

Glen Cove Police Department Appoint Two New Positions

by Christa Pascucci

Tuesday's City Council meeting was one of resolution and re-growth with the appointment of two City of Glen Cove Police Officers who are being promoted to new positions effective immediately. Police Officer Sonny Baffone has been promoted to the position of Sergeant, while Police Officer Patrick Wright will have the distinct honor of filling the shoes of the late Lieutenant Rod Bruschini. Before the Glen Cove City Council voted to approve these two new positions, each council person spoke warmly in regards to their appreciation for all of the valiant efforts of The Glen Cove Police Department as a whole, as well as their appreciation for their conduct during the sudden passing of late Lieutenant Rod Bruschini.

Congratulations Samantha Smith

Samantha Smith, a Junior at Glen Cove High School and daughter of G. Edward and Elizabeth Smith RN of Glen Cove, was invited to attend this year's New York State Student Music Association (NYSSMA) All-State Conference. Her acceptance into this conference was based on her perfect score received on her All-State NYSSMA audition. Also taken into consideration, was her past record of acceptances into All-County, her involvement in musical ensembles outside of GCHS, such as the Nassau-Suffolk Ensemble, and letters of recommendation from her music teachers in school.

Officer on 09-11-2006. Over his 7 years here, Sony has been awarded 6 Departmental Commendations. In 2012 he and three other officers administered CPR to a man who suffered cardiac failure saving the person's life. In that same year he and another officer investigated a violent argument in which a handgun was displayed. The Officers located the defendant and conducted a felony car stop and recovered a loaded 357 revolver.

Officer Bifone was selected as a Police Field Training Officer, Bicycle Officer, PRIDE Officer, and was trained to use the traffic enforcement car (which was equipped with the plate reading technology). Officer Bifone is also very active in the Glen Cove Youth Board, where he volunteers his time going to various schools giving lectures on Bullying and Cyber Bullying. Officer Bifone is married to Faith and has two daughters, Olivia and Juliette.

Patrick Wright

Born and raised in Glen Cove Patrick attended St. Patrick's School; later graduated St. John's University where he majored in Finance. Graduated the NYPD Police Academy in 1985 and was assigned to the NYC Transit Police, working in Queens for three (3) years before joining Glen Cove P.D. in 1988. It wasn't long after joining the Department that Officer Wright had the opportunity to display his bravery and dedication to his community as he was directly responsible for saving lives as he and another Officer ran into a burning house on Phillips Rd. and pulled both occupants to safety. In October of 1995 Officer Wright discovered a 15 year old youth clinging to a ladder at the end of the jetty at Morgans Park. With heavy waters and cold conditions Officer Wright made his way out to the end of the jetty and from there coordinated the rescue effort and stayed with the youth, who was frightened and succumbing to hypothermia. Officer Wright stayed with the youth for over an hour before both were rescued by the Nassau Marine Bureau. Officer Wright was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in 2008. Over the course of his 26 years here, has been awarded 27 Departmental Commendations.

He served on the PBA Board for 19 years in the positions of Treasurer, Recording Secretary and he was the First

First Vice President for six years. He is currently the Officer in charge of all Departmental impounds. He is married to Maria and has two (2) children, Brendan and Brian and is very active in coaching youth sports teams in his off hours.

Chief Whitton said, "I have every confidence these promotions will continue the level of excellence that our Police Department delivers to the community. "These Officers have the experience and dedication to get the job done. I welcome them to their new respective roles and wish them great success."

CSEA Agreement

In other issues on the agenda during Tuesday's meeting, it was announced that Mayor Spinello and the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) have come to an agreement on the Voluntary Separation Incentive payout. According to the Mayor, the separation incentive will only be available to members of the CSEA who were hired during or prior to 2004. All those interested in the payout must apply for it by February 14th, 2014. Furthermore, those who do in fact choose the payout must retire or separate from their jobs before March 2014. As stated by Lawyer John Charon, if every member who was eligible for the payout option decided to take it, the payout will be recouped during this calendar year. Payout participants will be offered up to 20% of their salary based on the amount of years spent on the job, with a maximum payout of $20,000. The City Council unanimously approved the resolution to authorize the Voluntary Separation Incentive.

