Officials Say Glen Cove Hospital Will Remain Open

by Samantha Schwarz

Mayor Reginald Spinello led a meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 12 at Glen Cove City Hall to clarify the fate of North Shore-LIJ Glen Cove Hospital. After months of rumors that the hospital was closing its doors, a panel comprised of officials and physicians came together for an open discussion with the public.

Waterfront Update Meeting Slated For February 19

February 19, City Hall, Main Chamber
Glen Cove Mayor Reginald A. Spinello today announced he has coordinated a "town hall" meeting to be held on February 19, at 7 p.m. in the main chambers of Glen Cove City Hall. The topic for discussion will be the waterfront redevelopment project. Mayor Spinello said, "I invite everyone in our community to attend and participate in the Feb. 19 meeting. Representatives from the waterfront redevelopment team will be on hand to inform us on the status of the project. I urge everyone to come with questions and to be part of the discussions."

Board of Education Honors High School Good Samaritans

The Glen Cove Board of Education commended three young men from Glen Cove High School who have been demonstrating great character in the community through their volunteerism and selfless acts of kindness. Elijah Ambles, Brandon Aviles and Corey Dinkins have been helping people out in the community for years, most recently by shoveling snow for senior citizens, the disabled and others who could benefit from their help. More importantly, they refused to take any compensation for their hard work.

"These boys shoveled driveways for people all the way from the middle school to Carpenter Street...and didn't take any money," said Bonnie Arnett, one of the Glen Cove residents they helped out -

Senator Carl Marcellino addressed the panel, "This meeting should've occurred six months ago, at the beginning of this process." Like many others, he hoped to feel resolved about this matter upon leaving the meeting. (photo by Samantha Schwarz) who is blind. Ms. Arnett was so moved by the gesture, she contacted Glen Cove High School Assistant Principal Allen Hudson to tell him all about the help the boys were providing. Once Mr. Hudson notified Superintendent of Schools Maria L. Rianna, she shared the information with the Board and all agreed that Elijah, Brandon and Corey should be honored.

"They have been doing this for years for free," said Mr. Hudson, who is proud of the example these students are setting for their peers at Glen Cove High School.

Elijah, Brandon and Corey are pictured here receiving certificates of commendation from the Board of Education and Superintendent Rianna, with Mr. Hudson and Ms. Arnett lending their support.

NY State Gives Sea Cliff a Positive Financial Outlook Score

Sea Cliff Mayor Bruce Kennedy was pleased to receive an excellent score from the State Comptroller's Office as it relates to the financial outlook of local governments.

New York State Comptroller Tom DiNapoli has developed a public fiscal stress monitoring system that identifies local governments and school districts that are in fiscal stress, as well as those showing susceptibility to fiscal stress. The data for monitoring system measures are drawn from the information local governments and school districts submit to OSC. The main indicators that are considered in creating a score are year end fund balances, operating deficits/surpluses, cash position, use of short term debt, and fixed costs. A score is calculated for each financial indicator to arrive at an overall score for each local government and school district, which is used to classify whether the unit is in "significant fiscal stress," "moderate fiscal stress," is "susceptible to fiscal stress," or "no designation."

Each calculation is linked to a point-based scoring system and drives an overall financial indicator score with the potential for a total of 29 points. The score is then assigned a level of fiscal stress as follows:

- ≥ 65% - Significant Fiscal Stress
- ≥ 55% - Moderate Fiscal Stress
- ≥ 45% Susceptible to Fiscal Stress

The Office of the State Comptroller notified Mayor Kennedy this week that the Annual Update Document (AUD) for the Village of Sea Cliff indicates that the Village is currently classified as No Designation with a score of 3.3%. While Kennedy was expecting to score well, he was delighted that the comptroller has recognized Sea Cliff as one of the most financially responsible local governments in New York State with a very positive economic outlook.

A review of the comptrollers website showed that both Nassau County and the Town of Oyster Bay scored 62.5%, Glen Cove scored 60%, and the North Shore School District scored 22.5%.

