey De La Fuente, Maria Pita and Pierina Grispo for winning 1st place in the Social Science category at the 15th annual STEP (Science, Technology Entry Program) conference in Albany.

Lindsey, Maria and Pierina collaborated on a research project titled "The Prevalence of False Memory in High School Students" in which they tested 10 juniors (five boys and five girls) using a list of 15 different words from 10 different categories. Each test subject was read the list of words, with each word read repeatedly, then asked to repeat them a short time later. Their results showed that the boys had better recollection than the girls, which was contrary to their hypothesis. They concluded that additional research was necessary to determine how the female mind works. The girls also noted that false memory/recall can impact testimony in court, educational testing, and medical procedures, justifying the need for further research.

STEP, which is represented by more than 50 colleges and universities from across New York State, provides middle and high school students with practical experience in the scientific, technical, and health related fields and prepares them for the rigors of college and beyond. More than 400 students and 125 program directors/advisors regularly attend this conference annually.

Lindsey, Maria Pita and Pierina are

Friends Academy Girls Varsity Basketball LI Champs

Lady Quakers edge out Stony Brook in Long Island Class C Championship

After four quarters of nail-biting action and back-and-forth baskets, the Friends Academy Varsity Girls Basketball team ultimately prevailed against Stony Brook in the March 6th Class C Long Island Championship, 29-25 at Hofstra University.

Bringing home the Long Island title represented the furthest the girls basketball program has come. "This is the first Long Island Championship in the history of the program," said head coach Ryan Schneider.

The Lady Quakers finished their regular season on Feb 11th. After starting the season off 1-2 in conference, 2013 proved to be their year as they finished 8-3 in the new year and 4th place overall. This date also marked a celebration of five seniors in their last home game, in which they beat #1 Cold Spring Harbor, snapping their quest for a second consecutive undefeated season.

While the girls finished their season in dramatic fashion by beating #2 ranked Carle Place the previous week, they lost a close one to Cold Spring Harbor in the Small Schools Championship game. Advancing to Regionals at Adelphi University, the Quakers ultimately fell to Alexander Hamilton HS. "The girls made tremendous improvements throughout the season," remarked Schneider. "Their fast-paced offense, combined with scrappy and relentless defense have made all the difference," he added.

Four players received awards, including Lindsay O'Sullivan (Old Brookville) - All County, Kristina Kim (Huntington Bay) and Rose Mangiarotti (Locust Valley) - All Class, and Marissa Tidona (North Bellmore) - All Conference. Head

Glen Cove Junior Baseball/Softball

MIDGET BOYS

The Bulls played two games this past week. In the first game, the Bulls made a gallant effort in a tight 12-11 loss at the hands of the Lugnuts. Luciano Taysaysay was 3-for-3, homered twice for five rbi. Rodni Leftwich was also 3-for-3 with a round-tripper and four rbi. Ian Cukro was 2-for-3 with a run scored and a rbi.

Colby Burns made a great defensive catch and Gavin Conway played a stellar left field. In the second game, the Bees defeated the Bulls, 10-8, as Cukro was 3-for-3 with two rbi. Vincent Milano was 3-for-3 with two rbi as Luigi Colella was 1-for-3 with a run scored for the Bulls.

GLEN COVE JUNIOR LACROSSE CLUB

Week 7 Round Up

By Brian 'Condo' Neice

On rainy Sunday, May 19th, the Glen Cove 3rd and 4th graders took to the Connolly School field against a tough Mineola team. The numbers were there for Glen Cove unfortunately, the goals were not. The 'Wee Knights' team showed flashes of brilliance throughout the game, but had trouble putting it all together. Lukasz Dubicki jumped in goal to start the game and made several nice saves. Unfortunately, Mineola was too skilled at throwing and catching for the Glen Cove defense to keep up. Victor Scarmato, Dominic Williams, Nicholas Kodis, Mike Mattern and Nicholas Caparella gave it their all in the game. Our offense was generated by midfielders Ryan Houghton, Andrew Epifania, Charlie Benazzi, Ciaran Greene, Jayden Thom and Will Feldmann. On attack Jacob Bruce, Jacen Braja, Christian Maiorana, Joseph Thom and Micah Stone kept busy chasing ground balls, backing up shots on goal and trying their best.

