Glen Cove on the Move and Rising: Demolition Signals Construction of Panera Bread and Piazza

The demolition of a former restaurant, considered for many years to be an eyesore in Glen Cove's downtown business district, signaled the first phase in the construction of the Glen Cove Piazza. On June 19, 2014, Mayor Reginald Spinello joined Jobco Realty and Construction President Michael Puntillo for the first "crack" that will bring down the eyesore and launch the building of a free-standing Panera Bread eatery. Panera Bread will have a drive-through component. This October is the anticipated completion date.

Mayor Reginald Spinello said, "Glen Cove is on the move and rising. This is the first phase of a smart growth development project in our downtown that will bring residents and shoppers to our City's traditional business district. The entry of a franchise such as Panera Bread sends a positive signal to the retail community that Glen Cove is moving forward with its plans to make Glen Cove a destination location. The project also includes an enhanced village square for public events such as outdoor con-

Police Warn- Lock Your Car

Glen Cove and its surrounding communities (Glen head, Sea Cliff) are experiencing a large rise in car larcenies. Glen Cove has had 11 of these larcenies in June alone, Sea Cliff and Glen Head have also experienced a large rise in these car larcenies with Sea Cliff experiencing 8 of these car larcenies in one night (Thursday night, June 26th)

According to Glen Cove Det. Lt. John Nagle, In every one of the car larcenies reported in Glen Cove they all have one thing in common, every car was left unlocked! There are preventative steps that every car owner can do to minimize this type of theft. According to Detective Lieutenant John Nagle, "most of these crimes are crimes of opportunity" that can be prevented by taking some preventative steps. The most important thing to do is to lock your car doors. Don't leave valuable in your vehicle, especially when they can be seen from outside the vehicle. By leaving valuables such as: GPS systems, cell phones, MP3 players, brief cases, gym bags, and money, you are just inviting a thief to break into your car. During the overnight hours, Try to park under a street lamp if you don't have a driveway, motion lights are a great tool for homeowners to scare off thieves. If you have a street light out on your block call the Glen Cove Mayor's Office at 676-2004, They will get the street light fixed ASAP. If you see something unusual in your neighborhood call the police (676-1000). Anonymous tips can be made to the Glen Cove police Department at tips@cityofglencoveny.org

C&J Gas Station Celebrates 40 Years

C & J service station, was opened by an eager mechanic named Joseph Basile when he was 21-years-old, on may 20, 1974 at 297 Glen Street in Glen Cove and in May he celebrated 40 years of successful service to the community.

Over the years Joe's the auto shop has employed many local residents including those in their teenage years that became local police officers as well very successful business owners.

Joe is know to always be very honest and generous. He has helped people all over the community for years and is know to keep cars running for years and years.

The atmosphere around the shop is always fun and often draws a crowd of local residents and friends. "Busting chops" and laughs are in abundance.

Joe is always quick with the newest joke. Joe's boys are also now prominent business owners in the area, Brian is the founder and owner of "Strong Island Styles" on Forest Avenue and Frankie is an owner of "Downtown Cafe" on School Street.

Pictured, during a recent council meeting, Mayor Reginald A. Spinello and the Glen Cove City Council congratulated Joe Basile ("Joe Gas") of C&J Gas Station on a successful 40 years in business. Joe's family, employees and friends joined him in City Hall to mark this important milestone in his career.

Sunset Serenade Concerts Begin!!

By Rosanne Washington

The first concert of the season, organized by the Sea Cliff Civic Association, featured Larry Martone & Friends. Right on cue, a soft breeze gently cooled the gathering crowd, the sun began its gradual descent and the band played great tunes from the archives of Simon & Garfunkel, Procol Harum, The Moody Blues and other classic groups! This free musical banquet held at Memorial Park, (where Sea Cliff Avenue & Prospect Avenue intersect) with a breathtaking view of the Long Island Sound, was the perfect ending to a glorious summer day. Waves of kids danced while parents relaxed with their picnic dinners on the lawn, enjoying the harmonic & melodious songs arranged by Larry Martone. Larry, along with his brother and bass guitarist Gunnar have teamed their musical talents since high school and have played professionally since then. Special guest, Lesley Pryde-Haley, a professional opera singer, wowed the crowd with her magnificent voice! Flautist Alana Destefano, soloist Emily Martone, both Sea Cliff natives and guitarist Jimmy Witowski, also joined the Martone brothers helping to make the first Sunset Serenade Concert a truly memorable evening!!

