Sea Cliff Fire Department Crush for Cancer Fundraiser a Huge Success

by Carol Griffin

The Crush for Cancer Fundraiser held at Sea Cliff firehouse on August 4 proved to be a huge success in raising funds to assist Ex Sea Cliff Chief Michael Hallquest in his battle with cancer. The well organized volunteers under the direction of Sea Cliff's Chief Danny Whittemore, and assistant chiefs Ernest "Bullet" Longobucco and Mark Vitale, plus dozens of volunteers in orange T-shirts who, put together the numerous generous auction prizes and worked the event simply did a terrific job. The Town of Oyster Bay show mobile provided a stage for bands, "Chickenhead" and "Alice and the Mad Hatters" to provide great

Join Team Spinello for HQ Grand Opening Aug. 15

Paul Meli, Chairman of the Glen Cove Republican Committee, invites all Glen Cove residents and taxpayers to the grand opening of Team Spinello headquarters, 149 Glen Street, on August 15 at 7 p.m. The slate of GOP candidates for the November 5, 2013 Glen Cove election is: Reggie Spinello for Mayor; Anthony Gallo, Jr.; Pamela Panzenbeck; Efraim Spagnoletti; Linda Darby; Kristina Heuser; and Charles Bozzello for City Council.

Paul Meli said, "Glen Cove residents and taxpayers deserve excellence, not mediocrity; transparency in their government; financial stability, not fiscal stress; improved quality of life; and the sustainability of our local businesses."

Reggie Spinello said, "I fully understand and accept the many challenges facing our city. I embrace the opportunity to utilize my skills and talents along with those of my running mates to effectuate positive change for Glen Cove. As residents and taxpayers you deserve better from your leadership. Give us the opportunity and we will give you a better Glen Cove."

music all afternoon and into the evening. The event committee spent long hours ahead of time securing donations and putting together great raffle prizes for the Chinese Auction. Prize donors were extremely generous in providing generous and desirable prizes, and those who attended were equally generous in their various opportunities to donate to assist Michael in his battle.

Michael, his wife Laura and their entire families were present to support the day. The street in front of the firehouse was closed and filled with people who came out to support this worthwhile event. After announcing the big winners, Chief Whittemore thanked everyone for their support.

Michael and the crowd became quite emotional when Michael himself took the microphone to thank everyone for their generosity and outpouring of support for him. It really was a special moment. You came away knowing people can really care for each other and will step up to the plate and assist in times of need. It was a great fundraiser and a great day.

Glen Cove Resident Honored By Oyster Bay Historical Society

Glen Cove resident Victoria Crosby was one of the honorees at Oyster Bay Historical Society's recent reception at Woodlands in Woodbury, honoring Long Island's top advocates for historic preservation and education. Ms Crosby is vice president of administration of the North Shore Historical Museum and has been involved for more than fifteen years with raising funds to restore the 1909 courthouse, once Oyster Bay City Hall. She is also on the board of trustees at the Historic Royal Palaces in London and writes articles on historic preservation for 25A magazine.

Author Monica Randall, an Oyster Bay resident and a North Shore Historical Museum Associate, was also an honoree. She is also a journalist for 25A magazine. Ms Randall has given well attended lectures at the museum and her exhibit Abandoned Trunks is presently on display at the museum until the end of August.

Glen Cove Youth Bureau and Bethpage Federal Credit Union Team Up to Train Youth

Every summer, the Glen Cove Youth Bureau operates a Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) that prepares middle and high school students for the workforce. Students are taught how to prepare a resume, dress for success, interview for a job, and behave in the workplace. Depending upon the age of the teen, students are then placed in jobs with the City, businesses or non-profit organizations around Glen Cove. Recently, Daisy Indelicto and Robert Suarez of Bethpage Federal Credit Union presented Arlene O'Dell, Executive Director of the Glen Cove Youth Board with a very generous check to support this program. Many thanks for Bethpage FCU's continued support for youth in Glen Cove.

Glen Cove 7th Annual Senior Recognition Day

Glen Cove 7th Annual Senior Recognition Day May 11, 2013. Our own Mayor Ralph Suozzi surrounded by a bevy of lovely ladies... which include, Marietta Capizzi (112 years young!) and Lillian Stile (a mere 105) and their friends Edith, Lauren, Marcie and Lina from Sunrise Senior Living of Glen Cove, who came for the wonderful and warm celebration experienced by all who attended the event held in the jewel of our beloved city; The Glen Cove Senior Center.

Can You Help Us Fill a Child's Bookbag? Back to School Donations Wanted

The Glen Cove Youth Bureau, in cooperation with the Friends of the Glen Cove Youth Board is teaming up with local citizens, organizations and businesses to provide back to school supplies to disadvantaged youth in our community. A backpack filled with supplies is presented to children who otherwise would not have what they need to succeed in their studies. Last year, close to 200 children in grades K – 12 received back to school supplies as a result of this effort.

