Glen Cove Junior Lacrosse Round-Up

The Glen Cove Two Knights continued their lacrosse season by travelling to play a tough Port Washington Blue team on Sunday. This would be the last official game of the PAL program and the Knights were hungry to show the skills that they've developed over the six game season. Throughout the season, the Knights have focused on picking up ground balls and running to open areas to control the ball. After going down a goal early, the Knights began to swarm. Mark Larocca and Ryan Heenan showed what they've learned this year by aggressively picking up ground balls in traffic and controlling the ball on offense. The possession advantage allowed the Knights to go blow for blow with the talented team from Port. Jonathan Patino displayed tough defense at the midfield keeping Port in check. A highlight of the season came in the second quarter when Lucas Mattern found Rocco Rainone in front of the goal for a goal that tied the score at 3. Glen Cove would come close to more assisted goals throughout the half with Alex Benazzi also displaying his ability to spot open teammates. Port was able to squeeze out a few goals at the end of the first half to take a 6-3 lead into half-time. The Glen Cove team wouldn't go away in the second half showing a tenacity that's existed all year. While several saves by new goalie Matteo Cameron kept the Knights in the game, Knight Midfielders Chris Gielbeda, Matthew Basil and Nick Ladeairous showed their athleticism by winning ground ball wars that lead to multiple goals by Gielbeda and Basil. Travis Shea and CJ Brown continued their scrappy play at Attack while AJ Hudson and Leo Rainone fortified the Defense in the second half. Basil earned his second goal of the game while absorbing a tough hit from the Port defense. This play inspired the Glen Cove team, which would allow no more goals the rest of the way and while making it close, the Knights lost 11-8. This team ends the season with a confidence that they can now play with any team. After starting the season in a game with no goals, they increased their scoring each game culminating in their last game with 8. This team's success can't be defined with wins and losses but how competitive they became throughout the season. Glen Cove coaches are proud of this team's accomplishments and believe that the future of Glen Cove lacrosse is bright given the group's success.

The 5th and 6th graders finished their regular season against a talented Jericho team lost another tough one due to penalties and a few costly mistakes. The 7-4 loss could easily have been a one goal game for either team. Goals were provided by Sal Guastella as he slashed through the Jericho defense for a goal and then continued to slash his way to the penalty box. Dylan Anucik provided some high heat off a sweet feed from Seamus Fallon and Syzmon Frye and Bobby Kiaer contributed a goal each in a gritty 4th quarter rally that fell short. Defensively the Knights were a step behind Jericho's offense as they demonstrated the basics of throwing, catching and moving the ball. Goaltender Felipe Delafuente faced 15 shots as he shut down Jericho in the 4th quarter.

The 7th and 8th graders played their best game of the season as they steamrolled Franklin Square 8-0. Everyone seemed to get into the action offensively with numerous Knights scoring. Brendan Whitehead, Davey Moore, Joey Grella, Russell Perciballi, Lucas Salerno and Jared Buehre were the offensive sparks. Kevin Heenan made his debut in goal and recorded 3 saves to preserve the shutout. It was only a matter of time for this group of talented individuals to start playing as a team and when they do, look out!

Friends Academy Boys Lacrosse wins Nassau County Championship

County title is a first for Quakers and their program

With fans wildly cheering from the sidelines, the Friends Academy Boys Varsity Lacrosse team kept rival Cold Spring Harbor at bay before ultimately beating them 9-4 to capture their first ever Class C Nassau County Championship.

Coach Brian Crocco credits the team's offensive balance with their success in the championship game and throughout the 14-2 season. "What we have found all season is that while we do have a few serious impact players who contribute quite a bit to our offensive success, what has been most remarkable is that we have shared the scoring well, especially in big games. During the championship game, we had seven different goal scorers contribute for the win - two seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores. We have six guys with at least 20 points each this season, so in crucial situations we have found that any number of guys can make a play."

