It was a great day for fishing during the Glen Cove Mayor's Snapper Derby last Saturday at the Prybil Beach pier. The weather was perfect for fishing and 118 children had a wonderful time trying not to let the big one get away. Mayor Reginald Spinello handed out the many raffle prizes that were made possible by generous donors. In addition, great achievements in the day's fishing were acknowledged. They are: Junior Division winners: Anthony DiLeo, first place; Chris Hyman, second place; Angelo Valensisi. Senior Division: Joe Famiglietti, first place; Jason Liquori; Christian Ricciardi, third place. The Best Angler this year is Emily Maziejka.

On behalf of the City of Glen Cove, Mayor Spinello would like to express his sincere appreciation to the Glen Cove Anglers Club, the Matinecock Rod and Gun Club, Snapper Derby chairman Tom Manzione, Darcy Belyea, the Glen Cove Parks and Recreation director, Mike at Glen Cove Beer, Dave and Blake at Duffy's Bait and Tackle for donating prizes, and to Musketa Cove Bait and

Verizon FIOS Television Service Coming to Glen Cove

Mayor Reginald Spinello announced today that on August 14, 2014, the New York State Public Service Commission approved, with conditions, the Verizon FIOS franchise agreement with the City of Glen Cove. The Public Service Commission echoed the sentiments of the Mayor, certain Council members and a large number of the City's residents that Glen Cove would benefit from a competitive alternative.

Mayor Spinello said, "We are pleased with the Public Service Commission's ruling. The City is the beneficiary of additional funds and Glen Cove residents now have another choice. Verizon is agreeing with the Commission's condition and will be increasing their annual payments to the City for PEG (Public Education Government) grant by $4,750 per year for 12 years. The total payout to the City over the term of the contract is $99,000. There are minor details to be worked out with the attorneys, but the service should be available very soon. Verizon's marketing representatives have already applied for solicitors' permits with our Police Department."

An Exhibit of Original Masks by Evelyn Kandel

Noted artist Evelyn Kandel is exhibiting a series of her handcrafted masks at the Golden Gallery located on the second floor of Glen Cove Senior Center from Thursday, September 4 to Tuesday, September 30.

Ms. Kandel has always been fascinated by masks. Believing primitive masks exert power, the artist has amassed an impressive collection over the years. When she began creating her own masks, she used them as a diary. Sometimes she incorporated masks as an integral part of a painting. In a series about aging, she used her own face and manipulated the clay to add or to subtract traces of aging.

While teaching, Ms. Kandel participated in a "Past Lives" workshop that opened her eyes and her mind to new ways of creating portraits. She spent many years using plaster fabric to cast her own face and the faces of others. The masks addressed transformation and disguise and provided endless possibilities to explore meditations and fantasies through paint, patterns, textures and found objects.

Ms. Kandel is a retired art teacher and Department Head at the Portledge School in Locust Valley. She is the past president of the Manhasset Art Association and The Graphic Eye Gallery. This award-winning artist has exhibited her work in numerous solo and group shows from Long Island to Massachusetts. She was awarded a Fellowship from Skidmore College. The New York Times has reviewed her work on six occasions and her paintings and sculptures are included in several private collections. Her recent works include poetry fragments. In addition to her art, Ms. Kandel is a published poet. She teaches poetry to adults and presents programs with two other poets at local libraries.

Ms. Kandel has three grown children and four grandchildren. She lives on Long Island with her husband and their two cats.

The public is invited to attend the artist's reception on Thursday, September 4 at 1 p.m. at the Golden Gallery on the second floor of the Glen Cove Senior Center, 130 Glen Street.

International Beach Cleanup Coordinated Locally at Tappen and Sea Cliff Beaches

On Saturday, September 27, 9:30 to 11:30 AM, the Coalition to Save Hempstead Harbor will be coordinating the efforts of students and other local volunteers to cover parts of the eastern shore of Hempstead Harbor (Tappen Beach and Sea Cliff Beach) as part of the Annual International Coastal Cleanup, sponsored by the Ocean Conservancy and the American Littoral Society. The weekends in September are dedicated to this program, and communities worldwide will be hitting the beaches to clean up debris from as many miles of shoreline as the number of volunteers will allow.