Given the economy and cost of getting ready for school, the need is greater than ever this year. For example, on average it costs $78.00 to purchase all of the supplies on the school list for a 1st grader in the Glen Cove School District and $83.00 to supply a 4th grader. This cost simply covers school supplies. It does not cover back to school clothing, shoes, coats, etc. For families living on a fixed income, especially those with more than one child, these expenses are often impossible to absorb. When the family forgoes purchasing school supplies, it is the student who suffers.

Please consider making a donation to this worthy project. Some of the supplies that will be collected by the Youth Bureau include:

- Backpacks (no wheels)
- 2" nylon, zippered, 3-ring binder
- Thin and thick washable markers
- #2 pencils
- Erasable and regular pens in (blue,

- black, red)
- Colored pencils
- Highlighters
- Box of 24 crayons
- Zippered pencil case with 3 holes
- Small pencil sharpener
- Loose-leaf paper
- Spiral notebooks
- Marble notebooks
- Post-its
- 3x5 index cards
- Folders
- Section dividers
- Glue sticks
- Scissors
- Portable 3-hole punch

Donations will be accepted through August 19 and may be dropped off at the following locations: Glen Cove Youth Bureau at 128B Glen Street (behind 126 Glen Street), Glen Cove City Hall (City Clerk's office on 3rd floor); and the Glen Cove Library near the circulation desk.

Monetary donations are also gratefully accepted. Please make your tax deductible check out to "Friends of the Glen Cove Youth Board" and mail to Glen Cove Youth Bureau, 128B Glen Street, Glen Cove, NY 11542 Attn: Backpack Project. For further information, please call Cindy Rogers at 671-4600.

School will be here before we know it. Once again, the Glen Cove Youth Bureau is collecting school supplies for disadvantaged students in Glen Cove. Please help us make sure that all of our students have the tools they need to succeed. Donations will be accepted throughout the month of August at the following locations: Glen Cove Youth Bureau (128B Glen Street), Glen Cove City Hall (City Clerk's Office on 3rd floor) and Glen Cove Library (near the circulation desk). For more information, please call Cindy Rogers at 671-4600.

The Regency Hosts Interagency Council

The Glen Cove Interagency Council held its last meeting before the summer break at the The Regency, Glen Cove's oldest assisted living facility. Members were warmly welcomed by Jennifer Barrett who told members about the personal care and active lifestyle that is enjoyed by residents at The Regency.

The Glen Cove Interagency Council (IAC) held its final monthly meeting before the summer break at The Regency. Jennifer Barrett of The Regency warmly welcomed IAC members and provided an overview of Glen Cove's oldest assisted living facility.

The Regency is licensed to provide housing for 105 residents in 96 units. The studio and one-bedroom apartments are fully furnished and have recently been renovated. The building was originally built as condos; therefore the apartments are quite spacious. The Regency will soon undertake a major 18-month renovation that will add a movie theater, second private dining room, bistro and dementia unit. Most residents are in their mid-80s and all are known by the staff. It is a very personal and caring place to live.

The Regency's goal is to promote a stress-free lifestyle for seniors. Residents enjoy delicious meals, go on lots of trips and outings and have in-house programs. For example, "Regency University" offers lectures on a wide range of topics from history to nutrition to residents and the public. The emphasis is on having a full and active life.

The Regency offers many levels of care from no care to incontinence care, medication management, escorts to meals, etc. The level of care is personalized to the individual. Veterans' benefits are accepted and shared accommodations are available for seniors on a restricted budget. The Regency also provides short term respite stays. Some residents come to The Regency from area rehabilitation facilities before going home. Others live in Florida and stay at The Regency when visiting the area.

Members of the IAC include community leaders representing a variety of human and social service agencies throughout Glen Cove. It reflects Glen Cove's rich cultural, religious and ethnic diversity and meets regularly to identify and address changing needs in the community. This network has resulted in numerous projects and collaborations that benefit Glen Cove residents on a daily basis.

Pet Therapy with Cooper at The Regency at Glen Cove

Every Wednesday at 10:00 AM, The Regency at Glen Cove has a very special visitor. This is the time when Cooper stops in with his handler, Tracy, for some much anticipated Pet Therapy. Cooper is an adorable 4-year-old Golden Doodle certified by The Good Dog Foundation. The Good Dog Foundation was founded as a 501(c) (3) charitable organization in 1998 to promote the use of animal-assisted therapy. Good Dog's mission is to elevate the stature and promote society's understanding of the therapeutic value of the human-animal bond.