Friends and Cold Spring Harbor played a tight game until the fourth quarter, with the Quakers leading 3-2 at the half and 5-4 at the end of the third. "In the third quarter we made some key defensive stops and in the fourth scored a few important goals to lengthen the lead," said Coach Crocco. "Scoring two goals in the last moments of the 2nd and 3rd quarters was key for building momentum," he added. Senior Chretien Teitelbaum's (Upper Brookville) performance the whole game in goal helped Friends win the battle, especially in an 8-save third quarter. Junior Will Sands (Locust Valley) finished the game with three goals and four assists and his feeds to senior Liam Kearney (Bayville) and sophomore Pierce DellaFera (Lattingtown) at the end of the third quarter put the Quakers in a great position to win the fourth quarter - and the game.

The strong defense by Quaker midfielders limited Cold Spring Harbor's ability to score as seniors Kyle Dineen (East Meadow), Will O'Kane (Lattingtown), Garrett Doran (Locust Valley) and juniors Brandon Yaraghi (Mill Neck) and Jon Nierenberg (Sands Point) played hard on Friends' defensive half of the field. The team of close defensemen - senior Peter Picoli (Locust Valley), junior Austin Rossi (Oyster Bay) and junior Nick Chapman (Oyster Bay) - were asked to handle their individual matchups with little help, and performed admirably. "We have been graced with a terrific senior class, and their play and leadership has set a high standard for Friends' future lacrosse teams," said Crocco. "This is a championship for them, and for all the alumni that have helped make this program what it is today."

Friends will face Shoreham-Wading River in the Long Island Championship game at Hofstra Stadium on Saturday, June 1st at 4:30 p.m.

Enrolling 779 students from age 3 through Grade 12, Friends Academy is guided by its Quaker heritage and the principles of integrity, simplicity, patience, moderation and a peaceful resolution of conflict. The school is located on 65 acres at the intersection of Piping Rock and Duck Pond roads in Locust Valley/Glen Cove. The Bulls won their second game of the season with a 14-7 effort against the Lugnuts. Ryan Annuziati was 3-for-3 with two homers and five rbi. Matt Babal was also 3-for-3 with two rbi. Gavin Conway was 2-for-3 for the Bulls...The Hot Rods outlasted the Bees, 13-8, with the two teams combining for 35 hits, including seven extra-base hits.

INTERMEDIATE BOYS

The Dodgers won a 13-3 game versus the Mets. The big hitters for the Dodgers were Joe Congero (4-for-4, two singles, a homer, triple and six rbi) and Mike Suozzi (3-for-4, a double and three rbi). Congero also starred on the mound allowing one hit in three innings pitched, Owen O Reagen delivered two hits and closed out the game for the Dodgers. Max Lasser gave great hustle on the base paths.

MIDGET GIRLS

The Bats produced 34 hits and 15 runs but it wasn't enough in a 18-15 loss to the MuckDogs. The Muckdogs' hitters combined for 31 hits, 15 rbi and 17 runs scored. The Bats then came back and defeated the Muckdogs, 17-9, in a high-scoring affair. The two teams combined for 55 hits in the game. The Bats had 32 hits, scoring five runs in the fourth, on a rbi single by Ashley Gonzalez.

Portledge Varsity Baseball Wins League Championship

Locust Valley – This spring, in anticipation of fielding their strongest Varsity Baseball squad since the program began eight years ago, Portledge decided to change leagues from IPPSAL to the PSAA/ACIS Alliance in hopes of finding stronger and more consistent competition. As a newcomer to the Alliance League, which consists of independent school teams from all over the metropolitan area, the Panthers were placed in the 10 team 2nd Division. Well it didn't take long for Portledge to demonstrate the rapidly developing quality of their baseball program as the Panthers hammered their way to a regular season mark of 9 wins and 1 loss. Moving on to the league playoffs, Portledge quickly dispatched their quarter and semi-final foes before heading to the championship game against Bay Ridge Prep on May 21st at MCU Park in Brooklyn, NY.

Portledge's exceptional trio of sophomores, pitcher Matt Butler '15 (Oyster Bay), league leading slugger Zach Kleinwaks '15 (Glen Cove), and speedy centerfielder Bradley Stewart '15 (Elmont) were too much for the boys from Brooklyn as the Panthers cruised to 5-1 victory powered by a triple with 2 RBIs from Kleinwaks, and a masterful complete game 3 hitter from Butler. Also key to the team's success was the fine all around play of sophomore shortstop Tim Barbaro '15 (Garden City) and the combination of catching and pitching provided by 8th grader Anthony Porrino '17 (Locust Valley).