Volunteers Gather 375 Signatures to Nominate McGilloway, Villafane and Reali for Sea Cliff Election

Braving relentless snow storms and bone-chilling temperatures, volunteers gathered 375 signatures on required Nominating Petitions to place three candidates on the upcoming March 18 ballot. Elena Villafane and Kevin McGilloway are seeking positions on the Sea Cliff Board of Trustees and John Reali is seeking his 5th term as Village Justice.

ELENA VILLAFANE served as a Board Trustee from 2003 until 2008 under Mayor Eileen Krieb. KEVIN MCGILLOWAY is a member and past Chair of the Sea Cliff Zoning Board of Appeals. JOHN P. REALI was elected Sea Cliff Village Justice in 1990 and has served for 23 years.

The three candidates, Sea Cliff Mayor, Bruce Kennedy, former Mayors, Claudia Moyne and Eileen Krieb, current Trustees, Carol Vogt and Ed Lieberman, and Executive Committee members: Phil Como, Justin DiPietro, Debra Dumas, Ann Fischer, Alison Frankel, Larry Gordon, Don Kavanagh, Dan Maddock, Mark Wenger, and Cec Wheeler, along with volunteers Joe Mazzeo, Robin Maynard, Peter Hayes, and Doreen Reali gathered the signatures which are required by State Election Law to place candidates on the ballot.

Portledge Student to Compete in World Championship Pee Wee Hockey

Portledge 7th grader Vincent Salgado will travel to Quebec, Canada in February to play goaltender for the Junior Islanders hockey team in the 55th Quebec Pee Wee Hockey Tournament. Salgado joins 17 other elite players to participate against 2,300 young hockey stars from 16 countries in what is considered the most important minor hockey tournament in the world. Salgado began skating at age 4 and playing hockey on the house league at the Iceland Rink near his home in New Hyde Park at eight and has since played on a variety of Long Island teams, including the Ice Cats and the Gulls.

Now Salgado is skating under Frank Barker, current assistant and goalie coach of the Junior Islanders Hockey team, with amazing results. He credits Barker with building both his physical and mental skills, and says he feels, "transformed." His experience speaks to the importance of good coaching in building character. If it were not for Frank Barker, "my mentor," he says, he would not be at Portledge, where he feels supported academically and on the ice, with a flexible schedule that allows him to pursue his dream. The Portledge Middle School program emphasizes character development through trying, learning from mistakes, and trying again in all pursuits: academic, artistic, athletic and social action. It is a philosophy that resonates with Vincent, who says simply, "I need to push if I want to succeed."

On the eve of playing in the World Pee Wee Championships, which attracts 200,000 fans per year and is responsible for introducing legendary players like Wayne Gretzky, Guy Lafleur and Mario Lemieux, is Salgado nervous? "Inside I get nervous. That's natural. But I'm focusing on now, year by year, game by game, it's all now."

Montesano Co-Sponsors Bill To Protect Glen Cove Hospital

Assemblyman Michael Montesano (R,I,C-Glen Head) is officially co-sponsoring legislation to prevent the elimination of services by Glen Cove Hospital. Assembly bill 8327 is sponsored in the state Senate by Sen. Marcelino and would stop the Commissioner of Health from eliminating beds and services from the hospital unless a public hearing showing that there will be no negative effect on the community-at-large is held.

Montesano has been an outspoken advocate for maintaining services and beds at Glen Cove Hospital, petitioning both Commissioner of Health Nirav P. Shah and the U.S. Department of Justice to stop changes that would cost 1,200 hospital employees their jobs and severely impinge the abilities of the over 50,000 community members who rely on the hospital to receive the treatment and attention they need and deserve. This year's legislation is the next step in preserving jobs and top-notch medical care while also ensuring residents have their voices heard on this serious matter.

"Simply put: Our community needs Glen Cove Hospital," said Montesano. "We must oppose any move by bureaucrats to change the hospital, without public input, into an entity that fails to meet the needs of our residents. Glen Cove Hospital provides important services to this community and we deserve to have a voice in discussing any restructuring of the facility."