When Cooper enters the building, he is a dog on a mission! He knows exactly where to go and can't wait to get there. He has an incredibly sweet and loving disposition. Cooper is always excited to see the residents and eagerly greets them with his tail wagging while lowering his head for all of the pets and snuggles he knows are soon to follow. It is amazing to see so many faces light up upon seeing and interacting with Cooper. There are many documented benefits of Pet Therapy which include: lower blood pressure and anxiety levels, diminished physical pain and decreased feelings of isolation and alienation. It is said that the simple act of petting releases endorphins which in turn produces a calming effect that lifts spirits and lessens depression. These benefits are easily apparent when observing Cooper's interaction with the Regency residents.

The Regency at Glen Cove is very grateful to have Cooper and Tracy and thanks them for their kindness and dedication. The Regency also has other amazing Therapy dogs they wish to acknowledge: Macy, Maggie and Chiquita. "Dogs have a way of finding the people who need them, and filling an emptiness we never even knew we had" – Thom Jones.

Glen Cove Youth Bureau & North Shore Lions Prepare Students for Successful School Year

Recognizing the importance of starting off the school year on the right foot, the North Shore Lions Club recently donated many back-to-school supplies -- including backpacks, master notebooks, markers, pens, pencils, notebooks and many other items -- to the Friends of the Glen Cove Youth Board. The supplies will be distributed to needy students in Glen Cove, thus giving them the tools they need to succeed in their studies. The Lions generously donate to the school supply drive every year. Pictured with some of the donated school supplies are Rosemarie Marciano and Marlene Michnowich of the North Shore Lions and Arlene O'Dell, and Cindy Rogers of the Glen Cove Youth Bureau. Many thanks to Diane DiClemente of the North Shore Lions who diligently shopped on behalf of the Lions.

Locust Valley American Legion

On July 27th & 28th the Sons of the American Legion squadron 962 of Locust Valley did a project for the members of the Howard A. Van Wagner American Legion Post; located at 280 forest Avenue in Locust Valley.

There were 7 S.A.L. members and 4 Legionnaires in all, doing the work. The project included cutting back the overgrown hedges and plants on the east side of the parking lot. A tree was also cut back.

All of the poison ivy was sprayed and done away with last year 2012. The project will be completed later on in August 2013. This S.A.L. squadron is sponsored by post 962.

The Sons of the American Legion are the sons of members of the Legion in good standing. The S.A.L. also helps other organizations in town.

Anyone who wants to join the S.A.L. can call the American Legion hall at 674-3430 or S.A.L. advisor Robert Snyder at 628-2130. requirements are that the father be a member of the American Legion in Locust Valley.

Morgan Park Music Festival Rings with Music Talent Competition Winners Announced

Morgan Park Summer Music Festival recently held its annual Young Performers Talent Competition at St. Patrick's Parish Hall in Glen Cove. Fifteen very talented vocalists and instrumentalists played and sang before four judges.

The 2013 competition winner is the vocal duet of Alyssa DeGuzman, age 18 of Roslyn Heights and Deena Hower, age 23 of New Hyde Park. The winners studied with Ms. Jaisook Jin at Manhasset School of Music. Alyssa currently attends Adelphi University where she is a Music Vocal Performance major. She plans to obtain her Masters in Music Education. Deena attended Crane School of Music at SUNY Potsdam. She is currently pursuing her Masters at Brooklyn College.

The junior winner is Jasmine Galante, age 13 from Roslyn. She is a 7th grader at Roslyn Middle School. This talented young pianist is the winner of the Bradshaw and Buono International Piano Competition and American Protagage International Piano and String Competition.

This year's pop winner is Patrick Wilhelm, age 16 of Locust Valley. Patrick attends Locust Valley High School and pursues his music talent at Stella Adler Acting Conservatory.

The public will have an opportunity to hear these very talented competition winners in Morgan Park on Sunday, July 14 at 7:30 pm. All are welcome to attend.

Morgan Park Summer Music Festival thanks Jill Weissman, Fran Howlett, Linda Hochberg and Sally Zweibach for judging the competition this year. All of the judges were impressed with the caliber of this year's participants. They noted that it was difficult to choose from among so many talented and gifted young people who clearly worked very hard to prepare for this audition. The judges hope that a good crowd comes out on July 14 to hear these exciting young performers. The Festival also thanks Stacey Sunshine for her many years organizing the competition and St. Patrick's Church for providing a venue for the auditions.

Morgan Park Summer Music Festival is a not-for-profit organization, administered by an all-volunteer team. No taxpayer money is used or requested for these concerts. Our seasons of professional, family-oriented performances are funded entirely through tax-deductible contributions.

Morgan Park Summer Music Festival recently held its 40th annual Young Performers Talent Competition at St. Patrick's Parish, Glen Cove. Congratulations to this year's winners: vocalists Alyssa DeGuzman and Deena Hower – Competition Winner; pianist Jasmine Galante – Junior Winner and vocalist Patrick Wilhelm – Pop Winner. Come to Morgan Park on Sunday, July 14 at 7:30 to hear these talented young musicians perform in a special concert.