The young Panther talent stacks up well when compared to other independent school play across New York State as, according to MaxPreps Statistical Service, Kleinwaks' .767 batting average is tops among all independent school players, while Butler's miniscule E.R.A tops all independent school hurlers. Next year Portledge will move up to the Alliance's 1st Division to face such perennial secondary school baseball powers as Berkeley Carroll of Brooklyn and Staten Island Academy.

Portledge Alum Helps Win National Championship and Earns All NESCAC Honors

When Alex Schidlovsky '12 (Sea Cliff) graduated from Portledge School (Locust Valley) last spring, he had no idea how incredible his freshman year at Williams College would be. Not only did Schidlovsky make the Varsity Men's Tennis team, he went on to form an amazing partnership with returning All NESCAC (New England Small College Athletic Conference) player Alex Meyer as the Ephs top doubles team. Schidlovsky completed his freshman season by compiling a doubles record of 19-7, which was good enough to earn him a spot on the All NESCAC First Team. His play also helped Williams College win the NCAA Division III National Championship.

Friends Academy Boys/Girls Track bring home championships

Both teams clinch division top honors

The Friends Academy Boys and Girls Varsity Track team competed to championship levels at both their Division IV B Championship meets, clinching the title at both meets and scoring more points than competitor teams from Locust Valley, Cold Spring Harbor, Malverne, Wheatley, Oyster Bay, Carle Place and East Rockaway. The girls team scored 136 points, while the boys team scored 107.

According to coach Louisa Garry, this was the first team championship the girls team has won since 2002; the boys track team had not won since 1974.

The boys won five individual events (1600, 800, 200, shot put, and discus) as well as the 4 x 800 m. relay. The girls also won 6 individual events (1500, 800, 200, 400, 3000, and high jump), as well as the 4 x 800 m. relay and 4 x 100m. relay.

Piper Gets A New Home

Mariah Leal has been a Glen Cove resident for 19 years. She has worked in the animal field in many venues, especially with dogs all her life. She has always tried to educate her clients whether it was in the vet clinic, her grooming business or training dogs. She is now announcing the release of her first book "Piper Gets a New Home", first in the series "The Adventures of Piper". Mariah researched that of the 4.7 million dog bites per year in the U.S. half of them involve children. Also, 90 percent of the dogs relinquished to shelters have had no training. Both of these astounding figures are due to a lack of education of both parents and children. Mariah wants to educate children through her books and hopefully help to start lowering these statistics. But what made Mariah begin a writing career when she loved her hands on work with dogs? Here is what Mariah had to say.

In 2002 I was a passenger in a head-on collision that left me with many injuries, some being permanent. I was left devastated knowing that I would no longer be able to do the work I loved. I persevered trying to see what would improve and what injuries I would have to learn to live with. But the doctors told me I could no longer work. I lost my Great Dane which added more devastation to my losses. Then I got a Bull Mastiff puppy, I named her Piper and I started recording her activities, progress and growth in learning and maturing. I always had a passion for writing; in fact, I had been working on a book of poetry and prose about my healing journey from a childhood trauma. But I had put that aside after the accident. However, I needed to do something despite my disabilities, which could keep me active with dogs.

One day I was reviewing my notes on Piper and I realized I could combine my two passions and still help people with their dogs. Between Pipers antics and watching her learning processes I decided to write a series of children's books through Pipers eyes. These became not just delightful stories, but stories that are written to teach children the importance of training and socializing a puppy. Many lessons that Piper learns are correlated to the lessons children learn in their own lives. Learning about good manners and bullying are just two examples of the many lessons Piper learns.

Piper and I hope to educate children in terms they can relate to. We want them to know the joy and rewards that come from bringing up a puppy properly and therefore helping reduce the number of dog bites and dogs relinquished to shelters. I look forward to meeting families in Glen Cove and surrounding areas at book signings and talks at area Libraries, etc.

Letters to the Editor

Backyard Stink

To The Editor,

Earlier this spring I noticed a small posting in the newspaper about a field trip taken by North Shore High School students for an educational tour of the Great Neck Water Pollution Control District. One would wonder why the class would have to travel to Great Neck when Glen Cove has such a facility.