The 5th and 6th grade 'Mid Knights' took on Hempstead at rain soaked Condo Stadium and battled the elements as well as a bigger and tougher opponent as they suffered a 5 - 2 loss. It was a back and forth high energy battle with the team in better physical shape and condition taking the contest. Providing the offense for Glen Cove was Christian Klimasewski scoring on a break away pass from defenseman Jack Coyle. Sal Guastella added the other goal on a nice dodge from his midfield position. Once again the goalie platoon of Patrick Fallon and Felipe Delafuente played their best but it was not enough to hold off Hempstead.

The final home game of the 2013 season will be played this Sunday at 10:30am at the Connolly School field. The 5th and 6th grade 'Mid Knights' take on local rivals Jericho. Come on down to root on your local lax stars!

The ABCs of 3s and 4s

Masterpiece galleries, touch-sensitive learning and timeless Quaker values provide a one-of-a-kind learning experience at the Friends Early Childhood Center

LOCUST VALLEY — Imagine a place where 3-, 4- and 5-year-olds dabble in the styles of master painters, greet each other easily in Spanish and practice math and science with a swipe of their finger. Add in some family-style baking, hands-on community service and peer mentoring and you have the foundations of the Early Childhood Center at Friends Academy in Locust Valley.

Nestled inside the cozy white Farmhouse-style Withington House, Director Kristin Minuto, with a team of three other teachers, oversees the program. In her second year as Director, Minuto was a Kindergarten teacher for 10 years, as well as teaching early childhood-aged students since 1997.

“Our program is a multi-age program,” said Minuto. “While the Play Group and Pre-Kindergarten classes form two distinctive groups, mixing the ages for various activities and lessons has shown outstanding developmental benefits.”

This eclectic environment, which Minuto has helped develop, incorporates many of the theories and modalities of early childhood education masters such as Reggio Emilio and Maria Montessori. Mixed ages promote a space and curriculum where younger children learn from their older peers and the older children become peer mentors to the younger children. “The children learn through play, with many opportunities for artistic and musical expression,” explained Minuto. “They also receive Spanish instruction four days per week, physical education three times per week, as well as weekly library, art and music classes.”

One of the signature aspects of Minuto’s program is The Little Masters in-class art program, where the children study nine master painters, one each month. “Currently the children are learning about Marc Chagall and Leonardo da Vinci. They learn about the artist, their style of artwork and then recreate their own piece,” said Minuto.

Minuto continues a sense of wonderment about the arts during rest time, where she has introduced classical music. “It brings a sense of peace, but also keeps their minds engaged. The children start to learn to pick out different instruments.”

Within classroom activities, a variety of touch-sensitive interactive components enrich the curriculum for FA’s littlest learners. From iPads to an interactive SMART board and a HATCH learning system, children can study German, French and South African culture as well as practicing math and science. “It’s an intricate program, but presented in a basic way for the children,” said Minuto.

A unique facility, the Friends Academy Early Childhood Center features a sprawling fenced-in front yard, perfect for outdoor painting and planting bulbs, to character education that is taught at Friends Academy, which begins in the Early Childhood Program.

“The children are encouraged to spread kindness to others throughout the school day and to participate in community service projects,” said Minuto.

According to Minuto, at Friends, the main goal is to teach the whole child. “Academics are an important part, but helping children develop into confident and caring individuals is what we strive to do,” remarked Minuto. “By combining an exemplary academic setting with loving, nurturing guidance, we are able to do just that. And through small group instruction and careful curriculum design we are able to cater to the developmental needs of each individual child,” she added.

A warm, caring community of teachers and learners and a dedicated staff, Friends Academy provides the platform for students to form a lifelong love of learning.

and a brand new state-of-the-art playground specifically designed for ages 2 to 5. Inside the Withington House, one room is entirely dedicated to imaginative block play, while another room features a fully functioning kitchen. The end of each week closes with Family Baking Fridays, where children and family members enjoy the hands-on science and community of baking up tasty treats.