Students Honored

In other news, this past Tuesday's City Council meeting started on a great note with three Glen Cove High School students leading the meeting's audience in the Pledge Of Allegiance before being presented with citations from Mayor Reggie Spinello. These three students, Brandon Aviles, Cory Dinkins, and Elijah Ambles earned their citations by shoveling snow in their neighborhoods free of charge for elderly and disabled individuals during the major snow storm that graced us with its presence just a few weeks ago. The students were honored with a round of applause and a pin to go along with their citation commemorating their efforts.

The next Glen Cove City Council Meeting will be held on February 11th at 7:30.

Miss Smith was at the conference from December 5 to December 7, 2013. The concert was performed on the evening of December 7th at the renowned Eastman Kodak Theatre in Rochester, NY.

Animal Lovers League Free Spay-Neuter Clinic

The Animal Lovers League is participating in World Spay Day by offering a free feral cat spay-neuter clinic on February 23, 2014.

The time of year when free-roaming (feral) cats will be breeding and giving birth to litters of kittens is imminent. Altering these cats beforehand not only prevents the birth of unwanted homeless kittens, but also removes the annoyance, noise and smell of cats fighting and spraying urine to mark their territory.

All the cats brought to the clinic will also be vaccinated against rabies and other major diseases. Also eligible for the clinic are the pet cats of those with limited financial resources. Educational information about the need for spay-neuter programs in communities, and what is involved, is available at the shelter in both English and Spanish for teachers who are interested in introducing the subject to their students.

For reservations and information, please call the shelter at 516-676-5913 or e-mail luvpets03@aol.com.

Saving GC Hospital

To The Editor,

Over the past few months, several members of the medical community have mounted a little publicized campaign to preserve Glen Cove Hospital. Assemblyman Charles Lavine and Senator Carl Marcellino have introduced legislation in Albany to prevent NSLIJ from “downsizing” GCH, initially by moving the world-renowned Orthopedic program to Syosset Hospital. This will set off a chain of events that many of us fear may ultimately lead to the closure of the Hospital entirely. A renowned legal firm has been procured that is willing to assist us in obtaining an injunction to prevent the NSLIJ from moving the Orthopedic program from GCH, until the legislative process has a chance to unfold.

Unfortunately, the community has no “war chest” but certainly there is an understanding that legal costs are inevitable. It is our understanding that obtaining the injunction ASAP will be essential since NSLIJ has plans to end traditional surgical services at GCH on January 31st.

Many local physicians have already generously donated to the legal fund. No denominations are considered too small but it is quite possible that legal costs may exceed $100,000.

Checks should be made out to Davidoff Hutcher & Citron LLP with “On behalf of Dr. Holm-Andersen” written in the memo section and sent to:
Davidoff Hutcher & Citron LLP

Garden City, NY 11530

Why does the North Shore-LIJ Health System want to downsize Glen Cove Hospital?

1. US News and World Report just voted Glen Cove Hospital 31st out of 248 hospitals in New York State: “Glen Cove Hospital is a general medical and surgical hospital in Glen Cove, NY. It performed nearly at the level of nationally ranked U.S. News Best Hospitals in 2 adult specialties: Geriatrics and Orthopedics. It scored high in patient safety, demonstrating commitment to reducing accidents and medical mistakes. Glen Cove Hospital has 265 beds. The hospital had 9,490 admissions in the latest year for which data are available. It performed 2,041 annual inpatient and 3,861 outpatient surgeries. Its emergency room had 21,565 visits.”

2. Glen Cove scores amongst the highest in the North Shore-LIJ system in Patient Satisfaction and Quality of Care Measurements.

3. Glen Cove Hospital earned over $600,000 in 2012 and is financially sound. The “new” hospital model has not been tested in the New York region, and there is no evidence that it will be fiscally viable.

4. Glen Cove Hospital was established over 90 years ago because there was a need in this GEOGRAPHICALLY-ISOLATED community for a full service hospital. The population of the community has increased substantially over time. There are many excellent nursing homes and assisted living facilities in the Glen Cove community because of the presence of the hospital.

5. The inability to admit patients to a hospital in the community may lead to physician migration away from Glen Cove and would dissuade new, young physicians from relocating to the area.

6. Glen Cove has a renowned rehabilitation unit and an only months-old traumatic brain injury center. The world-class Orthopedics department is without parallel on Long Island.

7. 700 workers will be immediately displaced from the community. This will have a devastating effect to the local economy.