Could it be that a field trip to Glen Cove would have necessitated the students be provided with gas masks before exiting the bus in the parking lot due to the overwhelming stench emanating from this facility? No need for a box lunch for this field trip, the little white bags they provide on airplanes would suffice.

It's no joke, anyone who has been to the Glen Cove ball fields knows about the noxious odors that plague that area, some days worse than others depending on the prevailing winds. (By the way it is not coming from the Animal Shelter)

If health experts advise us to cover and protect our toothbrushes in our own bathrooms, it begs the question then why should anyone in those ball fields, or in the surrounding areas be exposed to airborne bacteria from the plant, and why has nothing been done about it for years?

Great Neck apparently has a state of the art wastewater treatment plant and they are proud to show the public how their facility is managed and maintained. How sad that the residents of Glen Cove have not demanded the same standards for our community, our children, the air we breathe and the water we swim in.

Concerned? Make your voice heard both to Nassau County (516 571-7100 – Bay Park) and the City of Glen Cove (516 676-2004 – Mayors Office) after all it is our “backyard”, and right now it stinks!

Talk Of The Town

It's the talk of the town... Sopah Thai Kitchen. I was first told about it by my good friend Jim Coniglione who, along with a number of staff members at Scoopy Doo are frequent, sometimes twice a week customers.

While at Dr. Peter Munda's Chiropractor's office I was told about it by his assistant Debbie. "It's really good," she said... So, on production night this week we had to give it a try.

Located at 11 Cedar Swamp Road (across from Lexus) it is truly a hidden gem.

I'm a big fan of Chinese food but I've never really tried Thai. The restaurant, while open two years, has a number of specials but is known for its "Drunken Noodles" which is sautéed flat rice noodles with chili pepper, onion, fresh basil and egg, worth trying.

They also feature Pad Thai which is stir fried rice noodles with egg, minced bean curd, bean sprout, scallion and peanut.

Prices are modest ranging from five dollars for appetizers to Duck Curry at $16 to a whole fish at $20.

The restaurant features an ample seating area but specializes in take-out and deliveries. For information call 516-945-3688.

Montauk Trip - May 2013

On May 17th after loading cars with supplies and gear, the Boy Scouts of Troop 43 in Sea Cliff embarked on a journey a great distance from their homes and settled in Montauk at Camp Hero State Park. There the troop set up camp and prepared for the adventures that awaited them. A huge satellite dish and an old bunker were observed at this former military defense station. After an awesome game of Frisbee, the Scouts headed off to the stables where they saddled up and rode horseback through scenic trails and along beautiful beaches. Afterward they returned to camp for a hearty meal that included steaks, burgers, hot dogs and baked beans. Everyone had a great time and all are looking forward to the next Boy Scout trip in June. Headmaster Announces Innovations at All Saints Regional

"We are very excited to have arrived at the successful conclusion of the Scholastic Year 2012-2013, and with great expectation we are looking forward to the upcoming Scholastic Year, 2013-2014", wrote the Headmaster of All Saints Regional Catholic School, the Very Reverend Dom Elias Carr, Can. Reg., and the Academic Dean, Mrs. Joanne Fitzgerald recently. The team has been welcomed with open arms by both parents and staff. As enrollment continues to climb, the Administration is implementing an ambitious program to furnish All Saints students with an outstanding Catholic formation and serious academic education, "Next autumn,

All Saints will be adopting a new model of team-teaching for the entire school. From First Grade upwards, every child will have multiple primary teachers as well as special teachers. In addition, we have extended the school day by a full thirty minutes. In order to address some concerns about class size, we have decided to create two sections for Grades Eight, Seven and Four, permitting a more favorable teacher-pupil ratio."

Focus On Language

The arrival of the Canons in Glen Cove in 2011 has brought to All Saints an powerful impulse to the study of language. The Canons, whose abbey is in Austria and whose religious community is German speaking, believe that American children need more exposure to foreign languages not only to open up opportunities to learn about other cultures, but also as a way of helping them acquire greater facility with English. To this end, Father Elias laid out the new program whereby "...every grade from First upwards will take a foreign language, starting with Spanish for the first two years, followed by Italian for the third and fourth years, concluding with two years of Latin in Fifth and Sixth Grade Latin. Seventh and Eighth Graders will have a modern foreign language, Spanish, unless they have been admitted to the Honors Latin Program.