Glen Cove Youth Bureau presents... YOUTH, NEWS & VIEWS

GLEN COVE AFTER 3 travels to space!

With the support of the United World Foundation and Irina Sushko the Glen Cove After 3 students were given a chance to visit the Cradle of Aviation. While this was no ordinary trip the students experienced special classes and a behind the scenes tour of the museum. Some of the classes were Living In Space, All About the Stars and a Rockets program.

Our students were able to learn how rockets work, how they fly and even got to see a rocket launch. The enthusiasm and excitement was apparent on all their faces as they returned to program. This special trip was part of a two-day series, which included a lot of hands on learning as well as a 3D film showing what it would be like living in space and being part of the space program. The students witnessed life in the space station and how it feels to have zero gravity. The students were given the chance to be astronauts for a little while. We are very fortunate to have partnered up with such great foundations that have given our students these wonderful opportunities.

Applications for our School year program are available at all of the schools in the district as well as at the GCA3 office located at 70 Forest Ave. Suite 2C and at The Glen Cove Youth Bureau located at 128B Glen Street in Glen Cove. For more information please call the Glen Cove After 3 office at (516) 277-1303.

We hope to see you in September!

GLEN COVE AFTER 3 ON TV !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Lights Camera Action ..... Glen Cove After 3 was selected to be on national TV. Glen Cove After 3 was selected to be on ABC 7 afternoon show "the Chew" due to its partnership with Island Harvest. Island Harvest has been providing the program with healthy lunches for the last 4 summers. Island Harvest and Feeding America have helped Glen Cove After 3 in offering healthy food choices as well as a nutritionist who works with the students in choosing smart eating choices. The show was taped in the middle school were all the students got to experience the making of a TV segment. Some of our students and staff were interviewed as well. We are all very proud of this recognition and look forward to even bigger and better opportunities to occur.

Island Harvest has been providing the students with healthy food choices, which include whole wheat bread with turkey, ham and chicken breast. They compliment their sandwiches with milk a juice and a fruit cup or fresh fruit depending on what is available. This summer alone we will be providing 2,790 lunches for our students. We are happy to announce that our after school programs will continue to offer the healthy snacks through our other food partner Long Island Cares.

Applications for our School year program are available at all of the schools in the district as well as at the GCA3 office located at 70 Forest Ave. Suite 2C and at The Glen Cove Youth Bureau located at 128B Glen Street in Glen Cove. For more information please call the Glen Cove After 3 office at (516) 277-1303. We hope to see you in September!

Mayor's Column

by Mayor Ralph V. Suozzi

As many of you know, North Shore-LIJ has announced a significant downsizing of the Glen Cove Hospital that includes de-certification of its 265 in-patient beds affecting 76,000 residents in this vicinity.

If approved now, the changes will begin in January. In order for this plan to move forward it must be approved by the NYS Health Commissioner. My immediate goal is to postpone this approval so that we can present alternative plans in conjunction with the medical community.

Paramount to our community would be the loss of jobs within our City --- 1200 people are employed here in Glen Cove --- those jobs must remain here to avoid serious damage to our local economy.

To help resolve this situation I have met with Congressman Steve Israel, Governor Cuomo's Regional and Intergovernmental representatives, NS-LIJ COO Mark Solazzo, and spoken with many local government officials. I expect to meet with NS-LIJ CEO Michael Dowling in the near future.

It is important that you sign my electronic petition, which is on my Facebook page and at www.cityofglencove-li.us. Alternately, paper petitions are at City Hall, the Senior Center, Glen Cove and Locust Valley Libraries, the Med Station, Glen Cove Chemist, Dunkin Donuts, Forest Pizza, Sunrise Assisted Living, Leo's Tasty Corner, January's Salon in Locust Valley, and Women's Health Pavillion in Glen Head. This list is growing daily.

The volunteer fire departments, Sons of Italy, and clergy have joined this battle as well. More will be announced as we get more petitions in the field. Please call my office at City Hall 676-2004 if you want a petition packet for your business, homeowner's association, place of worship -- anywhere people stop by or gather.

I need your help. Please spread the word.

Gold Martial Arts Celebrates 7th Anniversary

Mayor Ralph Suozzi and the Chamber of Commerce joined members of GMA Karate to celebrate seven years serving the Glen Cove community.

Glen Cove, New York, July 27, 2013 – GMA Karate invited Dr. Bill Akpinar, a physician and Shaolin martial arts master to conduct two exciting and informative weapons seminars in honor of the school's 7th anniversary, one for students ages 3-6, and the second for students ages 7-14. Dr. Akpinar demonstrated the use of various swords and then taught the children a basic sword fighting partner drill using wooden sticks for safety.