The cleanup is intended as much more than a one-shot attempt at getting rid of the garbage that washes up on our beaches. Instead, the volunteers who participate in the cleanup will be contributing to a massive data-collection effort. They will record and weigh the various types of debris found on the shore. The information is then sent to Ocean Conservancy, entered into a database, and analyzed to see whether there are changes in the amounts or types of debris that had been found in previous years. In the past, the data collected from the beach cleanup had been used to approach manufacturers to change the types of materials that frequently end up as floatable debris.

In 2013, as in other years, cigarette butts topped the "dirty dozen list"—the list of the top 12 items picked up on beaches. During the 2013 New York State Beach Cleanup, 5,645 volunteers removed 62,633 pounds of debris from over 240 miles of shoreline. Here are the numbers for some of the items that made it to the top of the list in New York State: cigarette butts (42, 962), plastic pieces (26,397), plastic bottle caps (24,204), food wrappers (candy, chips, etc.) (20,693), foam pieces (17,103), plastic beverage bottles (15,760), metal bottle caps (13,151), plastic grocery bags (7,955), and other plastic bags (7,996).

On September 27, 9:30-11:30 AM, volunteers will work in teams to make the process of picking up and documenting material easier. All are invited to participate--students, seniors, families, and members of community organizations. Bring work gloves. All other supplies (bags, pencils, data cards, etc.) will be distributed to volunteers who will meet at the entrances of Tappen and Sea Cliff Beaches. This is a great opportunity to do something meaningful for the environment--a perfect way to think globally but act locally.

If you can help, call the Coalition to Save Hempstead Harbor at 801-6792 or e-mail us at cshh@optonline.net.

“We Are One”: A Message of Hope and Peace from Glen Cove

On Sunday, Aug. 24, 2014, Reverend Roger Williams, the pastor of the First Baptist Church, was joined by members of our community’s clergy and elected officials, several City Council members and Mayor Reginald Spinello for a Peace Walk in downtown Glen Cove. Reverend Williams had reached out to Rabbi Irwin Huberman of Congregation Tifereth Israel, to organize the Peace Walk and bring together our community in the spirit of peace, unity, justice and dignity for people around the world.

The group walked through downtown hand-in-hand, softly chanting “We Are One.” The group paused to pray and send out messages of hope to the overwhelming number of people at home and abroad who are suffering. In light of tragic, horrific events happening the world over, the Peace Walk participants wanted to transmit hope, love and the foundation of every faith which is to treat your neighbor as you would want to be treated.

Rabbi Irwin Huberman, Congregation Tifereth Israel; Rev. Craig Wright, Calvary A.M.E. Church; Councilman Efraim Spagnoletti; Rev. Roger Williams, First Baptist Church; Councilman Tony Gallo; Rev. Richard Wilson, Antioch Baptist Church; Mayor Reginald Spinello; Councilwoman Pam Panzenbeck; Glen Cove Police Chief William Whitton; Rev. Betsy Simpson, First Presbyterian Church; State Assemblyman Charles Lavine. Camera shy: Legislator Delia DeRiggi-Whitton and Councilman Tony Jimenez.

Gold Coast Public Library Candidates for Board of Trustees Election

The Gold Coast Public Library Election takes place on September 8, 2014 9AM to 9PM at the Library, 50 Railroad Ave. Glen Head. The Library District serves all those residents of the North Shore School District, other than the Village of Sea Cliff which has its own library. Residents of the Gold Coast Public Library District eligible to vote in a general election may cast ballots.

Personal Statement for Tobi Kupferman
Candidate for Gold Coast Library Trustee

8/25/14

I, Tobi Kupferman, a resident of Greenvale, New York, have lived in the North Shore School District with my family for over 19 years. Over the past three years I have served as a Trustee for the Gold Coast Library and in that capacity have worked to promote the library throughout the community. Professionally, I am a licensed psychologist, specializing in working with older adults and their families and an assistant professor in Interdisciplinary Studies at New York Institute of Technology and an adjunct faculty member in the Family Medicine at NYIT's College of Osteopathic Medicine. One of the areas that I have worked to build in my tenure as a Trustee is a relationship between an academic setting and the library. I have worked with the Gold Coast librarians to bring professionals from the health professions to speak and present to community members at numerous adult education programs. Topics have included falls assessments, nutrition, brain fitness, and participating in the National Memory Screening Day. Additionally, I have brought students to the library to lead programs such as memory screening days and falls assessments and look to bring some of the interior design students to the library in the near future. I continue to work to help use the resources and talents of professionals to serve as a resource and provide information to our library patrons and community. In addition to my professional work, I serve on local, state, and national boards of directors of aging organizations. As an active community member, I serve on the board of the Greenvale Civic Association and have served as a PTA president of the Glen Head Elementary School, North Shore Middle School, and North Shore High School. It would be my honor to continue to serve as a Trustee for the Gold Coast Library, to continue to serve my community, and to work with the library in meeting the needs now and in the future of our patrons.