...every grade from First upwards will take a foreign language

Our strong investment in foreign language instructions rests on the premise that language skills are not only the key to future success but also essential for personal development and self-possession." The Very Reverend Dom Daniel Nash, Can. Reg., Pastor of Saint Patrick, who teaches Latin, will also support the Faculty in the crafting of a new schoolwide grammar track, the aim of which is to demystify English language usage and to empower the students to compose clear and compelling speech and texts.

Clergy-Taught Religious Education

Furthermore, a number of local Catholic clergy will take over the religious education for the Seventh and Eighth Graders in the coming year. This two year program of preparation for the Sacrament of Confirmation gives to All Saints students unparalleled access to the parish clergy through classroom teaching and religious activities. Under the coordination of the Very Reverend Dom Gabriel Rach, Can. Reg., Parochial Vicar at St. Patrick and St. Rocco, Very Reverend Robert Romeo, the Pastor of St. Boniface Church, Father John McCarty, the Pastor of St. Mary in Roslyn and Deacon Frank Bourhardt, Deacon at St. Patrick, will join Father Elias in this exciting initiative.

New Faculty and Team Teaching

To round out the new team-teaching approach, the school has also hired new a teacher for Seventh and Eighth Grade Mathematics and Science, Mr. Christopher Schimpf, and two new teachers for Fifth and Fourth Grades, Mr. Timothy Pillion and Mr. Antonio Germani respectively, as well as Mrs. Jacqueline Desiena for Kindergarten. Students will have at least two primary teachers over a two year cycle from First through Sixth grade.

The Seventh and Eighth Graders will enjoy departmentalized teaching according to discipline as well as other privileges in view for their preparation for high school. Religious education, music, art and physical education as well as the support of other teaching specialists means that All Saints offers a congenial environment for human formation for all its students and can at the same time address the particular learning needs of any single student.

Further Innovations

In addition to all these new initiatives, plans are underway for an expanded sports program as well as a course in formal dancing which not only teaches dance but also promotes socialization, personal development and maturity. The students will benefit from an extra thirty minutes of instruction, with the school day starting at 8 am rather than 8:30 am. For little children, All Saints now offers an extended day program for Pre-K and the option of three and five day programs for Nursery and Pre-K. Numerous after school clubs and other opportunities for enrichment cap off the exciting possibilities for a child at All Saints.

Girl Rising Screened at Green Vale School

The Parents' Association at Green Vale hosted a screening of Girl Rising this morning for parents and students in grades six through nine. The film was introduced by Green Vale parent Isobel Coleman, a senior fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations in New York, who was an advisor to the film's producers for several years. Her son Cullen, class of 2009, was also involved in the film's production as a research intern for the Documentary Group in the summer of 2010.

student Alex felt "the film is necessary; it focuses on something that needs to be brought to the attention of many others." Classmate Isabel added, "The film offered us great insight into things that, for us in America, we just don't hear about, especially at our age."

For more on the film and to find show times in a local theater, visit <http://girlrising.com>.

Lego Club/Robotics at Glenwood Landing School

At Glenwood Landing School, 170 kids from grades K-5 participated in the Lego Club and/or Robotics Design Teams under the direction of Audra Marcantonio.

Students in K-3 focused on Lego challenges including building with Legos in engineer design teams within a set parameter. Each team was given time and resource restrictions on a given task with specific requirements. Mrs. Marcantonio said, "After learning about robots and their purposes in addition to studying existing robots, my students had to construct a proto-type robot that was at least five inches high, with movable parts that helped the world in some manner."

The 4th graders had a different exciting task. On loan from the Museum of Flight in Seattle, Washington, the students were able to work with 11 robot kits with open-ended directions. Teams participated in a videoconference with members of the Museum. Mrs. Marcantonio said, "My fourth graders learned about the history of robots, purposes, companies that are currently designing them, and an up-close look at two in existence" She added, "The challenge was to create a robot that had an end effector (or movable arm/clasp) that could store 'moon/space junk' in an on-board compartment. The design teams built robots from scratch and points were allotted for being able to grasp and hold a piece of "space junk," store it on board the robot,

5th graders in the club concentrated on using the MindStorm Lego Robots on the Green City Challenge.