Mayor Ralph Suozzi along with Ms. Mary Stanco of the Glen Cove Chamber of Commerce gathered with members of GMA Karate to congratulate Sensei Hender Alvarado, owner of the martial arts school, on continuing to provide a valuable service to the community over the last seven years. "Sensei Hender and Sensei Andrew: I applaud you for building strong minds and strong bodies; this really is a great place," said Mayor Suozzi. The celebration concluded with pizza and make-your-own ice cream sundaes for all present.

Sensei Hender Alvarado announced that "because of the major success of our karate and kickboxing programs, GMA Martial Arts will be expanding with our kickboxing program moving to a larger location behind Retro Fitness [located at 4 Cedar Swamp Rd.] and our traditional karate program remaining here at 275 Glen St." New classes will be forming at both locations: Kid, teen, and adult kickboxing classes will be offered at the new kickboxing facility and an adult only "GMA Combat Club" will be offered at the martial arts school.

About GMA Karate & Kickboxing:

GMA Karate teaches children and teens discipline, increases confidence, and improves physical fitness and self-defense skills through the martial arts. Their iLoveKickboxing.com program allows adults to burn fat and tone muscle in a fun, family-oriented environment. ### Last Week's Celebrity

Born Madonna Josephine Davis, last week's celebrity was Joan Davis. She was probably best remembered for the 1950's TV series "I Married Joan" about a zany housewife and her exasperated husband, played by Jim Backus (the voice of "Mr. Magoo"). Her own real-life daughter, Beverly Wills, played her daughter on the show. This NBC show premiered in 1952 and was the network's answer to CBS's "I Love Lucy" series which premiered the year before. It did not nearly achieve the ratings success enjoyed by "I Love Lucy". It received moderate success ratings the first two years. However, not only were the ratings beginning to slip in the third year, but Davis was beginning to experience heart problems and was canceled in 1955. Ironically, in its original syndicated run, the series was extremely popular and received high ratings. However, once Joan, at the age of 53, passed away from an acute coronary in the Spring of 1961, most, if not all, local TV stations yanked the show off their line-ups due to a question of taste.....laughing at someone who has died. That's unheard of these days!!! Tragically, on Oct. 24, 1963, Joan's mother, daughter, Beverly Wills, and two grandchildren were killed in a house fire in Palm Springs, California.

Correct Callers

Callers who know our celebrity last week were: Joan Davis, Roberta Pezza, Mario Moccia, John Rogakski, Joseph Saepia, Will and Babs Hutchins, Don Adams.

This week's celebrity was born in Gossel, Kansas on July 5, 1936. Shortly before she turned twenty, she was cast in 1958 and 1959 as "Mrs. Newcomb" in twenty of the thirty-nine episodes of the NBC western TV series "Buckskin", with Tom Nolan, as a summer replacement series for "The Ford Show", starring Tennessee Ernie Ford. She became a Warner Bros. TV contract star while on breaks filming movies and appeared on such WB TV series as "Maverick", "77 Sunset Strip", "Bourbon Street Beat", "Sugarfoot" (Hi, Will!), "Cheyenne" and "The Roaring Twenties", with Dorothy Provine. A life member of The Actors Studio, her stage credits include "Three Sisters" (1964), "We Have Always Lived in the Castle" (1966), and "Kennedy's Children" (1975), which earned her the Tony Award for Best Performance by a Featured Actress in a Play. She also had a recurring role on "Desperate Housewives" as "Bree Hodge's" annoying former mother-in-law, "Phyllis Van de Kamp". She also appeared in a popular episode from the original "The Outer Limits" series, "The Man Who Was Never Born", with Martin Landau.

Community Mourns Professor Vera von Wiren- Garczynski

Professor Vera von Wiren- Garczynski died suddenly in Glen Cove, NY on Saturday, August 3, 2013, after two massive strokes. She was born in Novi Sad, Yugoslavia, and was placed in a Nazi detention camp during WWII, when the Nazis invaded that country. After being released by the American forces, she met Stanley Garczynski, a Polish officer who was also freed by the Americans after being imprisoned in the Nazi concentration camp, Auschwitz. They married in Munich, and she gave birth to her daughter Maria. The teenage bride and her husband immigrated to America via Ellis Island with her mother, Helen and their infant daughter. Soon after, she had two more children, Barbara and Waldemar. Before obtaining her doctorate, she worked as a model for Oleg Cassini, taught dance at Arthur Murray and acted as interpreter during the Khrushchev visit to New York. She tutored Van Cliburn in the Russian language at Carnegie Hall before his 1959 award winning performance in Moscow. In 1961, after graduating from Brooklyn College, and while working on her graduate studies, she gave birth to her son Robert. Soon afterwards, she received her Masters degree from Columbia University, and her doctorate in Russian Area Studies from NYU. She taught Russian language and literature at the CUNY, and was a visiting scholar at the School for International Affairs at Columbia University.