Don't miss the local group "The Lazy Dogs", performing Thursday, July 3th at the next Sunset Serenade concert. Bring blankets and beach chairs for a great evening of music from 7pm - 9pm.

Mayor's Column

From the Desk of Mayor Reginald Spinello

Congratulations Glen Cove High School Class of 2014!

Operation Neighborhood Pride In conjunction with our Police Department, we have launched "Operation Neighborhood Pride," a listening tour of our City. After mapping out a plan of action with Chief Whitton, Deputy Chief MacDonald, and Lieutenant Ortiz, we outlined a plan and started this project two weeks ago. We intend to visit every neighborhood in Glen Cove because there is no better way to get information about what's going on in an area than to ask the people who live there. We chose the Landing as our starting point because of recent events and we are looking forward to hearing from all our residents regarding quality of life concerns that may exist in their area.

Voluntary Separation Incentive Payment (VSIP): We realized a significant benefit to the operating budget when we implemented the Voluntary Separation Incentive Payment program this past January. Based on this success, and at the request of several City employees, we are reinstating the incentive package. The VSIP allows the City to reward employees for their years of service while simultaneously creating new opportunities for current employees to move up. The plan creates savings in payroll and benefits costs since by replacing employees with new ones it is at a lesser rate of pay and at a lower cost in benefits and pensions. The first round of VSIP is estimated to have saved Glen Cove taxpayers $300,000.

Crescent Beach: On June 24, 2014, the City Council voted to approve an amendment to a local law that will assist us in identifying septic systems that may be compromised and to rectify any violations of the City's sanitary code. The amended legislation will help us with the opening of Crescent Beach and to improve the overall water quality of Long Island Sound. It will also help us to locate any septic system which the City does not have a record of so that it can be properly maintained. The law requires residents have their septic systems pumped out regularly, and to provide proof of the procedure to our Building Department. Homeowners must have their systems inspected every two years, and file the inspection report with the building department. The law takes effect January 1, 2015.

Fourth of July: Our City's Fourth of July events begin with the children's bicycle parade at 10 a.m. from the Finley Middle School horseshoe to Village Square. Children are urged to decorate their "wheels" in a patriotic theme. All children must have adult supervision and all bicyclists must wear a helmet. At Village Square our children will be offered cookies and refreshments by the Glen Cove Youth Bureau. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a concert in Morgan Memorial Park by the Northwinds Symphonic Band for all to enjoy and it will be followed by fireworks under the direction of Grucci, Inc. Let's celebrate our nation's 238th birthday together. Have fun and be safe everyone.

Sgt. Maj. Dan Daly Events; I would like to thank the US Marines and the Quantico Marine Corps Band, Barbara Harcourt and her family, Superintendent of Schools Maria Rianna, the school district's director of facilities Joe Fiorino and his staff, GCHS lacrosse Coach Steve Tripp, Hugh and Maggie Tanchuk, A+ Signs, our police, EMS volunteers, auxiliary police, and a special thank you to our fire department for the wonderful surprise of the ladder arch displaying the American Flag. Our City takes great pride in being the birthplace of Sgt. Major Dan Daly, a US Marines legend and two-time Medal of Honor recipient.

certs, holiday celebrations, and special occasions. I am pleased to see that the demolition is being performed by North Shore Contracting, a local business owned by Ted Dubicki."

The Piazza is a mixed-use development consisting of 110 apartments and 30,000 square feet of retail/commercial space of which approximately 12,000 square feet will be dedicated to the City of Glen Cove for community events in its Village Square. The Piazza project will create an estimated 200 construction jobs and 50 permanent jobs.

Congrats To Marissa A. Bowe

Marissa A. Bowe of Glen Head was named to the Dean's List at LIM College for the Spring 2014 semester. To be placed on the Dean's List, students must earn a grade point average between 3.50 and 3.79.

Downtown Business Improvement District Continues Landscaping Projects

Glen Cove, NY- The Glen Cove Downtown Business Improvement District has been working for the past several years to transform neglected spots in downtown into colorful mixes of flowers and shrubs. Areas near the parking garages, the walkways to parking, and the Bridge St. bus stops have benefited from a mix of annual and perennial plants, blooming forsythia and other bushes, and new street furnishings.