Many thanks goes out to Chris Sharkey, a senior at North Shore High School, who presented to K-3 students at various points of the year and will present to 4th and 5th graders in mid-May. The entire GWL Lego/Robotics Club were invited to the HS workshop and the Hofstra Regional HS Robotics Competition. He was amazing!!

CHINESE EDUCATORS VISIT PORTLEDGE SCHOOL FOR THIRD YEAR IN A ROW

PI On Tuesday, May 14, Portledge School hosted a group of 24 Chinese teachers and administrators who are studying and learning about American education in conjunction with the Center for International Teacher Training at the College of Mount St. Vincent in New York City. The finest and most dedicated teachers in China are selected by the Educational Bureau of Shenzhen to participate in this eight week program, funded by the government of the Peoples Republic of China.

PI During their two month stay, the participants take graduate level classes in education focusing on English instruction as well as Educational Issues and Teaching Pedagogy. Two days a week, they venture out on "learning walk" visits to schools throughout the five boroughs and beyond or attend cultural activities, including visits to the United Nations, Metropolitan Museum of Art, Queens Science Center, The Cloisters, and Storm King Art Center. For the last two weeks of their trip, they will embark on community service projects, including Head Start and the Smile Bus. Portledge School is one of the few schools selected and the only independent school on Long Island to host the international visitors. While at the school, the group toured the three divisions (lower, middle and upper), and went into the classes and spoke with students. The visitors were impressed by the wide variety of teaching methods used and the courses offered. Portledge is an independent pre-nursery to 12th grade day school. Global citizenship is a major element of the school's mission, and the visit of the Chinese teachers was meaningful for students and adults.

PI The College of Mount Saint Vincent has long been a provider of professional training and educational credentialing for its graduates entering the teaching profession. During the past year, fifty teachers, headmasters and educational researchers from Shenzhen City, China have participated in this Teacher Training Program.

Portledge Celebrates Earth Day 2013

The Portledge School (Locust Valley, NY) celebrated its 7th annual Earth Day on April 26, 2013. The day began with an all-school opening ceremony with remarks from Student Council President Neil Nelanuthala '13, Earth Day Organizer Eve Shapiro '13, Head of School Simon Owen-Williams, and State Senator Carl Marcellino. Senator Marcellino emphasized the importance of Earth Day and the fact that everyone must do their part every day of the year.

Highlights of the day included a variety of student-run booths all of which educated the Portledge community on various topics, such as organic food, tap water vs. bottled, green cosmetics, fuel efficient cars from Penn Toyota and Huntington Mercedes, Friends of the Bay, recycling, and more. Students in the Lower School made planters with the help of representatives from Home Depot Syosset. Abandoned Trunks Opens with Abandon at NSHM

Even before the opening of the highly publicized and latest version of the film, The Great Gatsby, the newly restored North Shore Historical Museum held a Gatsby style party to celebrate the opening of "Abandoned Trunks," an exhibit of clothing and accessories from author and historian Monica Randall's collection of gowns from the 1920's-1940's. The gowns, which Ms Randall had rescued from abandoned mansions before they were demolished, were worn by many famous and infamous women from those eras. Photographic recreations of scenes were on display, showing models, including Monica herself, wearing the gowns.

Many of the guests wore flapper style dresses, and specially recorded music from that time period compiled by NSHM board member Barry Rivadue, also added to the atmosphere, and later in the evening inspired dancing.

Delicious and plentiful hors d'oeuvres were donated by the Atria of Glen Cove, which is next door to the museum. NSHM board member Nicole Menchise tended bar.

Monica Randall will give several lectures during the exhibit which will continue through September 2. Museum Vice President Victoria Crosby said "the North Shore Historical Museum is very grateful to have Monica Randall, who is renowned as an author and expert on the history of the North Shore of Long Island, as a Museum Associate and for this wonderful exhibit."

The museum is open on Wednesdays from 2pm-6pm and Saturdays from 11-3pm. Admission is free to members, $5 for non members.