"The bill I am co-sponsoring will provide for a public hearing on this matter and would stop the elimination of beds and services at Glen Cove Hospital unless a responsible plan is put forth that meets our community's approval and maintains the high level of medical care and attention Glen Cove residents deserve."

Healthier Options at Deasy School

Thanks to the sustained commitment of the Deasy Elementary School community, the Glen Cove school's Healthy Lifestyles Initiative has received an enormous boost with the addition of lunchroom salad bars. The school will periodically introduce children to new nutritious and delicious lunchtime meals.

Deasy's inaugural salad bar meal was a smash hit, where students enjoyed lettuce, corn, chick peas, tomatoes, peppers, mushrooms and cheese...with a little pita.

Four Chaplains Ceremony

On Sunday, February 2nd the Nassau County American Legion held its annual Four Chaplains Ceremony at St. Mary's Church in Roslyn. The Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Reverend John McCartney welcomed everyone. This annual event traces the history of the sinking of the transport ship the Dorchester on February 3, 1943. What made this day so special in history was the fact that the Four Chaplains gave up their life jackets so four soldiers on the ship could live. The Four Chaplains went down with the ship holding hands and singing hymns. This is the first time in history that this event was held at St.

Mary's Church. The church was near full capacity with an audience of approximately 250 people. Ralph Casey the Nassau County American Legion Chaplain coordinated the program. The National Anthem was sung by Ryan Torino and Taps were played by Dylan Smith. The choir from St. Mary's Church sang a number of patriotic songs, including the Navy Hymn with the assistance of organist Paula Berardinelli. The Nassau County American Legion Commander Angelo Grande presented the colors. The following Boy Scouts from Troop #195 acted the part of the survivors: Eric

Busse, Joseph Doyle, Andy Vogel and Jack Vogel. The Leader of Troop #195 is Scott Rudegeair. The story of the Four Chaplains was read by Chaplain Ralph Casey. Ralph Epstein, the son of the late Ben Epstein conducted a slide presentation about the sinking of the Dorchester. The late Ben Epstein was the last survivor of the Dorchester. He passed away last year. The clergy from three religious denominations were in attendance. The clergy read the biographies of the Four Chaplains. The Reverend John McCartney, Pastor of St. Mary's Church read the biography of Father John Washington, Rabbi Janet Liss, from the North Country Temple read the biography of Rabbi Alexander Goode, the Reverend Robert Romero, Pastor of St. Boniface Church read the biography of the Reverend George Fox and Dr. Kimberly Watkins of the United Methodist Church read the biography of the Reverend Clark Poling.

These four men who gave up their lives to save others were true heroes, in doing this they have achieved immortality. Their actions have created an enduring example of faith, courage, selflessness and sacrificial love.

MS 8th Graders Study Antibiotics Most Effective in Inhibiting E. Coli and B. Cereus Bacteria

North Shore Schools, Glen Head, NY - Students in Maryalice Kelly's 8th grade "Disease" class recently conducted a lab using the Kirby-Bauer method to determine which antibiotic is most effective on E. coli and B.cereus bacteria.

Mrs. Kelly said, "This technique is used in hospitals and medical labs to help doctors prescribe the most effective antibiotic to their patients with bacterial infections." She added, "The antibiotics that we examined were: Gentamicin, Penicillin, Streptomycin and Ampicillin."

Under Mrs. Kelly's direction, her students learned that Antibiotic Susceptibility Testing (AST) is carried out to determine which antibiotic will be most successful in treating a bacterial infection. Small wafers containing antibiotics were placed onto an agar plate where bacteria were growing. She said, "If the bacteria are sensitive to the antibiotic, a clear ring, or zone of inhibition, is seen around the wafer indicating poor growth. The size of the ring is measured."

The disc that has the largest "inhibition ring" will be declared as the most effective in killing the bacteria. Mrs. Kelly concluded by saying, "My students discovered that Streptomycin worked best on inhibiting the growth of B.cereus and Ampicillin worked best in inhibiting the E. coli."