Professor von Wiren Garczynski, who spoke seven languages, was very energetic, and enjoyed traveling. She was fervent in promoting good relations between her adopted country, America and the Slavic countries, whose heritage she shared. She carried messages between the White House and Lech Walesa in Poland in the early 1980's during the Solidarity Movement, and met with President Yeltsin in Moscow in the early 1990's. In 1998, she traveled to Russia at the invitation of the mayor of St. Petersburg to attend the funeral of the last Russian Tsar and his family. Her grandfather, Admiral Robert Wiren was the first victim of the Bolshevik Revolution in Kronstadt. She was frequently invited to presidential luncheons at the White House during the Reagan and the older Bush administrations, and later by Hillary Clinton to discuss the First Lady's Central European trip. In the mid eighties, she spoke at the World Affairs Council in San Francisco on Soviet American relations. In 1990, she became the 33rd member of the International Women's Press club, a prestigious club known as "33Women and One Man."

She was chairman of the Commemorative Community of US Dept of Defense WW II Commemoration Committee. She was a member of the Nassau County Holocaust Committee, and a delegate of AIMAV, a subdivision UNESCO. She was Cultural Advisor to the Pulaski Police Association of NYC, and received Citizen of the Year Award in 1979. In 1986, she received the Ellis Island Congressional Medal of Honor for National Heritage contributions on the 100th anniversary of the Statue of Liberty.

She was the founder and president of Slavic American Cultural Association, and for over twenty years, together with SACA executive, Paul Wisniewski, had arranged for Slavic Dance Festivals at Morgan Park in Glen Cove. She and Mr. Wisniewski led the Solidarity March on the Soviet Compound on Dosoris Lane in Glen Cove. They put on cultural programs for deaf children in Milneck, L.I. For over twenty years, she arranged for exhibits of Eastern Culture, including teaching the art of painting Easter Eggs at the Glen Cove Library.

Professor Vera was an active supporter and contributor to animal causes, and disabled veterans. She is survived by her two daughters, attorney Maria Lawcewicz and attorney Barbara Wierbicki., and her three grandchildren from her son Robert: Maximilian, Alexandra and Katherine Garczynski.

GLEN COVE AFTER 3 and The Anglers Club

The Glen Cove Anglers Club invited 20 8th grade students to learn all about fishing and what lives in the waters of Glen Cove. The members were very happy to have us in their facility and proud to show us all their awards. The students were full of questions and interest. Stories filled the air from the experienced fisherman about their catches, tricks and methods. The members even provided a barbecue for the students with hamburgers, hotdogs, watermelon and desert. To top it off the Anglers Club gave all the students their very own fishing rods. All the students were excited to try their poles out and stated they would enter the Mayor's Snapper Derby. We are very thankful to the Anglers Club for this opportunity and cannot wait to visit again!

Applications for our School year program are available at all of the schools in the district as well as at the GCA3 office located at 70 Forest Ave. Suite 2C and at The Glen Cove Youth Bureau located at 128B Glen Street in Glen Cove. For more information please call the Glen Cove After 3 office at (516) 277-1303.

We hope to see you in September!

Lets Fight Together

To The Editor,

For the past five years I have been in charge of Fund Raising for the Auxiliary at North Shore Hospital Glen Cove. During this time we have had 3 MAD-HATTER'S TEAS, held at St. Rocco's Church and 5 RESTAURANT AND WINE TASTINGS. Two of the Tastings were held at the Glen Cove Mansion and three at Webb institute. We have also held numerous raffle sales in the hospital lobby. All these events were extremely successful do in part to the work and contributions of many people.

I would like at this time to extend a thank you to all of you, beginning with Father Elias at St Roccas, All the business people and fiends who donated gifts for our many beautiful raffle prizes. All the sponsors who placed ads and listings in our journals. All the Restaurants, Wineries, Bakeries and Beer Distributors ( many of which participated in all 5 tastings). Everyone who assisted me in making these events happen and most of all everyone who attended these events. I want to thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

I promoted these events to support our local hospital, This is where I was born, where my son was born, and where care and assistance was provided to my family members and friends in their time of need. People do not realize how blessed we are to have had this hospital serve our community all these years.

It is with great sorrow that I learned of the recent plans to downsize our hospital. Rumors are abound throughout the community regarding this. I do not know exactly what is going to happen..... but I am totally against any plan to downsize. We need a hospital that provides all types of care, including admission if necessary. We do not deserve to be transferred to any other facility if we require admission.

I urge everyone to speak to their physicians, to our local politicians and state representatives to see what can be done to prevent this from happening. Sign the petitions. Downsizing our hospital could be a disaster to all of us and our community. LET'S ALL TRY AND FIGHT THIS TOGETHER.