With the volunteer planning of the Capital Improvements Committee and the expert efforts of Cabo Landscaping, the Downtown BID has embarked upon a more extensive maintenance program for the green spaces in downtown, including continuing plantings, mulching and other weed control, and continuous pruning and clean-up. More streetscape improvements are in the planning stages.

For information on the Glen Cove Downtown Business Improvement District, its programs and projects, visit our website at www.glencovedowntown.org, or contact the office at: (516) 759-6970 or info@glencovedowntown.org.

Portledge Holds 39th Commencement Ceremonies - Guest Speaker Christine Todd Whitman

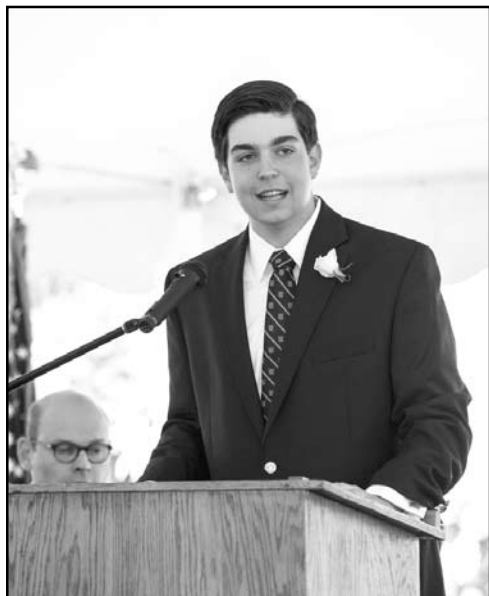

Portledge School hosted its 39th Commencement Exercises on Friday, June 13th, 2014 under rain filled skies. Festivities began with the traditional bagpipe processional performed by the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

The Portledge Board of Trustees, led by President Richard Kirikian, honored members of the Class of 2014 who will graduate into some of the top schools in the country like Columbia, Yale, Tulane, the University of Michigan and Wesleyan University.

Music was provided by the Upper School Concert Band, under the direction of Patricia Baehr and the Upper School Chorus led by William Peek. Graduating senior John Porter Collett led the assembly in America the Beautiful.

The torrential rain made for some lighter moments for Head of School Simon Owen-Williams who at times had to shout to be heard over the rain pelting the graduation tent. The irony was not lost on him as he explained to students that they would inevitably face moments of adversity in life.

Special guest speaker and former New Jersey Governor Christine Todd Whitman addressed the "makers and changers of the next fifty years" directly, and focused her remarks on practical questions the graduates would need to ask themselves going forward. Her wise, plain spoken style was well-suited to Portledge where lofty platitudes often give way to practical experience. Governor Whitman told the students for example, "If you don't make mistakes you're not really trying." She stressed the importance of challenging oneself, learning from others, and taking risks, echoing the Portledge motto "Explore Create Excel," because as she aptly pointed out, "Graduation is called graduation and not completion because we are not celebrating what you have accomplished but what you will accomplish."

Upper School Division Head Harry Grzelewski addressed his students with affection reminding them that enthusiasm and passion are not interchangeable despite how they are so often used today. He told graduates that we do not see passion – only the product of passion – and unlike enthusiasm, passion is a key ingredient to greatness and should be cultivated.

As is the Portledge tradition, the Arts Scholars and Cum Laude members were recognized and the following awards were presented to faculty and members of the graduating class:

The '76 Award, named for the first senior class to graduate from Portledge and is given each year by the tenth reunion class to the teacher who is remembered as having the greatest impact on the members of the class. This year's recipient was Upper School English Department Head and Community Liaison Holly Schuessler.

The David W. Hoyler Faculty Award is presented to a member of the Portledge School faculty for outstanding dedication to students and exemplary commitment to teaching within and beyond the classroom. This year's recipient was Music Department Head Patricia Baehr.

Both Mrs. Baehr and Mrs. Schuessler expressed a love for their profession and a deep affection for the students they teach.

The Slanetz Award goes to that member of the senior class whose academic record shows the highest level of achievement throughout his or her sophomore, junior and senior years at Portledge, given in the hope that these scholars will apply their intellectual ability to improvement of the human condition and for the well-being of others. This year's recipient was Alexander Meshel of Roslyn.