Nassau County American Legion Commander Speaks at the Locust Valley Rotary Club

At a recent meeting of the Rotary Club at the Locust Valley Inn, Angelo Grande the Nassau County Commander of the American Legion made a presentation about the role of the Nassau County American Legion. The main purpose of the Legion is to help the returning Vets and their families by providing medical, educational and job opportunities. The American Legion also helps the community by providing scholarship, sending boys to Boys State, providing funds to the needy in time of emergencies and conducting Oratorical Contests on the American Constitution. The Commander has three projects this year: The Vet Dog Program provides guide dogs to returning Vets from service overseas. The Locust Valley Rotary made a $1,300 donation to benefit the Vet Dog Program. The second program for the year is the Flags Over Nassau program. This program gives citations to businesses who fly a distinctive American Flag over their property. The third program establishes new Legion Posts at colleges and universities in Nassau County.

NS Kiwanis Selects January Student Of The Month

NS Kiwanis honored Meaghan Brennan as January Student of the Month for her outstanding performance and community involvement throughout the entire years she attended North Shore High School. For four years, the high academic average she achieved placed her on the Honor Roll, was a member of the Language Honor Society, Science Honor Society, and in the National Honor Society as a Junior and Senior.

Her athletic abilities led her to reaching the title of Scholar Athlete for each season for three years, became Captain of Field Hockey, Basketball and Lacrosse teams. Meaghan's community service was outstanding as well. Throughout high school she belonged to the Key Club, was a Candy Striper at St. Francis Hospital, Aids Peer Education, in Band, and numerous other activities.

Meaghan's multiple interests and involvements has led her to being an outstanding citizen with a propensity to becoming a role model for others following her example. Congratulations to her and her family.

Summer Fun at the North Shore Boys & Girls Club

Despite the cold and chilly months of winter, the North Shore Boys & Girls Club has started making preparations for our Summer Recreation Program. The North Shore Boys & Girls Club will be offering several full-time camps for seven weeks for youth in grades kindergarten through ninth. Families will have the opportunity to choose between the clubs Seven-Week Recreational Camp, Summer Sports Camp or the Summer Enrichment Program.

Seven-Week Recreational Camp: Campers in grades 4 - 9 will have the opportunity to travel to various locations such as the pool, movies, amusement parks, etc. (depending on enrollment). Campers in grades K-3 will not be traveling, however, they will the experience of various presenters, theme and water days. All campers will have the opportunity of organized activities on days that everyone is at the club!

Summer Sports Program: youth in grade K – 12 will have the opportunity to have clinical training in various sporting activities such as basketball, lacrosse, baseball, etc.

Summer Enrichment Program: youth in grades K – 12 will have the opportunity to choose between various classes ranging from academic to recreational.

Information and applications for all Camps and Programs will be available online and at the North Shore Boys & Girls Club. Due to limited space and availability, parents are encouraged to register as soon as possible. Children must be North Shore Boys & Girls Club members in order to participate in any club activities or programs. The completion of a membership application by a parent or guardian is all that is required to join. There is an annual membership fee of $25 for all new members and the member fee is valid until December 31st, 2015.

SAFE Hosts Parenting Workshops to Empower Parents

Most parents want to parent well but have not been given the necessary skills or support to do so. Parents have well founded fears in regard to the decisions their children will make when they become teenagers on issues such as: alcohol and drug use, underage drinking and driving, teen pregnancy, and depression, which continue to remain at high levels nationally.

Fortunately, parental influence remains one of the strongest factors on influencing a child's decision. Since 2003, Substance Abuse Free Environment (SAFE), Inc. has provided Evidence-Based parent workshops in Spanish and English 1x a week, over an eight week span to empower parents in becoming effective agents of change for their families and the community.

"The Program is funded and supported by a grant through the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse that aims to equip parents with practical and updated techniques that will make their families run more smoothly, and increase their confidence in parenting" says Dr. Sharon E. Harris, Executive Director of SAFE, Inc. "It combines video workbook activities and discussion to help parents raise responsible, cooperative children who are able to resist negative peer pressure and successfully achieve developmental milestones. Parents also learn valuable communication and character building skills that will help them through the challenging teen years. The program also provides parents with positive, non-violent discipline techniques and effective coping skills."