Portledge Eighth Grader Skater Selected to Participate in National Training Camp

Portledge School (Locust Valley) is well known for producing excellent ice hockey players, many of whom go on to distinguished college careers. Most of the time, however, they are boys. Things do change though as female athletics continues to shine at the small prep school. Recently, eighth grader Georgia Keogh, who has already played two seasons for the Portledge Varsity Girls Ice Hockey team, was the only player from Long Island in her age group (U14) selected to attend the USA Hockey National Training Festival this summer. At the National Festival, players are evaluated against the top competition from around the nation, and can eventually be chosen to represent the United States in international competition.

Georgia, who next year will play for a Tier I travel organization from New Jersey as well as for the Portledge team, is a mobile defenseman who excels at carrying the puck up ice. She is also a steady and reliable defender who uses her excellent skating technique to consistently thwart opposing offenses. Her Portledge coach, Director of Athletics Phil Hills, said “Georgia deserves all the accolades she gets because she works so hard and is such a great person. She is one of the most coachable athletes I have ever worked with, and even though she has been the youngest player on the team over the last two years, the older girls have completely treated her as one of their own”. Georgia and her Portledge teammates are looking forward to next winter when they will be returning the entire team after a successful 12-7 season this past year. The Portledge Varsity Girls Ice Hockey schedule includes many notable prep opponents, such as Canterbury, Lawrenceville, Hill, Morris-town Beard, Princeton Day, Rye Country Day, Albany Academy and others.

Last Week’s Celebrity

Last week’s celebrity was Richard Jaekel. One of his shortest film roles was in “The Gunfighter” in which his character is killed by Gregory Peck’s character in the opening scene. He also played the role of “Turk”, the roomer’s boyfriend in the Academy Award winning 1952 film “Come Back, Little Sheba” with Shirley Booth, Burt Lancaster and Terry Moore. Other films to his credit include “Wing and a Prayer” (1944) with Don Ameche, “Flaming Star” (1960) with Elvis Presley, “Attack” (1956), “3:10 to Yuma” (1957) and maybe his most memorable film playing the second-in-command to Lee Marvin’s character in “The Dirty Dozen”.

He also guest starred on many TV programs. He was a boxer on a 1954 episode of Reed Hadley’s CBS legal drama, “The Public Defender”. Also in 1954, he portrayed “Billy the Kid” in an episode of the syndicated western anthology series, “Stories of the Century”, with Jim Davis (“Jock Ewing” on the ‘80’s “Dallas”) as the fictitious Southwest Railroad detective, “Matt Clark”. Other TV shows he appeared on were “Perry Mason”, “The Dakotas”, “The Oregon Trail”, “The Rebel”, “Baywatch”, and “Spencer for Hire”. One of his most favorite pastimes was attending golf events featuring his golf pro son, Barry. On June 14, 1997, he passed away at the age of seventy after a three year battle with melanoma.

Correct Callers

Callers who knew our celebrity last week were: Roberta Pezza, Will and Babs Hutchins, Mario Moccia, Ted March and Sandy Shane.

This week’s celebrity was an American comedienne, actress, singer and radio personality. She appeared on Broadway and in films. She hosted her own network program, a popular series broadcast from 1943 to 1955. She was born in Starke, Florida. She joined her sister, Annie, and her brother, Zeke, and they performed as “The Three Georgia Crackers” in theaters from Florida all the way to a Manhattan Club called The Village Barn. She sang yodeled and played guitar and she was typed-cast as a wide-eyed likable country bumpkin, often barefoot, and wearing her hair in pigtailed/braids, sometimes topped with a straw hat.

Sometimes she was introduced as “The Ozark Nightingale”, although she had no connection to the region. When bandleader Rudy Vallee offered her a guest spot on his radio show in 1931, “The Fleischman Hour”, the door opened to a career that spanned more than five decades. The popularity of the three led to numerous performances on radio in the 1930’s, and they made their Broadway theater debut in the revue, “Calling All Stars”. An offer from Warner Bros. led several bit parts before she signed with Republic Pictures. She recorded from RCA Victor label and appeared in more than two dozen Hollywood films, including “Scatterbrain” (1940), “Joan

What Memorial Day Means To Me

Students from Sea Cliff Elementary School were asked to write essays titled, “What Memorial Day Mean’s To Me.” Below are the winning essays. Jackson and Kylie were honored in the parade and presented the essays at the memorial program in Clifton Park.

by Kylie Kenny

For most people, Memorial Day marks the start of summer with family barbecues and a three day weekend. We rightfully enjoy these festivities, but I would like to acknowledge the true meaning of Memorial Day.