8. The main reason that there are plans to downsize Glen Cove Hospital is of course, financial. Because Syosset Hospital is licensed under the North Shore Manhasset charter, the Health System has the ability to bill insurers at a significantly higher rate for the IDENTICAL SERVICES currently being performed more economically at Glen Cove Hospital. Similarly, the Psychiatry and Rehabilitative services can yield higher reimbursement levels elsewhere.

9. These changes will reduce the quality of care and INCREASE the health care costs across Long Island!

Finley Middle School Robotics Students Make a Strong Showing

VEX Robotics competitions are presented by the Robotics Education and Competition Foundation and are considered the ultimate STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) activities for middle and high school students. Each year, an engineering challenge is presented in the form of a game. Students, with guidance from their teachers and mentors, use the VEX Robotics Design System to build innovative robots designed to score the most points possible in qualification matches, elimination matches and skills challenges. In addition to having a great time and building amazing robots, students learn many academic and life skills through their participation in the competition and their work within the team.

The team has been invited to participate in the Southern New York State Championships next month.

Glen Cove HS Girls Basketball Coach Gets Win No. 400

Exactly one month after junior Taylah Hudson became Glen Cove High School's all-time leading scorer in girls basketball, head coach Greg Mayerhofer achieved a personal milestone by winning his 400th career game.

Coach Mayerhofer secured the victory against Valley Stream South High School, 57-34, and the following day, before tipping off against Locust Valley High School, the team presented him with a special game ball, signed by every one of his players. Later in the day, the girls rewarded their coach with his 401st victory.

Although new to Glen Cove this year, Coach "Mayo," as he is affectionately known by his players, is in his 26th season coaching girls basketball. He began his career at Maria Regina High School before taking the reins at Floral Park High School from 1984-2008, where he guided the team to four county championships in 1988, 2007, 2008 and 2009 and two Long Island championships in 2008 and 2009. He has also served as an assistant coach in Massapequa and Levittown and runs an extensive summer basketball clinic.

Coach Mayerhofer has quickly become a hero in Glen Cove, as he is building momentum for the girls basketball program along with assistant coach

George Ingram. "The student-athletes on his team know that he loves that game as much as he cares about each and every student-athlete in the program," said Denise Kiernan, the district's director of physical education, health and athletics. "We are very fortunate to have Coach Mayo here at Glen Cove High School and appreciate his efforts in making this program one of the best in the county."

Taylah broke the team's all-time scoring record with her 828th point vs. Floral Park High School back in December.

North Shore Schools Kindergarten
Registration Begins for the Kindergarten Class of 2014-2015

In September 2014, your child will enter Kindergarten and start an exciting journey. The first step into school is one of the passages in life that marks the beginning of new experiences and relationships. It begins an educational experience that will serve as a foundation for their future.

During the Kindergarten Registration Week and Orientation Week, you will learn more about North Shore Schools and the Kindergarten program. First you must complete a registration process that provides assurance of your residency in the North Shore School District and the necessary demographic information on your child. Parents enrolling their child(ren) in non-public (private and parochial) schools must also prove residency and meet eligibility requirements in order to qualify for transportation.

The first step in this process is to complete a residency packet. You may obtain this packet in person at the main office at any of the three elementary schools including Sea Cliff Elementary School, Glen Head Elementary School or Glenwood Landing Elementary School. Upon completing the required documents, please call Mrs. Katherine Miller, Registrar for the North Shore Schools, at 277-7824 to schedule an appointment to review your completed documents. Appointments will be available beginning January 13, 2014. This meeting should take no more than ten or fifteen minutes. At this meeting you will receive a second packet of information pertaining to the second step in the process, which is to register your child at the appropriate elementary school.

Please note the following registration dates for the Elementary Schools:

Glen Head School
Monday, March 10th through Friday, March 21st

Glenwood Landing School
Monday, March 17th through Friday, March 21st

Sea Cliff School
Monday, March 24th through Friday, March 28th

The third step in preparation for Kindergarten will be orientation. Your school will contact you with the dates and details regarding the orientation program during which you will have an opportunity to become better acquainted with the school, the principal and some of the people who your child will work with beginning in September 2013.

Superintendent Dr. Edward Melnick and everyone at the North Shore School District warmly welcomes you and your family. The next thirteen years will be ones of fulfillment and growth.