Thank you for this continued opportunity and please take time to come to the library on September 8th to vote.

Tobi Abramson-Kupferman, PhD

Barbara Palermo

Working with members of our community I have had the honor of seeing our library evolve and grow into a space devoted not just to the borrowing of books but into a gathering place for members of our community.

I was first elected to the Board of Trustees of the Gold Coast Public Library in December of 2002 before the physical library was opened. I have had the pleasure of working with you as we issued our first library card, bought our first collection and hired our first staff member. Currently working as the Treasurer and a member of finance committee I am dedicated to finding solutions to fulfill our financial obligations now and in the future. My commitment to our community extends beyond the library district where I have had the honor of serving on the Board of Directors for the Girls Scouts of Nassau County and The Red Cross and in the schools as a trustee on the North Shore Schools Board of Education for twenty years. I would like to continue to serve on the Board of Trustees as the library grows to meet the needs of our community.

Jennine Bernesby

Reading has shaped my life in so many ways. The library was my favorite place to be as a child and reading motivated me to earn my B.A. degree in English Literature. In addition, I have a Master of Science degree, Summa Cum Laude, in Education from Hunter College. As a third grade teacher at the Glenwood Landing School since 1994, I share my passion for literature with children and see firsthand how reading can spark imagination and kindle curiosity. It is an exciting time for literature, which is exploding through technology. The Gold Coast Library can be a rich and stimulating environment for children, teens, and adults. It is an important community center that enriches our lives and the lives of our children. It is my hope that our little gem of a library can grow by providing more books, resources, and space for our citizens. If I am elected as a trustee, I will be a liaison to our schools and parents, and work with enthusiastic energy to support our wonderful library.

Name the Celebrity

This week's celebrity was born Harry Garraway on April 16, 1871 in Grenada, British West Indies. He appeared on British and American stages and made his Broadway debut in 1901, playing the messenger in "Message from Mars". In the following decades, he appeared in over 30 plays. He made his film debut in 1917 and appeared in a few silent films, but made his mark mostly as an older man in sound films. In 1932, he played the tycoon "C.B. Gaerste" in "Red-Headed Woman" with Jean Harlow, Chester Morris, Charles Boyer and Una Merkle. It was written by F.Scott Fitzgerald (uncredited) and produced by Paul Bern, who left Harlow a widow after six months of marriage, reportedly taking his own life. The following year, our celebrity appeared as the intimidating yet warm-hearted, "Mr.Laurence", in "Little Women" with Katherine Hepburn, Joan Bennett, Paul Lukas and Frances Dee. The tall, white haired actor specialized in portraying wise, and friendly British gentlemen in supporting roles.

He could be both imposing and benevolent in his patrician portrayals, usually expounding words of wisdom or offering gentlemanly aid. He appeared in over 90 films from 1917-1951, often as a doctor or professor, general, judge or aristocrat. He often played historical figures like "Sir Joseph Banks" in the Oscar-winning film "Mutiny on the Bounty"(1935), with Clark Gable, Charles Laughton and Franchot Tone and "Florimond Claude, Comte de Mercy-Argenteau" in "Marie Antoinette" with Norma Shearer. This movie, with a budget close to two million dollars, was one of the most expensive films of the 1930s, but also one of the biggest successes.

Last Week's Celebrity

Last week's celebrity was Marjorie Bennett. In the late 1940s, she also appeared in "Abbott and Costello Meet the Killer, Boris Karloff" (1949) and "Washington Story" (1952). She had later guest roles on the TV version of "The Great Gildersleeve" with Willard Waterman, "Four Star Playhouse", "Sergeant Preston of the Yukon", "I Love Lucy", and "December Bride" with Spring Byington and Harry Morgan. From 1959 to 1961, she had a recurring role on "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" with Dwayne Hickman. Between 1958 and 1961, she also had a recurring role on "The Real McCoys" starring Walter Brennan. During the 1970s, Bennett continued appearing on TV with roles on "Mission: Impossible", "Adam-12", "Night Gallery", "McMillan & Wife" and "Phyllis". Bennett passed away on June 14, 1982, at the age of 86.