The soldiers that net to war for our country made the ultimate sacrifice. These brave and selfless men and women gave their lives for our security. Without the hard work and sacrifice of such committed patriots, we Americans would not be able to enjoy the freedoms and lifestyles we cherish.

For every soldier who dies in combat there are many loved ones left behind who must preserve through such tremendous loss. Creating monuments is one way people remember the fallen. In this regard, Memorial Day reminds me of the importance of some of Sea Cliff’s beautiful parks. Memorial Part is my favorite for its beauty and serenity.

Our responsibility is to ensure that these deceased men and women can rest in peace knowing that the values they died for are preserved. As Americans we are responsible for upholding the ideals of peace and freedom in our nation and often times around the globe where tyranny and brutality threaten the sheer existence of decent human pursuits. Tragically, for these purposes, more of our selfless and honorable soldiers will be on the rolls of those whose lives we will honor on future Memorial Days.

As a child, I have difficulty understanding wars and dying for a cause. However, I do understand things I love. I love my family, sports, school, nature and my friends. I am able to experience all of this with gratitude to those amazing people willing to make the ultimate sacrifice to defend lives line mine.

by Jackson Best

Memorial Day to me means honoring the soldiers who died in all wars in U.S. history. These soldiers went into war to defend our county, and I believe, that whether they are listening or not we should devote some of our time to honor them.

Memorial Day originated after the Civil War. They later extended the holiday to honor all of the soldiers who died in the U.S. wars.

I love across the street from Clifton Park and I ache seen the big rock many times. When was a kid, a younger one mind you, I thought it had some boring poem or story about America on it. But one day I read what was on the rock and found out that those long paragraphs were actually names of people who died. I have to admit I was shocked and and that was the day that made me actually say the Pledge on Clifton Park.

In conclusion, I have known some people, no a lot of people, including my relatives, who went to serve our country, and I want a huge rock to engrave their names in and to sing the Star Spangled Banner. That is what Memorial Day means to me.

Since writing this essay, I have found that the names with the starts next to them are the soldiers who died. These are the people that this day is all about.

City of Glen Cove Begins Fire Hydrant Maintenance

Mayor Ralph Suozzi announced today that fire hydrant flushing will get underway beginning June 1 and ending in early December. "In our continuing efforts to deliver the highest quality water possible to our residents and to provide optimal fire-fighting services, the Water Department is continuing our city-wide hydrant maintenance program." Each year, one third of the hydrants throughout the City are serviced, as are all hydrants situated on dead-end mains.

For residents' convenience, hydrant maintenance is done on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays only, between the hours of 9am and 3pm. The neighborhoods that will be serviced this year are Sea Cliff Avenue area, Thompson Park area, and the Shore Road area.

All hydrants will be systematically opened, inspected and serviced. Hydrant flushing is necessary to assure that water quality is maintained at the highest level and that fire protection can be depended upon in an emergency. This methodology of hydrant maintenance removes sediment and refreshes the entire distribution system. Each hydrant should not take more than an hour to service, although some hydrants may take longer than others based upon the type of hydrant.

During this process, residents may detect some water pressure fluctuation and discoloration. This discoloration poses no health risk, but customers may choose to keep a supply of clear water in the refrigerator for drinking and cooking during this time. You may also prefer not to do laundry on hydrant maintenance days. If you find discoloration of your water after the serviceman has left your street, this situation can be cleared by running all faucets in your home for 10 minutes.

More information about the City's hydrant flushing program is available online or call the Water Department at 676-2238.

Brain Health – It's a Hot Topic!