Lone Survivor

A movie review by Katherine Kranz

2014 (wide release)

Runtime: 121 min

Rated R (Grisly war violence and pervasive language)

Stars: Mark Wahlberg, Ben Foster, Taylor Kitsch, Emile Hirsch

In the ambitious attempts to put forth the next "Saving Private Ryan," filmmakers often fall into the trap of creating faux inspiration and tragedy by including elements they feel obligated to. These clichés come abundantly, usually sans substance, and become the subject of mockery in movies like 2008's "Tropic Thunder." The scene of a doomed soldier requesting that his comrade tell his beloved how much she meant to him, for instance, has been done countless times both earnestly and in jest. The effect is typically lost through repetition. It is when the actor's face contorts with grief, the strength in his voice starts to fracture, and his eyes redden before the camera that the full weight of the scene is felt by the audience. This is what was understood by all who stand behind "Lone Survivor," the most powerful entry of its genre in recent times.

Based on the novel by the lone survivor himself Marcus Luttrell the story recounts the failed reconnaissance mission Operation Red Wings, during which four Navy SEALs were given the task of trailing Taliban head Ahmad Shah in the midst of the war in Afghanistan. Moral conflicts arise when civilians are involved, which turns out to be only the start of their troubles. The team is soon surrounded, forcing each of them to endure unimaginable suffering both for the hope of their own survival as well as each other's.

Mark Wahlberg portrays Luttrell, demonstrating a remarkable range of emotion as well as his physical aptitude. His confidence morphs to determination, to desperation, to grieving vulnerability. At his side is Matt Axelson played by Ben Foster, who continues to prove he is one of the most valuable actors working today. Also on the team is Michael Murphy (Taylor Kitsch) and Danny Dietz (Emile Hirsch, who has collaborated with Foster before on "Alpha Dog").

Such a harrowing movie experience comes from a most unexpected source, as it has been directed and penned by Peter Berg. His last feature "Battleship," which also starred Kitsch, was visually impressive though hollow and lifeless, much like a corpse at the hands of a skilled mortician. He begins with footage of the demanding training SEALs must go through. This is a crucial moment, ensuring the audience knows just how resilient and resolute these characters are. Berg shows surprising restraint in his direction. Silence plays a key role in amplifying the tension of the situation. He is unflinching in the display of war violence and death. The merciless pain of a bullet wound, the deafening blast of a rifle, and the sharpness of a final breath are captured in stark rawness.

Berg's screenplay contains dialogue that reinforces the bond these men share. They are not just warriors fighting for their country but, as they say, "brothers." While Wahlberg may be top billed, each actor shares the spotlight equally. Wahlberg, Kitsch, Hirsch and Foster are all given ample material to showcase their talent and dedication to the script. They've each gone through actual SEAL training in preparation, and it shows in the war-hardened characters they have created.

A movie of this magnitude is quite rare; one that is both mentally and physically taxing on the viewer. Berg and his team have succeeded in evoking genuine heart wrenching sorrow and exhausting distress from their audience as well as hope and pride. This is a top quality tribute to the courageous men who refused to die without pushing themselves farther than most could fathom. "Lone Survivor" is what every red blooded American needs to see, and afterwards reflect on how fortunate they are to have soldiers like these watching out for them.

Kiwanis Helps Combat Pediatric Lyme Disease

North Shore Kiwanis held its meeting on January 23 with the express purpose of learning how to help combat Pediatric Lyme Disease (PLD). NYS Kiwanis Chairman DPG John Gridley, who 10 years ago made it his mission to help many children who contract this disease, spoke about the many complications, trials and tribulations and tremendous expense many families undergo when afflicted.

Immediate treatment is of utmost importance and complications may arise causing fatalities to about 200,000 to 300,000 cases a year. A graphic DVD was presented showing what the Miller family and son Robin experienced. The update on Robin was unfortunate because he recently passed away. Each year, NYS Kiwanis expends $140,000 helping to combat and treat PLD.

The fight against PLD is ongoing and funds are sorely needed. 99% of donations go to children, 1% to administration. Donations may be sent to DPG John Gridley, PO Box 20153, Floral Park NY. ## THANK YOU

I would like to begin with complimenting and giving a big “thank you” to our Public Works personnel. They did an outstanding job in clearing the snow during each of the two snowstorms we’ve experienced this month. I would also like to thank all our first responders for always being at the ready—and thank you to Nassau County OEM, the Nassau County CERT volunteers, and the staff at the Glen Cove Senior Center, for their exemplary efforts at our senior center when it was utilized as a warming site during the storm.