Great Book Guru

- Ann DiPietro

Dear Great Book Guru,
I was at Amy Peters' Farmers' Market last Saturday morning in front of the Sea Cliff Library buying some wonderful produce when I overheard a conversation about a new book- set in Woodside, Queens- that was "hauntingly beautiful." Any thoughts?
Labor Day Lounger

Dear Labor Day Lounger,
Labor Day weekend might be the perfect time to read WE ARE NOT OURSELVES by Matthew Thomas in that work so defines its characters' lives. We meet Eileen Tumulty Leary in 1951 who as a young fourth grader is caretaker to her immigrant parents. Before this 600 page novel is over, Eileen has become her husband's caretaker also, but under very different circumstances. In between we witness the changes that America undergoes from the Eisenhower to the Obama presidencies. Eileen's life embodies much of the American dream and yes, nightmare, as she copes with economic, spiritual, and cultural changes that gnaw away at many of her beliefs and dreams. While told mostly from her perspective, the book midway introduces the voice of her son Connell who tries to come to terms with his complicated feelings towards his mother and father while struggling to find meaning in his work. Indeed- a Labor Day gem and highly, highly recommended!

Community Leaders in Unison: Get the Message: Don't Text and Drive

Glen Cove community leaders and the Police Department joined forces recently and in unison warned the public not to talk or text on a cellphone while driving a motor vehicle. In just a few days, Glen Cove students will begin a new school year and drivers of all ages are warned that police will be actively looking for motorists who are driving distracted by texting or talking on a cellphone.

The use of portable electronic devices while driving includes: viewing, playing games, composing or sending a text; reading something on the device; and using the device to send e-mails. Texting is by far the most dangerous form of distracted driving because it requires visual, manual and cognitive attention by the driver.

The penalty for being convicted of texting while driving is currently five (5) driver violation points. The Glen Cove Court will also impose a monetary fine of $150.00 plus $88.00 in surcharges to those convicted. Those with a junior driver's license or with a learner's permit will lose their license /permit for at least 60 days upon conviction.

In a recent survey, the National Highway Traffic Administration found that 10% of all drivers under the age of 20 who were involved in fatal car crashes were reported as "distracted" at the time of the accident. The best way to end distracted driving is to educate all drivers on the danger it poses. Eyes on the road don't text or talk on a cellphone while driving a motor vehicle.

Courthouse Named In Honor of Suozzi's

Over 200 friends, family and city officials gathered at the 1907 Courthouse at 141 Glen Street as the North Shore Historical Museum dedicated the Marguerite and Joseph Suozzi Building in honor of their decades of public service.

Brian Mercandante started by outlining the over ten years of organizing and fundraising to first acquire, and then rehabilitate the historic building. Now as the museum takes shape they have sought someone to make a generous gift to help the museum and name the building. The friends and family of Mr. and Mrs. Suozzi stepped forward for the naming opportunity.

Rosemary Suozzi Llyod, a Unitarian minister and Harvard Divinity School graduate, then spoke about her parents dedication to serving others and the importance of supporting the museum's mission.

A video then chronicled Marguerite and Joseph's lives together and their lives if service. Marge, 90, a former nurse at Glen Cove Hospital, mother of 5 and grandmother of 14, has served as Chairwoman of the Morgan Park Summer Music Festival for over 50 years. She has helped first her husband, later her brother in law Vincent "Jimmy", then her son Tom, and nephew Ralph in their campaigns to public office. An active golfer, Eucharistic minister and community member Marge was overwhelmed by the outpouring of love and affection.

Joseph Suozzi, 93, was born in Ruvo del Monte Italy and moved to Glen Cove as a young boy. After attending Fordham he served as a Navigator of a B-24 during WWII and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his 35 missions. He then attended Harvard Law School on the GI Bill. He came back to Glen Cove and in 1949 was elected the City Court Judge, the youngest judge in the history of NYS. Later he was elected mayor, Supreme Court Judge and was appointed by Governor Carey to the Appellate Division. He later joined the law firm of Meyer, Suozzi English and Klein. Mr. Suozzi, who served in the very building that now bears his and his wife's name was grateful for the support from so many friends and family.

The museum is still seeking support and has other naming opportunities.