By Laurie Huenteo

The Glen Cove Senior Center capped off its very successful year long series of classes, workshops, lectures, and brain boosting events offered through the Campaign Against Dementia and managed by our SAGE Foundation, with a Brain Health Conference entitled, "Gray Matters", on Wednesday May 15 at the Metropolitan. The event featured a powerhouse line-up of speakers addressing topics such as: Cognition and the Aging Brain, Brain Healthy Nutrition, The Link Between Alzheimer's Disease and Sleep Apnea, Memory Enhancement, Understanding the Aging Brain, and Compassionate Caregiving. Experts in the field of brain function and health traveled from as far away as California, and each talk was fascinating! The audience was intrigued and educated about the world of the brain and the fundamentals of brain health. Each speaker emphasized the value of healthy eating,

At the said time and place, all interested persons may be heard with respect to the foregoing matters. All relevant documents may be inspected at the office of the Village Clerk, Village Hall, 300 Sea Cliff Avenue, Sea Cliff, New York, during regular business hours.

Any person having a disability which would inhibit attendance at, or participation in, the hearing should notify the Village Clerk at least three business days prior to the hearing, so that reasonable efforts may be made to facilitate such attendance and participation.

rest, socialization, and most importantly, cardio-vascular activity.

There is still so much to learn about the workings of the brain and the diseases that affect it, but it is clear that just as we must work out our bodies, we should be working out our brains with stimulating activities and programs to not only quell but also possibly reverse the effects of dementia. There is solid evidence that now indicates that we do in fact regenerate brain cells, so the old adage applies: "Use it or lose it!"

The Campaign Against Dementia has been made possible through a very generous grant provided by the Unitarian Universalist Congregation at Shelter Rock.

Many thanks to the Metropolitan for the generous donation of space, time, and breakfast. You are a wonderful neighbor with a true community spirit.

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
 What a lovely weekend in Sea Cliff! The early rain only made Monday even more beautiful with its sweet parade and ceremonies at Clifton Park. I especially loved the essays Kylie Kenny and Jackson Best presented to us, and Kirtland Watkins, the pastor at the Methodist Church, gave a beautifully thought-provoking invocation. While at the Children's Library before the parade began, I was talking to my friend Allison Ryan who- with her family- was helping put out the food and treats we all enjoyed so much. We were discussing vacation plans when a passerby mentioned a new, very controversial book on tourism. Do you know anything about this book? I would love to read it.

Intrigued by Travel

Dear Intrigued by Travel,
 I just finished it: OVERBOOKED by NPR correspondent Nancy Becker, and I really learned a lot about the business and culture of tourism. Becker gives the reader a history of travel starting around 1960 when vaccines, fast air travel, and a paid two week vacation became the norm, and Arthur Frommer had just come out with his "Europe on Five Dollars a Day" approach to tourism. From 25 million trips to foreign countries that year, the number jumped to 1 billion in 2012. The impact this has had on the environment, the economy, and the psyche is closely analyzed with special attention paid to the gargantuan cruise ships that enter ports each day and the havoc they wreak. From Venice to Dubai to Martha's Vineyard to Costa Rica, the author takes us on an amazing journey, offering us fascinating insights all along the way. This is a troubling book for anyone who travels and apparently there are 1 billion or so of us out there.

Scouting for Food a Huge Success

Food Collected for Needy Families in the Glen Cove Vicinity

On March 9, 2013, Scouts across the country participated in Scouting for Food. This annual event is a way for local scouts to give back to their communities by collecting food for the needy. Glen Cove Troop 6 participated in Scouting for Food by holding a food drive at Stop and Shop and donating what they collected to The INN, St. Patrick Outreach Food Pantry and the Glen Cove After 3 Food Pantry. Armed with lists of items needed by the pantries, the Scouts gave the lists to Saturday morning shoppers as they entered Stop and Shop. Other scouts gratefully collected the donations as the shoppers came out of the store. By the end of the morning, the Scouts had collected many box loads of food, as well as monetary donations. All of these donations will be used to feed the needy in the Glen Cove vicinity. The drive would not have been possible without the support of Stop and Shop who graciously allowed the Scouts to set up operation outside the store and the many generous shoppers who willingly added some extra items to their shopping baskets. Thank you.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE.