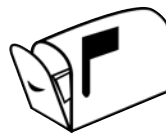

*Sincerely,
Julie Albin*

Municipal Golf Course Bogey to a Birdie

To The Editor,

Under the mismanagement of the Suozzi administration our municipal golf course has lost $500,000 over the past three years. Early estimates for the fiscal year ending 2013 have losses projected as high as $200,000. For the past five years the golf course has run at a significant deficit. Once a revenue positive operation, this jewel by the sound requires a fresh set of eyes and a new management team to return it to profitability. To best accomplish this goal I will request input from the golf commission and members of the woman and men's club in analyzing the failed history of expenses exceeding revenue.

Letters to the Editor

Some residents have questioned my comment regarding privatizing management of the golf course. This was mentioned in reference to the remedies available for curing the financial problems of the Golf Fund. My goal is to improve the golfing experience and increase the number of rounds played while creating significant revenue for our city and most importantly maintaining affordable rates for our residents. I believe that my leadership abilities coupled with a re-structured and more efficient utilization of our workforce will result in a much needed revenue positive operation for our City.

Our city has serious financial problems and I am prepared to make the tough decisions required to return fiscal health to our great city.

An open letter to Mr. Michael Dowling, President and CEO NSLIJ Health System

Dear Mr. Dowling,

Having heard anxious concerns from friends and colleagues in different areas of my life, I would like to summarize several of the ways in which re-configuring Glen Cove Hospital from a full-service facility to an ambulatory care center will adversely affect our community.

With respect to full disclosure, in addition to being a resident of Glen Cove for 20-plus years, I am also a physician on staff at NSLIJ at Glen Cove, and I am also a candidate running for City Council this November on Mayor Suozzi's slate.

I've received calls from friends who work at the hospital but were afraid to voice their opinions in public. They and their co-workers are concerned - they've bought houses to be near their jobs, they chose jobs to be near their homes, and they've leased office space near the hospital where they have admitting privileges. They want to keep their seniority and their positions, and they want to stay where they are comfortable, especially in a small community hospital setting.

Granted, an ambulatory care facility will require staffing, but not the same numbers as are currently employed by the hospital. To Glen Cove, economically, this translates to fewer staff members frequenting our restaurants or ordering take-out, and fewer out-of-town staff running in to patronize, for example, our grocery stores, dry cleaners and hardware stores which are conveniently located near their workplace. Physicians may have to re-locate their practices so they can more easily pop back and forth between their office and their new hospital. This, too, affects the local economy and may lead to empty office spaces in Glen Cove. Unfortunately, not all patients will follow their physicians, because proximity of care is important to a lot of people, and they may change to physicians who aren't even part of the NSLIJ system. If doctors, staff, and services move away, and if our businesses lose customers, then the ramifications to Glen Cove's economy and our tax base will be tremendous.

I believe having a hospital in our community adds to our property values, as well. When I promote Glen Cove, I speak of the services available to our residents, the parks, the beaches, the concerts, the golf course - and, I typically add, we have a hospital right here.

When Glen Cove Hospital was brought into the NSUH system approximately 20 years ago, City residents expected an even more full-service hospital; never was it expected that the City could actually lose access to nearby inpatient care. In fact, I doubt the acquisition would ever have been supported if there had been any doubts about the longevity of the facility. My understanding is that the ER is to remain, but who is going to pay for every patient who needs admission to be transported? Health insurance companies are already over-burdened. Will the ER be staffed to manage unstable critical patients who need an ICU-type setting while managing all of the other emergencies? Have studies been performed to determine casualty rates of transported critical care patients? I, myself, have been admitted direct from this ER to the ICU upstairs - I can't imagine being transported in the condition I was in, and possibly having my specialty care delayed.

I hope the extremely dedicated auxiliary department is not going to be disbanded. My son recently started volunteering at the hospital, and I was told that this was not just a summer job, but that they expected a long-term commitment. I'm asking the NSLIJ system to show its commitment to Glen Cove now.

I kindly urge you to re-consider your decision and allow Glen Cove to retain the full-service hospital that, on many different levels, the City has come to rely on.

Sincerely, Dr. Eve Lupenko

In Response

To the Editor,

After reading Councilman Spinello's letter regarding the Glen Cove Mansion and all of the misinformation contained in it, I find it necessary to respond. It is hard to believe that Mr. Spinello was at the same meeting as the rest of us, considering the nonsense he puts forth in his letter.

As the head of the company that manages the Glen Cove Mansion, I can assure you and the residents of the City of Glen Cove, that the action taken by Mayor Suozzi and Council Members Tenke, DiLeo and Famiglietti, ABSOLUTELY DID SAVE THE MANSION.