NSHM is located at 140 Glen Street in Glen Cove. For further information on this exhibit or the lecture lunch series visit northshorehistoricalmuseum.org or call Museum Director Colleen Yoder at 516 801-1191.

Name the Celebrity

opposite Burger King. Who remembers that giant gold slipper marquee?? Her co-performer at that particular appearance was Academy Award winner, Ray Milland.

Last Week's Celebrity

Last week's celebrity was Judy Canova. In 1943, she began her own radio program, "The Judy Canova Show", that ran for twelve years first on CBS and then NBC. She was accompanied by a cast that included voicemaster Mel Blanc as "Pedro" (using the accented voice he later gave Looney Tunes cartoons' characters "Speedy Gonzales" and "Slyvester the Cat". Gale Gordon ("Our Miss Brooks", "Dennis the Menace" & "The Lucy Show"), Sheldon Leonard and Hans Conreid made periodic appearances, as well. During WWII, she would close her show with the song "Goodnight, Soldier" ("Wherever you may be...my heart's lonely...without you") and used her free-time to sell U.S. War Bonds. By the time her radio show ended in 1955, she made a smooth transaction to TV appearances on "The Colgate Hour", "The Steve Allen Show", Alfred Hitchcock Presents" (which can be seen on ANT TV Ch. 114, weekdays at midnight) and "Make Room for Daddy" with Danny Thomas. Her daughter, Diana Canova, is best known for her role as "Corine" on the ABC TV sitcom, "Soap". In 1983, at the age of 69, Judy died of cancer and her ashes were interred with her brother and sister.

Correct Callers

Callers who knew our celebrity last week were: Sal C. Connie Cantinzano, Anna Moore, Don Adams (who was correct the past two weeks and we left him off), Ted March, Nancy Furlong, Mario Moccia, Will and Babs Hutchins, Roberta Pezza and Sandy Shane.

This week's celebrity was born Joan Lucille Olander on Feb. 6, 1931 and is an American actress, model, singer and sex symbol who is known for being one of the first actresses to imitate or "clone" the look of Marilyn Monroe. She is perhaps best remembered for bringing the rock 'n' roll style of music alive in the B-musical "Untamed Youth" (1957), and for many other films of this exotic nature. In early 1946, she began working as an usherette at the Pantages Theatre in Hollywood. In the summer of 1949, at age 18, she won the titles "Miss Eight Ball" and "Miss Palm Springs". She was discovered by producer Howard Hughes on the night she was crowned "Miss Palm Springs". The pair dated for several years and he launched her career by placing her in several RKO films, including a small role in "His Kind of Woman" with Robert Mitchum, Jane Russell and Vincent Price. In 1951, she posed for famous pin-up artist, Alberto Vargas, the painter of the glamorous "Vargas Girls". His painting of our celebrity was on the cover of July 1951's "Esquire" magazine. Soon after that she began working on the stage. This experience eventually led her to develop a nightclub act in the late 1950's and early 1960's. Around that time, Glen Cove residents had the fun time of seeing her perform at our own "Golden Slipper" night club which once stood at the site of Rallye/Lexus Motors

Pauline Momot-Backstatter

MOMOT -BACKSTATTER, Pauline (NEE - Faust), beloved Mother and Grandmother, passed away on Saturday, May 25th, 2013 from complications of Alzheimer's disease. Pauline was born on December 25th, 1925 in Glen Cove Community Hospital and because her father, Captain Carl Faust worked as the Manager of the boatyard for Seawanhaka Yacht Club, she was blessed to grow up on the property. Along with her mother, they lived in the small, two-story white house down by boatyard. This is where she fell in love with the water and developed a great appreciation for nature. She used to sail her 30 foot boat, the 'Felicity' over to Cooper Bluff Cliff. Her pets included cats and dogs and for awhile, they even owned Alice Roosevelt's horse. In the early 40's she used to be a fashion model for the 'Newark Magazine,' and after raising three children she received her Bachelor of Arts Degree from C.W. Post College. It was at a time when there was an excess of teachers so she went to work for and eventually retired from the Social Security Department in Garden City. Anyone who knew her also knew that she would be the first to rescue a small bird, or a chipmunk and because of her great appreciation for our wetlands, she would take it upon herself to bring an empty bag and a pair of scissors to Bayville bridge and remove all of the fishing line that was left by the fisherman. She would continue to fill the bag with trash on her walks from Mill Neck to Center Island. One time, she managed to drag home a very heavy trash bag that was left by someone traveling on West Shore Road. Whenever going for walks along