ILLEGAL HOUSING

To date, the city has four new cases involving violations to the housing code. Charges were filed in two cases; in one house, the attic was found to be subdivided and contained four beds and in both houses people were living in the cellar. In another case, our code enforcers determined that a storage building behind a commercial property had been subdivided into four apartments.

CONGRATULATIONS

I was honored to administer the oath of office to our Fire Department Chiefs and to our Volunteer EMS officers. On January 20, the City of Glen Cove and Glen Cove School District Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday Celebration Commission held its 30th annual program in honor of Dr. King and in tribute to Nelson Mandela. Sheryl Goodine, the Commission Chairperson, and her committee once again presented an outstanding and inspirational program that included musical selections by our Glen Cove High School Chorale, the First Baptist Church Mass Choir, and the High School drumline.

MEETINGS

I am finalizing the date and time for each of two meetings to be held in City Hall’s main chambers this February: one meeting will be to provide everyone with an update on the hospital; the other meeting will be to provide an update on the waterfront redevelopment. Please check our city website at www.glencove-li.us and the local media for the date and time of each.

FIOS

My office has received telephone calls and e-mails regarding whether or not FIOS will be coming to Glen Cove. The City Council and I are continuing to work on this and it will be brought to a vote during a February City Council meeting.

STREETLIGHTS

If you notice that a street light is out on any Glen Cove street, please don’t hesitate to call my office at 676-3505. The freezing weather makes it difficult to access underground wires to make repairs, however we are continuing to work on fixing the lights as the weather permits.

International Week at Glen Head School

International Passport: The Glen Head Getaway

North Shore Schools, Glen Head - To celebrate and learn all about the different customs and traditions recognized in various countries around the world, Glen Head School held International Week in the Gathering Room. Passports, titled International Passport: Glen Head Getaway, were utilized to take the children through an international scavenger hunt of the different countries including: France, China, Greece, Italy, Ireland, India, Korea, Poland, the United States and Great Britain - just to name a few!

Principal Nimmo said, "The passports contained three questions differentiated by grade level as well as a number of categories including: country of origin, language, customary traditions, traditional clothing, and food. Additionally, they told students how to say hello in the language of a particular country!"

Ornate display boards were placed on tables around the Gathering Room depicting countries from around the world. Beautiful visuals were placed on each display board featuring the flag, food, and customary clothing from within that respective country. Upon receipt of their passports, Glen Head students excitedly went to the different boards to try to answer questions about the various countries. Mrs. Nimmo added, "The passports enhanced our children's understanding of each country as they took part in an educational experience through this exciting adventure."

Please ask your children all about International Week at Glen Head School and what they learned about the different countries from around the world!

Glen Head Students Get Immersed in Submerge Storytelling

North Shore Schools, Glen Head - In January 2014, Mr. Cory Levine and his staff at Submerge Storytelling visited Glen Head School to immerse second and third graders in an exciting multi-sensory, hands-on storytelling experience consistent with the English Language Arts Curriculum and Common Core.

Mr. Levine said, "Submerge Storytelling..."

Entertains children by facilitating a physical and metaphysical environment where children can lose themselves in their imagination.

Teaches and assesses critical thinking and problem-solving strategies through a pragmatic educational curriculum. Teaches important life skills and values through text-to-self literary connections. Employs interactive learning strategies to foster a sense of individuality, camaraderie, and community."

At Glen Head, the Submerge staff transformed a classroom into "The Realm," an entertaining story setting which enables the students to walk directly into the plot. From the moment the children walked into the realm, you could see the excitement on their faces as they glanced at the array of stuffed animals, candy, and toys...making the story become real!

After the children listened to an original story by Mr. Levine titled, Billy Bilford Bobo, The Handsome Boogie Man, they were asked to examine the story elements, collect evidence, and draw conclusions about the characters, plot, and conflict. Specifically, the students became "Boogiemens Detectives" with two main objectives:

Analyze the characters (e.g., Bobo, Pokey, Snarky, Girl Bunny, and Spooky) Uncover the conflict in the story (e.g., Bobo is shy and afraid that the kids won't like him) In addition, the Glen Head students utilized interdisciplinary skills to draw a picture including three details and thought bubbles to help Bobo solve his conflict. As the children created their drawings, they were able to make inferences and connections to the story, personalize the elements, and further bring the plot to life - all integral parts of the ELA curriculum.