Laurent Caballero, SAFE's Bilingual Outreach Worker and Coalition's

Parent Committee Chair has facilitated these workshops throughout the district. "Through the program, I have seen parents from the Spanish speaking community develop more knowledge & skills, become more active in the Glen Cove community, and gain the confidence they need to take home and parent their children," said Caballero.

Parenting workshops will be made available in the spring '14 in both English and in Spanish.

Name the Celebrity

leading man in a movie. In 1939 (when he became a US Citizen) they married; she became his 4th wife. He was married a total of 5 times! Busy man!! P.S. I remember him as having a thin moustache!

Correct Callers

Callers who knew our celebrity were: Don Adams, Tony Mercado, Will and Babs Hutchins, Mario Moccia, Joseph Saepia, Roberta Pezza, Ted March, Nancy Shane.

Thank you, Mrs. Black

This week's celebrity was born in Santa Ana, California on May 1, 1947. She may be considered a child actress who didn't stay in the film industry very long. She appeared briefly as an infant in "Payment on Demand" (1951) with Barry Sullivan, Bette Davis and Frances Dee. She also had a minor role as the next door neighbor's daughter in Robert Aldrich's cult psychological thriller "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane" (1962) starring Joan Crawford and Bette Davis. The film was nominated for five Academy Awards, winning for Best Costume in Black & White. That was during the period of time that there was a separate Oscar for Costume in B & W and Color. Nowadays, our celebrity is an author and born-again Christian and the head of her own ministry and pastor of her own church in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Last week's Celebrity

Last week's celebrity is best summed up by loyal Gazette reader Tony Mercado who said, This weeks celebrity was George Brent. He was Bette Davis's favorite leading man. He made 11 films with her. They supposedly had a torrid affair, when they started filming together! He became more popular when actress Ruth Chatterton choose him to be her

This column would be remiss if it did not stop and give tribute to one of the finest American citizens that graced our silver screen. As you may know by now, Shirley Temple Black passed away Feb. 10th, surrounded by her family, after decades of service to our country. Whether you considered her a fine actress or not, is not important. She even saved a major movie studio, Fox Studios, from bankruptcy. It was because of Shirley's popularity in 1934, that caused Darryl F. Zanuck, of Twentieth Century Studios, to express an interest in a merger. Thus, Twentieth Century-Fox Studios was born. That may not be important to some, either. What is important is that she loved her country as a loving wife, mother, grandmother, diplomat under Presidents Regan and Bush #41's administrations, advocate for breast cancer research and for millions and millions of Americans, her beautiful smile, charm, and dimpled cheeks carried them through one of the darkest times in America's history, the Great Depression of the 1930s. Thank you, Mrs. Black, for all your grace. There are not too many like you today. America will miss you.

New Programs for Preschoolers at Gold Coast Public Library

Introduce your preschooler to Spanish this Spring at the Gold Coast Public Library. Spanish for Preschoolers is an immersion program for children who are ages 3-5, but not yet in Kindergarten. Your child will learn numbers, colors, shapes, food and the alphabet through music, movement and stories. A six-week session begins Friday, March 7. Does your child have trouble sitting still or have special needs? Bring them to the library for Sensory Storytime, a fun, interactive program for children ages 2 1/2 to 5 years that will excite and fascinate your child. Each week features a different theme. An eight-week session begins Thursday, March 13.

Are you unable to attend library program with your preschooler during the day? Come to the library for Tots' Night Out, an interactive one-hour evening program designed especially for working families and their children ages 18 months to 5 years. Join us Tuesday, March 4 and Thursday, April 17. Registration is required for all children's programs, and begins on Thursday, Feb. 20 at 11am for Gold Coast Public Library residents and Thursday, Feb. 27 for non-residents. Register in-person at the library, 50 Railroad Ave. Glen Head, or by calling 516-759-8300. Online registration at www.goldcoastlibrary.org begins Thursday, Feb. 27.

Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club January Youth of the Month

GCGBC Visit Peter Max Exhibit at NCMA with GCAC

A visit was organized by the Glen Cove Arts Council for youth from the Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club to the Peter Max exhibit at the Nassau County Museum of Art.