The Portledge Bowl is presented to "that senior who best exemplifies the character and values Portledge holds in the highest esteem." Jake Levy of Glen Head received this year's award.

The Bliss Award is presented to the member of the graduating class who displays extraordinary commitment, enthusiasm for the creative process, and appreciation for the craftsmanship needed to excel in the visual or performing arts. This year the two recipients were Carley Tsiames of Massapequa for visual arts and Helen Karabatos of Syosset for performing arts.*

Speaking for the graduating class were Alexander Meshel of Roslyn and Carley Tsiames of Massapequa. They expressed gratitude for the capacity to "lead, act as a member of a team, and solve complex problems," that Portledge instilled in them and reminded fellow graduates that Portledge will always be home.

With that, diplomas were presented, and the sun appeared as if welcoming these promising graduates into the next chapter of their lives.

Salutatorian: Hans Ring

Hans Ring has always challenged himself with the most demanding honors and AP courses. His ability to analyze and synthesize material and articulate it effectively has helped him achieve the second highest academic ranking in the Class of 2014, yet the rigors of his schedule have not prevented him from being a well-rounded student involved in several extracurricular clubs and interests.

This includes participating in DECA all four years of his high school career as well as Interact Club and Law Club/Mock Trial (as president and chief lawyer of the prosecution team) for three years. Business aptitude, community service and debate skills highlight these areas, respectively. He is also a founding member of the Model UN Club and belongs to the Science Club and Ski Club. With all this on his plate, it's a wonder Hans finds time to play trumpet as a member of the school's award-winning jazz ensemble and marching/pep band. These groups perform locally and regionally as a service to the schools and greater community.

"Hans is intelligent, hardworking and very generous with his time helping others, and is focused on maintaining the same level of academic and personal integrity that has made him successful at GCHS," said his guidance counselor, Francine Perez. "He has truly taken advantage of every opportunity here at GCHS. It's time for him to shine at the next level."

Not only has Hans maintained a high level of community service through participation in these clubs and other activities such as peer tutoring and fundraising, he has also consistently earned awards for academic excellence. These include AP Scholar with Honor status, AP achievement awards in government, English, calculus and U.S. history, as well as awards of excellence in mathematics and computer programming, and achievement in physics. He has also won multiple Student of the Month awards.

In addition, Hans finds time to compete as a member of the GCHS air rifle and golf teams, captaining the rifle team to a Section 8 Conference Championship in 2012 and winning team MVP honors in 2013. He was also a finalist for the coveted Superintendent's Cup this spring as a member of the golf team.

Hans will attend Boston College this fall. He has yet to declare a major. Congratulations Hans!

Class of 2014 Valedictorian: Samantha Di Paola

Samantha Di Paola's leadership qualities have served her well throughout her educational career, and her combination of high intellectual curiosity, desire, discipline and tenacity have propelled her to the highest level of academic achievement: the top-ranked student in the Glen Cove High School Class of 2014.

As a leader involved in several extracurricular activities, Samantha served as president of Student Senate, president of Interact Club and co-president of the Student Athlete Leadership Team (SALT) in 2013-14. She has raised funds, awareness and hope for numerous causes, including the American Cancer Society, Save a Life Foundation, Gift of Life, Adopt a Family, Kick Start for a Cure, and TOPPS Soccer (working with children with disabilities), to name a few. At this year's senior awards ceremony, Samantha was presented with the County Executive's Community Service and Academic Excellence Award.

"Samantha is a rare find," said her counselor, coordinator of pupil personnel services Mike Tweed. "This motivated young lady is armed with unbridled determination and focus. She strives for the greatest challenges and highest hurdles and is truly wise beyond her years."

Academically, Samantha has received numerous awards and accolades, including AP Scholar with Distinction status since her junior year, AP achievement awards in government and statistics, this year's Glen Cove High School Academic Achievement Award, the Bausch and Lomb Junior Science Exemplary Award, and many other honors for excellence dating back to her freshman year in each of the core disciplines, as well as Italian. She has also made the Principal's High Honor Roll list since the ninth grade.