Mr. Levine concluded by saying, "Submerge Storytelling challenges children with complex tasks that build the same higher-order and critical thinking skills necessary to succeed in today's classrooms. Also, as the curriculum evolves, the children study the complexities of character to uncover important themes such as integrity, morality, work ethic, respect, and trust. This combination of academia and values will help turn children into productive members of society."

Many thanks to School-wide Enrichment Teacher Janet Goldberg and second grade teacher Allison Loring for bringing this exciting pilot program to Glen Head School. The Submerge Storytelling staff visited Jericho School District and North Shore Day Camp prior to Glen Head. Mr. Levine, CEO/Head Writer of Submerge Storytelling, is a teacher for the New York Department of Education. For more information, please go to www.submergestorytelling.com.

Name the Celebrity

“Child of Manhattan” (1933), starring Nancy Carroll, John Boles and a seventeen year old Betty Grable. She was the definitive incarnation of the endearing nurse “Peggotty” to Freddie Bartholomew’s “David Copperfield” (1935) and played Greta Garbo’s loyal maid, “Nanine” in “Camille” (1936).

Correct Callers

Callers who knew our celebrity were: Don Adams, Tony Mercado, Will and Babs Hutchins, Mario Moccia, Joseph Saepia, Roberta Pezza, Ted March, Nancy Shane.

This week’s celebrity was born in Gloucester, Mass. on Nov.5, 1864. She was a sailor’s daughter, who first came to the stage at the age of 16, performing with a stock company in either Boston or Providence, Rhode Island (data differs). The year was 1880, and it took our celebrity another 26 years to make her debut on the Great White Way in “The Kreutzer Sonata”. Already a seasoned actress, she enjoyed third billing. Her screen career started with one and two-reelers, as early as 1915, but her proper entry into Hollywood did not come about until 1933. For more than 20 years, our plump, down to earth celebrity made her reputation as a character actress on Broadway playing an assortment of nurses, maids and aunts. She was used in musicals by George M. Cohan and acted in Shakespearean roles, from “Twelfth Night” to “Romeo and Juliet”. She was nurse to Jane Cowl’s “Juliet” in 1923 which ran for unprecedented 174 performances and co-starred Katharine Cornell. Like other successful actresses of the stage, she was brought to Hollywood to reprise a Broadway hit role, in this case her “Aunt Minnie” in

Near or far, we are a community of young and old, multi ethnicities, different languages, and various strengths and weaknesses. Therefore, it is our communal obligation to care for one another, to check in on our neighbors, and lend a hand to strangers. At one time or another, we have or will need the help of another person, and there is no shame in asking. We at the Glen Cove Senior Center recognize that we all sometimes need help and more often are able to help. With this in mind, the Center offers a plethora of activities and programs; there is literally something for everyone. And, we have now added another program. On Thursday January 23rd, we kicked off a Low Vision Support Group led by Sea Cliff’s own Karen Montagnese of Mutual Concerns. It meets the fourth Thursday of each month at 10:45am, so if you are interested in this group (space is limited) or would like more information about any of our many programs, give us a call at 759-9610 or stop by the Center at 130 Glen Street in Glen Cove between 9:00 and 4:45. We look forward to meeting you.

THE NASSAU COUNTY TREASURER

Mineola, New York
TERMS OF SALE

Such tax liens shall be sold subject to any and all superior tax liens of sovereignties and other municipalities and to all claims of record which the County may have thereon and subject to the provisions of the Federal and State Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Acts. However, such tax liens shall have priority over the County's Differential Interest Lien, representing the excess, if any, of the interest and penalty borne at the maximum rate over the interest and penalty borne at the rate at which the lien is purchased.

The Purchaser acknowledges that the tax lien(s) sold pursuant to these Terms of Sale may be subject to pending bankruptcy proceedings and/or may become subject to such proceedings which may be commenced during the period in which a tax lien is held by a successful bidder or the assignee of same, which may modify a Purchaser's rights with respect to the lien(s) and the property securing same. Such bankruptcy proceedings shall not affect the validity of the tax lien. In addition to being subject to pending bankruptcy proceedings and/or the Federal and State Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Acts, said purchaser's right of foreclosure may be affected by the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act (FIRREA), 12 U.S.C. ss 1811 et seq., with regard to real property under Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) receivership.