The docent led the children through galleries to see the many colorful paintings and gave a little of the background and history of the life of the artist. The children, some who had been before to other exhibits with GCAC, had many questions and observations. The docent pointed out paintings by Peter Max of several famous people whom the children didn't recognize, they did however recognize paintings of the Statue of Liberty. At the end of the tour each child was given a copy of a drawing of the Museum by Peter Max with his signature characters, planets and stars, to take home to color in their own style.

GCAC is a 501c3 charity which exposes youth to the arts, such as visits to museums and theater, who may otherwise not have the opportunities. In addition GCAC has offered scholarships in art classes to talented youth and recently donated $500 to help underwrite expenses for some students from the Glen Cove High School Select Choral to go to Washington DC to sing at the White House.

For further information or to help support the mission of GCAC contact founder and president Victoria Crosby at GCartsCouncil@aol.com or PO Box 27 Glen Cove NY 11542.

TERMS OF SALE

Such tax liens shall be sold subject to any and all superior tax liens of sovereignties and other municipalities and to all claims of record which the County may have thereon and subject to the provisions of the Federal and State Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Acts.

However, such tax liens shall have priority over the County's Differential Interest Lien, representing the excess, if any, of the interest and penalty borne at the maximum rate over the interest and penalty borne at the rate at which the lien is purchased.

The Purchaser acknowledges that the tax lien(s) sold pursuant to these Terms of Sale may be subject to pending bankruptcy proceedings and/or may become subject to such proceedings which may be commenced during the period in which a tax lien is held by a successful bidder or the assignee of same, which may modify a Purchaser's rights with respect to the lien(s) and the property securing same. Such bankruptcy proceedings shall not affect the validity of the tax lien. In addition to being subject to pending bankruptcy proceedings and/or the Federal and State Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Acts, said purchaser's right of foreclosure may be affected by the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement Act(FIRREA),12 U.S.C. ss 1811 et.seq., with regard to real property under Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation(FDIC) receivership.

The County Treasurer reserves the right, without further notice and at any time, to withdraw from sale any of the parcels of land or premises herein listed. The Nassau County Treasurer reserves the right to intervene in any bankruptcy case/litigation where the property affected by the tax liens sold by the Treasurer is part of the bankruptcy estate. However, it is the sole responsibility of all tax lien purchasers to protect their legal interests in any bankruptcy case affecting their purchased tax lien, including but not limited to the filing of a proof of claim on their behalf, covering their investment in said tax lien. The Nassau County Treasurer and Nassau County and its agencies, assumes no responsibility for any legal representation of any tax lien purchaser in any legal proceeding including but not limited to a bankruptcy case where the purchased tax lien is at risk.

The rate of interest and penalty at which any person purchases the tax lien shall be established by his bid. Each purchaser, immediately after the sale thereof, shall pay to the County Treasurer ten per cent of the amount for which the tax liens have been sold and the remaining ninety per cent within thirty days after such sale. If the purchaser at the tax sale shall fail to pay the remaining ninety per cent within ten days after he has been notified by the County Treasurer that the certificates of sale are ready for delivery, then all amounts deposited with the County Treasurer including but not limited to the ten per cent theretofore paid by him shall, without further notice or demand, be irrevocably forfeited by the purchaser and shall be retained by the County Treasurer as liquidated damages and the agreement to purchase shall be of no further effect.

Time is of the essence in this sale. This sale is held pursuant to the Nassau County Administrative Code and interested parties are referred to such Code for additional information as to terms of the sale, rights of purchasers, maximum rates of interest and other legal incidents of the sale.

This list includes only tax liens on real estate located in the Town of Oyster Bay, City of Glen Cove. Such other tax liens on real estate are advertised as follows:

Glen Cove Hospital

Dr. Eric Hochberg, a local physician, echoed the sentiments of many in attendance when he stated his confusion surrounding the matter. He referenced a recent statistic released by US News & World Report that placed Glen Cove Hospital in the top 15 percent of New York State hospitals. However, just six months ago, it was announced that the hospital would eliminate inpatient services.