Athletically, Samantha captained both the varsity lacrosse and soccer teams this year, was a U.S. Academic All-American in lacrosse as a junior, achieved All-Conference status for both teams, was named a Scholar/Athlete in

Letters to the Editor

Mayor Thanks To The Editor,

I would like to thank everyone for attending the City of Glen Cove ceremonies held on June 21 in tribute to Sergeant Major Dan Daly. It was indeed a historic and proud day for the United States Marines and everyone in the City of Glen Cove.

It was brought to my attention that our members of the armed forces who served during the Vietnam War were not recognized in the speech at Monument Park. I offer my sincere apologies to our City's Vietnam veterans, and to all Glen Cove's veterans of all wars, for this unintentional oversight. We are proud of, and grateful for, their service to our country.

Sincerely,
Reginald A. Spinello
Mayor

Safe Thanks Dear Editor,

On Saturday June 14, 2014, several hundred Glen Cove residents were able to receive information about local services and programs that promote family health, family unity, and a substance abuse free family environment. The 7th Annual Family Awareness Day Sponsored by SAFE's Glen Cove PRIDE Project Coalition was a tremendous success. Carnival games, prizes, DJ music, food and a spectacular substance abuse prevention program performed by a professional Stunt Cyclist on a beautiful sunny day at Morgan Park was enjoyed by all who attended.

On behalf of SAFE's Glen Cove PRIDE Project Coalition, we wish to thank area businesses, city and local agencies, and volunteers who helped to make this possible: City of Glen Cove Community Development Agency (CDA), Parks and Recreation, City Hall, Emergency Medical Services and Fire Department, the Tobacco Action Coalition of Long Island, Kiwanis Club of Glen Cove, Glen Cove Day Care Center, Chiropractor Maxine Mayreis, Psychotherapist Gabriella Weinberg-Gitlin, GMA Martial Arts, Economic Opportunity Council (EOC), Cove Sports Academy and Nassau County Council of Girl Scouts.

Generous donations from: the Glen Cove Boys & Girls Club, Page One Restaurant, Stop & Shop, Starbucks, St. Rocco's Panetteria, Subway Restaurant, OGI Nails, Alice Christine Salon, Babi Nails Spa, Andros Grill, Gonzalo's American Café, Locust Valley Bagels, Adventureland Amusement Park, Fun Zone, Cold Spring Harbor Fish Hatchery & Aquarium, Long Island Children's Museum, Cradle of Aviation Museum and Target which provided for raffle prizes that promoted family togetherness and community involvement.

Event volunteers including SAFE Board members Georgie Connett, Mary Berhang, Mary Cooper and AnneMarie Gailius. Coalition members Donna Christ, Laurent Cabalero and Reverend Wendler and volunteers Adam Weiner, Roseanne Suozzi, Patti Averopoulos and Kiwanis Key Club Student Jennifer Jessica Benites-Jaco, have remained one of the most dedicated group of people Family Awareness Day has seen yet!

A special thank you to attendees Mayor Reginald Spinello, City Councilman Anthony Gallo, and Lieutenant Christopher Ortiz for all their support & cooperation throughout the year. City Hall's Parks & Recreation department who not only helped with the use of Morgan Park but the department's Director Darcy Belyea and staff José Benitez and Cipriano Yanes graciously assisted with event preparations and set-up, creating a seamless feel to the day's festivities.

SAFE's Glen Cove PRIDE Project Coalition is grateful for the opportunity to educate the community on the risks of substance abuse and to provide prevention materials and healthy alternatives that are available to our children and families. We extend a heart full of gratitude to all that supported us.

Other activities include playing an integral role in decision making at Glen Cove High School as a member of the school's Site Based Committee, peer tutoring, interning for a pediatrician, volunteering at Glen Cove Hospital, and helping out with GCHS productions and concerts as a member of the sound crew.

Samantha attended the National Student Leadership Conference in Medicine and Healthcare and has a strong interest in the medical field. She studied anatomy and physiology through a pre-college program at Brown University, and will attend Georgetown University's pre-med program this fall. Congratulations Samantha!