What Mr. Spinello and other detractors fail to realize is that the value of that property is in the land and in what can be developed there. Prior to this re-zoning, the Mansion had the right, without City Council approval, to tear down the existing buildings and build 50 single family homes. Absent the implementation of the Estate Preserve Floating Zone, the property could have been, and WOULD HAVE BEEN, developed into 50 single-family homes covering that entire property.

The Estate Preserve Floating Zone has been a critical component of the City of Glen Cove's Master Plan which was adopted in 2010. The Master Plan was developed by a task force of more than 30 Glen Cove community members - including business and community leaders, lay people, professionals, school and clergy members, city attorneys and planning and zoning board members. Their efforts created the first comprehensive Master Plan for the City of Glen Cove in more than 55 years. Mr. Spinello fails to mention this fact whatsoever.

It is only because of the Estate Preserve Floating Zone that the Glen Cove Mansion will continue to stand. Furthermore, City residents can be assured that it will continue to stand, since a crucial part of the zoning that Mayor Suozzi adopted included a Preservation Plan - that must be recorded in the County Clerk's office - which GUARANTEES that the Glen Cove Mansion cannot be demolished to make way for additional development.

Mr. Spinello's convenient omission of this fact, along with the fact that the property's tax generation will nearly DOUBLE from this project, reveals an underlying political motivation that has nothing to do with his contrived concern for preserving the City of Glen Cove's historic treasures.

*Respectfully,
Dennis Langley
Co-President*

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
While at the Sea Cliff Civic Association's Teen Serenade this week, I met a friend who had just finished a novel she said was based on a Hans Christian Anderson fairy tale, but definitely meant for adult readers. During these lazy, hazy days of August, I am captivated by its title: SNOW CHILD. Have you read it? Lover of Summer and Snow,

Dear Lover of Summer and Snow,
I really enjoyed the Teen Serenade- what talented young musicians we have here in Sea Cliff! Yes, I have read THE SNOW CHILD by Eowyn Ivey - actually during the height of our recent heat wave and found it a refreshing and unusual novel. Set in Alaska in the 1920's, the book opens with Mabel, a transplanted Virginian trying unsuccessfully to drown herself in the icy waters near her homestead. Her husband Jack and she are despondent as they face another winter with little food, friendship, or fuel. The death of an infant child years before continues to haunt them. Into this grim story wanders a small sprite of a child who seems at first to be seen only by them but over time becomes a vital part of the small, struggling farm community. The harsh beauty of the land is as much a character in the book as Faina, their snow child. What is magic, what is real - these are the questions that haunt the reader long after the story has ended. A lovely, lovely book!

North Shore Schools, Glen Head, N.Y., August 7, 2013—This summer, dedicated North Shore students and alumni participating in the LI Studies (LIS) Program continued construction inside of the new Victorian TV and Recording Studio located at the front entrance of the North Shore High School campus under the direction of Technology teacher Bruce Fichtman. Student workers included Eric Borchert, AJ Cavaliere, Ken Daly, Bryan Goetz, Rob Lerch, Andrew Poddoubnyi, and Emmanuel Varveris.

Mr. Fichtman said, "I was so impressed this summer by the students' work ethic and eagerness to make the building look absolutely perfect. In the heat of the summer, students diligently worked on a number of projects including:

- Finished installation of all sheetrock and insulation
- Taped and spackled all the sheetrock seams
- Began priming interior walls with paint
- Installed wooden jambs in interior openings
- Installed a concrete (mud) floor in the foyer and bathroom (supervised by Ernie Di Vincenzo, former Board of Ed. President)
- Installed subway white wall tiles in the bathroom
- Installed a mosaic pattern of floor tiles in the foyer and bathroom
- Began assembling duct work for geothermal cooling and heating system
- Stained and polyurethaned interior doors of building

The tremendous task of building the Victorian TV and Recording Studio began in 2008. It is a collaboration among volunteer community members and North Shore students in the LI Studies (LIS) Program, just one of five interdisciplinary humanities courses offered to seniors at North Shore High School. It is the first building at the North Shore School District that will be heated and cooled using geothermal energy. Several school districts have visited North Shore to observe senior programs which have been recognized as Programs of Excellence by the New York State Council of Teachers of English. This project is funded by generous grants from the Viking Foundation.

Mr. Fichtman added, "During the years of construction, we have been fortunate to have the supervision and insight provided by residents of the district who are experts of their respective trades. Our community members have worked alongside our kids and have been fantastic mentors and teachers. It has been a lifelong learning experience for all involved in the building of the studio."

In the upcoming school year, the focus will continue to be on the interior construction of the building with projects including: installation of the geothermal heating and cooling system, painting of all interior ceilings and walls, installation of countertops and wooden floor in the studio, hallways, editing room and control rooms, and wainscoting of the studio, foyer and hallways. The estimated time of completion is for the 2014-15 school year.