Senior Vice President of Strategy and Business Informatics of North Shore-LIJ Jeff Kraut spoke about the residents' role in the recent struggles. According to him, the last three years have seen more change in healthcare than over the last 10 to 20 years collectively. He attributes these changes to the Affordable Care Act and rapidly advancing technology, among others. In 2012, only 30 percent of residents were treated at the hospital, which is geographically closest to them. Kraut claims that although some of this statistic is due to the need for treatments that are not offered at the hospital, approximately half of all residents seek treatment elsewhere. There has been a 13 percent decline in the number of patients within the last five years and a 29 percent decline in the last 10 years. "This is not unique to Glen Cove," Kraut said, referencing the 400 empty beds in hospitals across Nassau County.

A proposal has been made to keep Glen Cove running as a full-service hospital in the future. Many audience members questioned the definition of "full-service". "It will provide every possible service the community needs," Jeff Kraut said.

Vice President Solazzo admitted that the exact services provided by the hospital have yet to be determined. However, he did note that the operating rooms are to remain in use.

Advocate for the mayor and city Richard Garber said, "As a community and as your advocate, I think we really need to drill down and understand what the services will be and how many jobs we'll keep."

Solazzo defended the hospital's efforts during this period of confusion and chaos. "Nobody has lost jobs in any of this transition." In fact, the administration hopes to expand its 600 employees once the proposed new services are implemented in the future.

Although residents would like to see the hospital bring back many of its former services, Dr. George Dunn of North Shore Family Practice said, "We're not looking to be something we can't do well." Specifically, audience members requested the return of a pediatric unit. Dunn feels that certain care should be left to specialty hospitals. There are no plans to redevelop a pediatric program at this time.

Senator Carl Marcellino was also in attendance. He seemed to concur with an overwhelming number of residents. "This meeting should've occurred six months ago, at the beginning of this process," he said. Like many others, he hoped to feel resolved about this matter upon leaving the meeting. "You're giving us your commitment that Glen Cove Hospital will stay open."

The panel agreed that another meeting is likely to take place to update the public on any new developments. Dr. Dunn emphasized that in order for the hospital to thrive, its administration must work together with the community. "We're going to have to learn, but you're not going to have to go a distance for primary and secondary care."

"Pre-Arrange" doesn't have to mean "Pre-Pay"

A Tradition & Trust Funeral Pre-Arrangement will save your family the stress of making funeral preparations in a time of grief. At the Whitting Funeral Home, you can make pre-arrangements at no up front cost today. Of course, by making payment now, you have the benefit of establishing an FDIC-insured account -- one bearing an interest rate that has historically offset subsequent inflation. However, we won't let present financial restrictions interfere with your making sound plans for the future.

Ask one of our funeral professionals about a Tradition & Trust Pre-Arrangement -- where the only requirement is an investment of thought.

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
Valentine's Day is a lovely respite from the snow and cold of February and I plan on celebrating with friends at a local restaurant, but I also would like something good to read this holiday weekend. My friend Jim Doherty mentioned Elmore Leonard as an author I might enjoy. Any thoughts?
 Be My Valentine

Dear Valentine,
 I had never read any Elmore Leonard until recently and I do think you might find him a good choice. Known as the Dickens of Detroit for his colorful characters and conversational flavor, Leonard has written over thirty novels, many that have been made into movies and television series ("Get Shorty", "Justified", "Out of Sight" among others). His early books were Westerns but later he concentrated on contemporary Detroit and its surroundings- always with desperate but decent heroes who show little respect for the conventional mores of law and order. PAGAN BABIES is a favorite of mine. It opens with Father Terry Dunn hearing the confessions of his parishioners in modern day Rwanda. Soon however Terry and the reader are back on the streets of Detroit with aging mobsters, fugitive felons, attractive ex-convicts, bumbling assassins, all in pursuit of the American dream or at least a great deal of cash. Everyone has a secret, everyone has a mission- and Leonard brings them all together in a humorous- at times poignant- fast-moving conclusion. Happy birthday this week to Joseph Anzalone, Shannon Doherty, Victor Ambrose, and Lousie Voccoli- readers who always find time for a good book!