Samantha Di Paola: Valedictorian

Class of 2014 Honorarian: Andrew Shuck

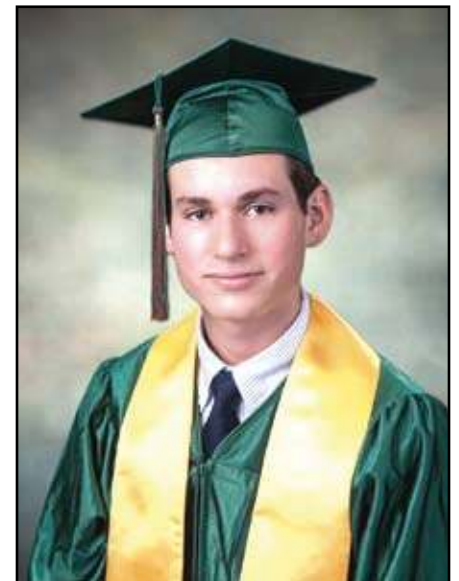

Natural intelligence, balanced academic ability, disciplined work habits, high integrity and congenial personality: these are the traits that Andrew Shuck's guidance counselor uses to describe him. They are what make him likable to faculty and students alike and have led him to become the third highest-ranking student among 248 in the Glen Cove High School Class of 2014.

"I cannot imagine a school environment where Andrew could not excel and thrive," said guidance counselor Margie Tockman. "Whatever he sets out to do, he accomplishes. He has always opted for the hardest classes offered, even though he anticipates a rough road. He'd rather work to do his best than take the easy way out."

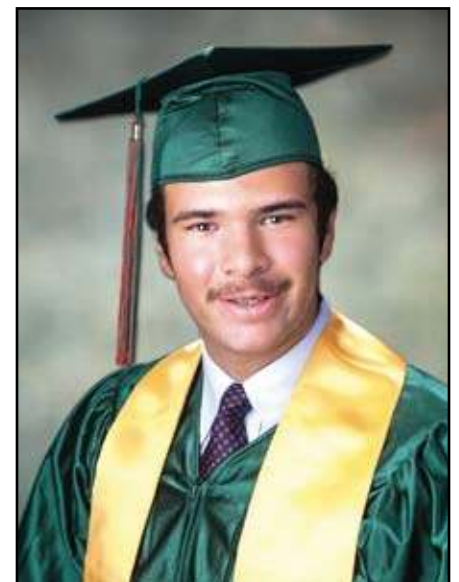

Andrew's strong work ethic can be attributed, in part, to the support and guidance of his parents, both of whom are educators. For the second consecutive year, Andrew has been selected as a National Hispanic Recognition Program Scholar by the College Board. He is also a winner of this year's Excellence in Science Award and a recipient of the New York State Education Department Scholarship Award for Excellence, which was also awarded to the Class of 2014 valedictorian, salutatorian and a handful of fellow high-ranking class members.

Andrew won the New York State Bar Association Award for achievement with the Law Club/Mock Trial this year. He is also an accomplished musician and plays mallet percussion with the school's marching/pep band. In addition, he is involved with the GCHS Masquers Club as a contributor to theater performances performed for the community, for which he won an Outstanding Contributor Award.

Outside of school, Andrew enjoys playing piano and is a celebrated chess player, having competed both nationally and abroad. He is also an active member of the Boy Scouts, works as a camp counselor during the summer, and this year served as "Professor for a Day" at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory.

Prior to learning that Andrew will attend Northeastern University, where he will study biochemical engineering, Ms. Tockman said, "Andrew will succeed academically and make whatever college or university he attends a better place."

Name the Celebrity

Her most recent role was in 1997, when she voiced over the character “Anastasia Hardy”, the businesswoman mother of “Felecia Hardy”, “The Black Cat”, in the animated series “Spider-Man.”

Last Week’s Celebrity

Last week’s celebrity was Sally Rand. Cecil B. DeMille gave her the name Sally Rand, inspired by a Rand-McNally atlas. Inspired by the legendary ballerina, Anna Pavlova and after the introduction of sound film, she became a dancer, known for the ostrich feathers fan dance, which she popularized. She started at the Paramount Club at 15 E. Huron, in Chicago. Her most famous appearance was at the 1933 Chicago’s World’s Fair entitled Century of Progress. She was arrested four times in a single day during the fair due to the perceived indecent exposure after a fan dance performance and while riding a white horse down the streets of Chicago, where nudity was only an illusion. She was arrested again after being body-painted by Max Factor, Sr., with his new make-up formulated for Hollywood films. She also conceived and developed the bubble dance, in part to cope with the wind while performing outdoors. In 1934, she performed in the film “Bolero”, with Carole Lombard and George Raft. The risqué part of this movie was that both Lombard’s and Rand’s roles were as exotic dancers. However, while Rand did her performance “in the raw”, Lombard insisted on a stand-in double. In later years, including the 1970s, Rand continued on the road with stage shows, performing her fan dance. She died Aug. 31, 1979, at the age of 75, from congestive heart failure. She was deeply in debt, according to her adopted son. He told an interviewer that Sammy Davis Jr. stepped in and wrote a $10,000 check to cover her expenses.