The County Treasurer reserves the right, without further notice and at any time, to withdraw from sale any of the parcels of land or premises herein listed. The Nassau County Treasurer reserves the right to intervene in any bankruptcy case/litigation where the property affected by the tax liens sold by the Treasurer is part of the bankruptcy estate. However, it is the sole responsibility of all tax lien purchasers to protect their legal interests in any bankruptcy case affecting their purchased tax lien, including but not limited to the filing of a proof of claim on their behalf, covering their investment in said tax lien. The Nassau County Treasurer and Nassau County and its agencies, assumes no responsibility for any legal representation of any tax lien purchaser in any legal proceeding including but not limited to a bankruptcy case where the purchased tax lien is at risk.

The rate of interest and penalty at which any person purchases the tax lien shall be established by his bid. Each purchaser, immediately after the sale thereof, shall pay to the County Treasurer ten per cent of the amount for which the tax liens have been sold and the remaining ninety per cent within thirty days after such sale. If the purchaser at the tax sale shall fail to pay the remaining ninety per cent within ten days after he has been notified by the County Treasurer that the certificates of sale are ready for delivery, then all amounts deposited with the County Treasurer including but not limited to the ten per cent theretofore paid by him shall, without further notice or demand, be irrevocably forfeited by the purchaser and shall be retained by the County Treasurer as liquidated damages and the agreement to purchase shall be of no further effect.

Time is of the essence in this sale. This sale is held pursuant to the Nassau County Administrative Code and interested parties are referred to such Code for additional information as to terms of the sale, rights of purchasers, maximum rates of interest and other legal incidents of the sale.

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
 With this unrelenting cold weather, I find myself staying home night after night- even the lure of dinner at the Metro Bistro or K.C. Gallagher's is not enough to get me outdoors. Do you have a good book I can read while in this self-imposed isolation?
 Shivering in Sea Cliff

Dear Shivering,
 Yes, the cold bleakness of January and early February can wear one down, but you are so right- a good book can make most things bearable. E.L. Doctorow's ANDREW'S BRAIN might be just what you need to get your mind off the cold. Andrew is a cognitive scientist who thinks a lot about... well, thinking. Andrew and an unnamed man- probably a psychiatrist- discuss Andrew's life past, present, and future; it soon becomes clear that Andrew has brought death and disaster to all who have come in contact with him, whether they be spouses, children, neighbors, or friends - a Typhoid Mary of the psyche. But is this true? Can we believe Andrew or as he says "just thinking about something changes it" so can anyone be a reliable witness to one's own life? This slim (189 pages) novel touches on many topics- the Bush presidency, post 9/11 America, the secret life of ants, and Mark Twain's writings- to name just a few. This is a difficult but worthwhile book, containing many surprises that left this reader more puzzled than pleased.

Landing School Plants Messages and a Symbol of Peace

To honor the memory of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., students and staff at Landing Elementary School in Glen Cove gathered on the school's front lawn for the planting of a "Peace Tree." Students wrote down on paper their thoughts for peace and how they can help make peace grow. Each student completed the sentence, "Peace grows by..." (adding their own ideas for peace).

As students dropped their messages into the hole dug for the tree, each shoveled a little dirt over the paper. Once each class dropped their paper into the hole, the maple Peace Tree was planted, in hopes that all of their wishes, hopes, and ideas for peace will grow through the roots of the tree. The tree will serve as a constant and ongoing reminder of Dr. King's legacy and that peace can begin with the children.

Landing Principal Dimitri Kryoneris donated the Peace Tree. Prior to the planting, a brief schoolwide assembly was held in which each grade level gave a presentation about peace. Fifth-grade teacher David Smith presided over the assembly and gave some brief trivia about Dr. King, including how his original name was Michael and that both he and his father renamed themselves after reformist Martin Luther. Another interesting fact: Martin Luther King, Jr. began attending Morehouse College at the early age of 15.

Landing students created symbols of peace for their MLK celebration.

Landing students planted messages of peace on the school's grounds along with a Peace Tree.