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Great Book Guru,
I am very excited about the upcoming Spring Fest in Sea Cliff- I have heard it described as a village-wide block party and then again as a intimate version of Mini-Mart. It will take place along Sea Cliff Avenue from Arata's to Partners with Village organizations and artists and artisans set up to greet and meet the citizenry with lots and lots of live music from 11am to 4pm. Then- can it get better- yes!- because at 4pm we will all march over to Clifton Park for a concert with more than eighty musicians performing- a perfect setting for a picnic supper. Well, do you think there be time for a good book?

Swooning Over a Sunday in Sea Cliff

Dear Swooning,

What a great day awaits us and , yes, I have a wonderful, wonderful book for you to read :THE ONE AND ONLY IVAN by Katherine Applegate. This is a short, simple novel that would appeal to all ages and whose message lingers long after you have read the book. Ivan is a silverback gorilla who long ago left his native land and has lived in a shopping mall circus for thirty years. He has been more or less content, but when a young elephant Ruby joins the circus, he sees how wretched his own life has been and he is consumed by the desire to make Ruby's better. Family becomes an overwhelming interest of Ivan's as he tries to make sense of his existence. While the book is written from Ivan's point of view, it opens questions about our own humanity. A thought-provoking book based on a real life story...

Sea Cliff Once Again Shows Its Love For The Sea Cliff Library

By Carol Poll, President of the Friends of the Sea Cliff Library June 3, 2013

Thank you Sea Cliff for making the Friends of the Sea Cliff Library "Giant Gently Used Book Sales," at "Garage Day Sale" on Saturday, June 1, 2013 a success. It was a great triumph thanks to the Sea Cliff community book donations, garage day bargain hunters and numerous volunteers who worked on the sale. The book sale is a major fundraiser and community event where people come to share their love of the library, books and reading and meet their friends. Many hundreds of books are donated and sold. Many people volunteered hours of work to make the sale succeed. Volunteers included Philip Basse, Carol Berglie, Eileen Black, Udaya Brooks, Peggy Brucia, Jim Campbell, Rosemary Chu, Wendy D'Avino, Peggy & Phil Como, Barbara Grapstein, Sara Jones, Karen Kessler, Mimi Leipzig, Mike Lennon Mark Miksic, Jeanne Millspaugh, Charlie Oppizzi, Carol Poll, Catherine Pickering, Rosalin Polisano, Janet Swinburne, Maria Steigletz, Carolyn Quenon, Allyson Wesley, and Janis Wong. A hearty thanks also goes to the Director of the Library, Arlene Nevins, and the library staff who helped us and stored all the books for us before the sale.

Additional energetic workers came from the Key Club of the North Shore High Schools. North Shore Schools parent, Nina Livingston, coordinated the student assignments along with their faculty advisor, Julie Salat, and Key Club president Allison Black. Key Club member workers included Allison Black, Lisa Christenson, Jules Hotzmann, Elias Mastakouris, Maria Parrino, and Lisa Sebetic. They were an enormous help. Key Club member, Brandan Sankar, of Roslyn High School also provided outstanding help organizing books. Additional indispensable help setting up the book sale was provided by North Shore

High School students Craig Darcy and John Lennon (also known as "Muscle for Hire").. Nina Livingston's daughter, Finley Livingston, was also a skilled box carrier.

Troup 43 Boy Scouts of St. Lukes Church also came to the rescue. Scouts Kenny Aebly, Keegan Brown, John Channell, Christian Genet, Jack Kasper, Derrick Korpanay, Alec Manna, Luke Martin, TJ Ponzio, Paul Schmalzried, and William Sinkiski were outstanding workers. Their devoted parents and loving grandfather, Dan Maddock, were there to "supervise" them.

Additional help was provided by Glen Cove Staples who donated money towards the buying of the book display boxes. Sea Cliff Civic Association Garage Sale Committee gave the Friends garage day sale maps to sell that day and keep the money from the sale.