Correct Callers

Callers who knew our celebrity were: Roberta Pezza, Will and Babs Hutchins, Mario Moccia, Don Adams.

This week’s celebrity was born Anita Sokol on Aug. 8, 1930 in New York City. She began her acting career appearing as a model in the 1949 film “It’s a Great Feeling” with Dennis Morgan, Doris Day and Jack Carson. She was afforded a wealth of varied screen roles as “slick-chicks” from “Who’s Got the Action” (1962), as “Saturday Knight”, with Dean Martin, Lana Turner and Walter Matthau, as the love-starved switchboard operator in “A Very Special Favor” (1965) with Rock Hudson, Leslie Caron and Charles Boyer to the brassy “Madame Esther” in “Buck and the Preacher” (1972) with Sidney Poitier, Harry Belafonte, Ruby Dee and Cameron Mitchell.

In 1971, our celebrity was cast in the pilot episode of the CBS sitcom “Funny Face” starring actress-comedienne Sandy Duncan. The original premise of the show had Duncan playing “Sandy Stockton”, a young UCLA student from Illinois majoring in education and making ends meet by working part-time as an actress in TV commercials for the Prescott Advertising Agency. Our celebrity played Sandy’s agent “Maggie Prescott”. Shortly after filming the pilot, CBS picked up the program for the fall of 1971, but slightly revised the format. As a result, our celebrity was dropped from the cast.

130 Glen St. Glen Cove - Tel: 516 759-9610

Thursday July 17, 2014 @ 1:00pm

Travel the world through Photography

Opening reception for artist Edwin G. Cadiz. Artistic expression was a way of life in his family. Mosaics he created are still on display at Grant’s Tomb. He was one of several artists chosen to paint “cows” located throughout NY. Some of Mr. Cadiz’s work is in the archives of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Mr. Cadiz’s work reflects his Puerto Rican heritage & NYC upbringing. Photographs from his travels will be on display in the Golden Gallery from 7/17/14 until 8/29/14.

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
 What an exciting weekend awaits us here in Sea Cliff! The Civic Association's Fourth of July celebration on the Village Green at 10am this year will be followed by a parade down Sea Cliff Avenue led by world acclaimed bagpiper Paul Haining. The parade's destination... Sea Cliff's newest park: Lincoln Plaza! Native son Donald Mullen will return in his role as Abraham Lincoln for the Plaza's dedication. Then, of course, there is the Beach Committee's iconic event: the Palozza- all day Saturday there will be music, games, prizes, great food and drink! But when will I get time to read?
 Loving the Red, White, and Blue

McCullough's approach is fascinating. Throughout, he pairs the two George's-King and General- and shows their common humanity. He introduces us to shopkeepers, lawyers, farmers who changed history. He shows how disease, horrific weather- and most of all luck- good and bad- all played crucial roles throughout that tumultuous year. While carefully documented, the book reads like an exciting adventure novel, so much so that we almost forget we know the ending, but no spoiler alerts needed. Happy Fourth and see you at the Village Green!

Dear Loving.....

This is indeed a spectacular weekend ahead and I do have a great book for you to read -David McCullough's 1776, a rousing, fresh look at the year that changed the course of American history.

Landing School Moving-Up Ceremony

This year's Landing School moving-up ceremony was special, as it marked the completion of the first year at the helm for Principal Dimitri Kryoneris. The students and staff celebrated by giving Mr. Kryoneris his own "Dimi-TREE" to plant on the school lawn as a symbol of his strength and perseverance as a leader. As has been a tradition of late, the graduating fifth-graders honored their keynote speaker, retired Glen Cove City Police Sgt. Jack McDougal, with a special gift for his contributions toward mentoring students at the school.