North Shore BOE Trustees Will Work to Cut Initial 2014-15 Budget to Remain Under Cap

Superintendent Dr. Edward Melnick Presented Preliminary 2014-15 Budget

On January 16th at the BOE/Town meeting, Superintendent Dr. Edward Melnick presented the Initial 2014-15 for the North Shore School District.

2014-15 BOE Budget Goals

- As part of the budget goals, Superintendent Melnick made the following clear:
- Trustees and administration would maintain a budget that is responsive to current economic pressure and remains within the permissible tax levy limit
 - Resources in the budget would be reallocated to fund initiatives aligned with our district vision and mission (e.g. IB Program and World Language Program)
 - We would work collaboratively with the community in the preparation of the budget

Preliminary Budget Numbers

Dr. Melnick explained that the Preliminary 2014-15 proposal is $97,101,191 (this is an initial draft). To remain within the allowable tax levy limit, Trustees in the months ahead will still need to cut an additional $933,166 (approximately) from this proposal, resulting in a final budget of $96,168,075. Please visit www.northshoreschools.org under the Board of Education section to see Dr. Melnick's complete initial budget presentation and the minutes from this meeting.

We encourage you to stay informed about the school budget for our students, schools, and our community. If you are a resident and would like to receive emails from the NS Schools, please send your email address to Superintendent Dr. Edward Melnick atmelnicke@northshoreschools.org or stop into the Central Office (112 Franklin Avenue in Sea Cliff). Additionally, you can subscribe to receive district emails at the top of the school website at www.northshoreschools.org. If you have questions, please contact contactnsboe@northshoreschools.org.

Please join us at upcoming BOE meetings on the following dates in the High School Library at 7:30 p.m. (unless noted otherwise): 2/13 (Budget Review), 3/6 (Budget Review), 3/20 (Budget Refinement and 4/3 (Budget Adoption in the HS Cafeteria). Meet the Candidates Night is Tuesday, April 24, in the HS Cafeteria. The BOE/Town Meeting/Budget Reading is on May 8. Voter Registration is Saturday, May 10 in the HS Lobby, 10 a.m. 3 p.m.). The Budget/Tax Levy Vote and Election of Trustees is on Tuesday, 5/20 in the North Shore High School Gym from 7 a.m.-10 p.m. Public participation is encouraged at our North Shore Board of Education meetings!

Sea Cliff School Participates in Olympic Week!

North Shore Schools, Glen Head, NY - To coincide with the 2014 Winter Olympics in Sochi, students in all of the Physical Education classes at Sea Cliff School under the leadership of teachers Eileen O'Connor and Craig DeNicola classes participated in a fun week of exciting Olympic games and learning!

Ms. O'Connor said, "Our students not only competed but learned facts about Russia and the various events at the Winter Olympics!" Some of the facts that the students learned included: What do the Olympic rings symbolize?, Where was the first Olympics held (which country)? What countries participate? (e.g., respective flags were posted in the gym), What is the meaning of the Olympic flame? How do the Olympians march in during the Opening Ceremony versus the Closing Ceremony? What are the three Olympic medals made of?

During the week of January 27th-30th, students at Sea Cliff learned the skills of various Olympic events including: hockey, speed skating, downhill skiing, and even luge! They also watched footage of athletes competing in previous Olympic games. But that's not all! The Sea Cliff students were reminded of the importance of dedication, practice, teamwork, sportsmanship, and camaraderie. In addition, they learned that the Olympics have traditionally been one of the most popular events uniting people around the world as athletes (from numerous countries) compete through sports without any kind of social, economic, political, or cultural unfairness.

This February as you begin watching the 2014 Winter Olympics, please don't forget to ask your children about their experience during Olympic Week at Sea Cliff School!

Students at Sea Cliff Elementary school not only got to watch the Olympics on TV, but participated in an Olympic Week at their school under the leadership of teachers Eileen O'Connor and Craig DeNicola. Article and photos by Shelly Newman
